Constable Looking for I. C. R. Man Who is Alleged to Have Attempted Forcible Entrance to Lady's Room at Sydney.

Moncton, July 19.—(Special)—Constable McDonald arrived in Moncton this morning from Sydney, in search for one of the so-called I. C. R. train auditors, who is wanted in Sydney on a charge of attempting to force his way into a lady's room in the Sydney Hotel recently.

Constable McDonald is armed with a warrant and has information that the man he has been looking for went north to Campbellton yesterday.

He is expected to return this afternoon, and will likely be taken into custody.

The lady in the case is said to belong to the theatrical profession and is an American.

Sydney, July 19.—One night last week a mild sensation was created in a hotel here. The story goes that near midnight a lady lodger, who is said to belong to the theatrical profession, suddenly issued from her room and rushed down stairs complaining loudly to the clerk of the hotel that a man was trying to enter her room. Following her came the individual whom she complained of, protesting his innocence as insistently as the lady protested his guilt.

According to statements by the police the man whom the lady charged with the attempt to enter her room, is one of the checkers appointed by the Intercolonial Railway to spot the conductors along the line. The lady, who is still in the city, is said to be well connected in the United States.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

New Annan, Colchester Co., Man Instantly Killed Under Wheels of His Sloven.

Truro, N.S., July 19.—(Special)—Intelligence just arrived here says that William McKean of New Annan, Colchester Co., aged 60 was killed on a country road over the mountain between Humber and New Annan last night, by assisting in moving a portable mill, and with his team was bringing up the rear with the smaller parts of the plant. It was near midnight and while passing a fallen tree the top of which had only been cut away from the road he in some way fell under the wheels and the heavy cart passed over his body and he was killed almost instantly. He died.

Leaving Active Ministry to be Chaplain of Penitentiary.

Dorchester, N. B., July 19.—(Special)—Rev. Byron H. Thomas, for six years pastor of the Free Baptist Church here, presented his resignation to the church at the mid week prayer service last evening.

The resignation was respectfully accepted, and a strong committee was appointed with instructions to proceed at once to the calling of another minister.

Rev. Sheldon Poole of Sable River N. S., is spoken of as the possible successor of Rev. Mr. Thomas, who is to become August 1st, Protestant chaplain of the Dorchester penitentiary at a salary of $1,000 a year.

she removed to Moncton to reside

FATALLY STABBED.

French Canadian Killed in a Quarrel at Cabano, Seat of Donald Fraser & Sons' Big Mills.

Edmundston, N. B., July 18.—A serious affray is reported from Cab-ano, P. Q., the seat of the large Fraser, milling operations, which has led to the loss of life and looks like a murder case.

The victim is a French Canadian named Beaupre, an employ in Fraser's mill and a native of Bic, P. Q. He was twenty-one years of age and unmarried. It is reported that Beaupre and a man named Samuel Legace, who worked on the Temiscouata, got into a fight some time ago, in which the latter came off second best.

At all events, on Saturday evening about nine o'clock, Beaupre and one other young man were passing along the street by Mrs. Nesbitt's boarding house, where Legace lodged.

Legace and others were in the window above. One of these spat on Beaupre as he passed. He challenged him to fight, and when there was no response, started up the stairs, with the view of inflicting punishment for the insult, but, it seems, he was met with a crowd who did not seem to use the knife, for he was set upon and stabbed most vis-cerally in the chin and neck, with one deep wound in the region of his heart which, in spite of medical aid, led to his death.

Altogether the affair seems to have been most cowardly on the part of his assassins. Beaupre is well spoken of and there is much excitement in Cabano over the tragic end. It is said that Legace was armed with a butcher knife.

Tuesday morning, Sheriff Ouellette of Notre-Dame-du-Lac, arrested Legace and two of his companions, who have been taken to River du Loup and placed in custody.

CASES DISMISSED.

Roche and Carney, Liberal M. P.'s for Halifax, Free from Vexatious Election Petitions.

Halifax, July 19.—After two years of litigation the election petitions against William Roche and Michael Carney were dismissed yesterday afternoon on a technicality.

This dismissal of the cases came after a suggestion of 1 o'clock yesterday parties agree on the one side that the election be voided and on the other that the disqualification proceedings be abandoned.

Mr. Drysdale, for the respondents would not agree, relying on the validity of the objection he had raised, and that the time for trial had expired, and that the court therefore had no jurisdiction.

When the court resumed, half an hour later the judges gave a decision dismissing the petitions on the ground taken by Mr. Drysdale. Each side to pay its own costs. When the court in May last set the day for trial on July 17th, it now appears they were setting a time three days beyond the legal period.

The only case now left of all the Nova Scotia election petitions is that against Hon. W. S. Fielding, in Queens-Shelburne.

MADE A SENSATION.

Kingston, Ont., July 19.—At Picton during the past week or so there has been a discussion in Anglican circles over some outspoken remarks by Rev. W. L. Armitage, vicar of St. Mary Magdalene's church. On Sunday before last Dr. Armitage announced to his flock that he was going away for a holiday and would be married in the interval. He further announced that while he was amenable to the congregation, his wife was to be amenable to him alone and must not be considered at the beck and call of the parish.

He was married by a Methodist minister at Coburg, his bride being a Methodist.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Montreal, July 19.—(Special)—The stock market again showed signs of the dog days, and outside of some dealings in broken lots the chief transactions were in Lake of the Woods Mining, pfd., at 112, Dominion Coal Bonds at 96 and Illinois, pfd., at 93.

