"TIP" O'NEILL'S HITTING.

The Chicago correspondent of Sporting Life threw the book into the St. John member of that city's American league outfit, "Tip" O'Neill in his last week's budget to "the only base ball journal," when he wrote:

"The untold luck of the Sox continued during the past two weeks, several games going to their credit when they had made only three or four hits against eight or nine. Jones, however, knows full well that his men cannot hold the bait. If help does not come in the batting line the team is doomed. Isbel, the only man who was hitting over .300, has fallen under that charmed mark. Isbel, who was so promising for a time, has gone down in a heap, has fallen to about .200, and is still descending. Jones, Davis and Bonane are not batting a little bit. Tannehill, always weak, is batting even more feebly than usual. O'Neill has been consistent all season—consistent in not hitting."

THE TURF.

AMHERST RACES.

J. R. Lamy, the secretary of the Amherst driving park, N. S., is sending out the following notice to nominators in the stake races that were to have been held in Amherst on Sept. 3rd and 24th:

"The Amherst driving park has been sold for building purposes. In order to continue our stake races we have made arrangements to hold them in Moncton, the date to be the same, viz., Sept. 3rd and 24th, when other suitable purse races will be offered. If this meets with your approval, kindly sign the enclosed slip and return to me."

The slip mentioned above is merely for each nominator to sign and signifies that he gives his consent and approval of the change from Amherst to Moncton.

TWO GREAT PACERS MAY BE MATCHED.

James Y. Gatscomb, owner of Audubon Boy, 1:59½, is trying to bring about a match race between the stallion and Dan Patch, bit the westerner who owns the wind shield champion cannot be induced to pit him against the New Hampshire race horse. Failing to arrange a race Gatscomb will start his horse against time in an attempt to lower his record.

THE RING.

OUTPOINTS JACK O'BRIEN.

The New York World's Philadelphia correspondent says that Sam Berger outpointed Jack O'Brien on Monday night. Here is his version of the bout:

Philadelphia, July 16.—Sam Berger made his debut as professional fighter tonight and outpointed Jack O'Brien, champion of the world. He outgeneraled and outboxed the conqueror of Fitzsimmons at every stage of the game.

It was the greatest surprise ever begun in the prize ring in this city. Today it seemed to be a question of how long Berger could keep his feet before being pecked into submission. Tonight he is O'Brien's master.

For six rounds, all the law allowed for the fight, Berger slammed O'Brien all over the ring. He cut him into ribbons in his own home city, before all his friends and on the very same platform where Philadelphia Jack made his reputation and fought to fame.

It was a sorry sight for O'Brien when the last bell sounded. A thousand of his supporters jumped to the ringside to shake Berger's hand and proclaim him their future idol. They had gone to wait for the twenty-two year old "Frisco boy" to fall at the first real step of his ambition. If he had held his own he would have been heralded as the coming peer of all fighters. But he could not wait. O'Brien had the championship. Sammy wanted it. He wanted the whole thing or nothing and only the lack of decision prevented him from getting it.

Berger landed the first blow of the fight and then landed the last one. Both were on their feet at the end and both were tired, but there was no doubt left as to which had the better of it. O'