VERDICT OF MURDER.

Montreal, July 19.—(Special)—A verdict of murder was returned by the coroner's jury in the case of the death of the two year old child named Dobuch. The child was apparently kicked to death and the step mother is suspected as being responsible for the child's death, but is not yet under arrest.

POLICE COURT.

An assault case in which two young men from Marysville were the principals, was settled at the police court this morning on the payment of costs.
The McCatherine-Skinner assault case was further postponed until Monday, with the understanding that the trial is then to go on, unless a settlement is arrived at in the meantime.

A WATERY GRAVE.

Arthur Smith Drowned Last Evening While Bathing Near the Flats.

The household of Mr. William Smith, who resides on Campbell Street, near the court house, has been plunged in mourning by the tragic death of his eldest son, Arthur Smith, who lost his life last evening, while bathing near the flats.

The unfortunate youth was in the employ of Mr. John Bebbington, florist, and was working last evening up to six o'clock. He then returned home, ate his supper, changed his clothes and started down town to go in bathing. This was about six forty-five o'clock and in less than an afterwards his lifeless body was taken from the river.

On the way to the flats, it seems that young Smith fell in with a boy of his own age named William Seymour, and together they proceeded to a point opposite Somerville, and doing their clothes, entered the water.
The Smith boy was just learning to swim and this, in all probability, made him less cautious than he otherwise would have been. He waded out until the water came up to his armpits and then started to swim further out. His object, it seems, was to reach a short distance away, but before he could accomplish it he threw up his arms and sank, being apparently exhausted. He rose to the surface twice after going down, but only for an instant each time, and then sank to the bottom. The Seymour youth, finding himself unable to save his companion, hastened ashore and gave the alarm. A party of boys who were bathing about two hundred yards further up the beach, hurried to the spot where Smith was last seen and dived several times with the hope of bringing him to the surface, but without success.

Mr. Guy Morrison heard the news while driving up the flats from his home, and returning immediately, he notified some of the mill hands, including Howard and George Grant, who immediately launched a boat and started for the scene of the accident.
Directed by the Seymour boy they worked with pike poles and were not long in bringing the body to the surface. It was found in about eight feet of water, quite close to the pier and as near as could be ascertained had been beneath the surface for about half an hour.

Drs. W. C. Crockett and G. J. Mc-Nally had been notified of the accident and took charge of the body as soon as it was brought ashore. Assisted by the father of the unfortunate youth, who had also been notified, they worked over the body for upwards of an hour, but their efforts to restore the spark of life proved fruitless. The body was rolled upon a log and artificial respiration was tried, but all to no purpose. At ten o'clock Dr. McNally, in his capacity as coroner, gave permission to remove the body and it was taken in charge by Undertaker R. B. Adams and removed to the Smith homestead near the county court house, Coroner McNally deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The sad news had in the meantime been broken to the boy's mother by Mrs. Fred Bastin, a neighbor. She had been out rowing during the evening and when told that her son had been drowned she fell in a dead faint and some minutes elapsed before she recovered from the terrible shock.

The sad tragedy, the first of its kind to occur here this season, has occasioned deep sorrow in the community, and the greatest sympathy is felt for the parents of the deceased.
The family came here from Sussex, England, about five years ago, and the deceased, who was the eldest of eight children, has for some time been employed at Bebbington's conservatory. He was a strapping youth, in his seventeenth year and was a favorite with all who knew him. For some time he has been a valued member of the 71st regiment band and attended the recent training camp at Sussex.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services at the house by Rev. J. W.
McConnell. Interment will be made at the rural cemetery.

AT BISLEY BUTTS.

Canadian Rifleman Made Poor Showing in Shooting for Places in the King's Prize List.

Bisley Camp, July 18.—This morning the 500 yard stage for the King's prize was shot. The wind was tricky throughout the competition which probably accounts for the poor showing made by some of the Canadians.
The best score at the above stage made by a Canadian was that of Sergeant Bayles, of Toronto, who won the competition for the secretary of war's prize yesterday. He made 34 on his seven shots. Bayles' showing has been admirable throughout the meeting. He is not a member of the official Canadian team.

The individual scores of the Canadians in the competition for the King's prize were as follows:

JOKE ON WHITNEY.

American Lady Tourists Took Premier of Ontario for a Servant.

The Toronto News tells this story of an incident that occurred in the parliament buildings at Toronto: Quite an amusing incident, not without a significant flavor, is told of a happening at the provincial parliament buildings on the 4th inst.

A couple of American lady tourists evidently of the egotistic and newly rich variety, drove to the buildings, and, while the carriage was waiting at the entrance, proceeded to inspect the halls. After a haughty look or two at the party of tourists being shown around by the attendants the new pair separated themselves with considerable ostentation and dignity.
"We wish a special guide for ourselves," observed one of them, with some dignity.

As the attendants were all engaged they waited in the upper hallway examining the pictures.

At this eventful moment Premier Whitney came swinging down the hot hall, coat off, vest unbuttoned and arms full of papers.

"One of the servants?" queried the American in an audible whisper, training her eye glasses upon him.

The Premier, in passing, caught the comment.
"Yes, madam," he said, swinging suddenly toward her in most typical and emphatic style, "I am one of the servants here—perhaps the chief public servant."

And, swinging back into his stride, he passed on.
The imperious Americans waited under the manner, more than the words of the Premier, and those who witnessed the incident enjoyed hugely the more quiet and courteous way in which the ladies subsequently secured an attendant and "tipped" him handsomely.
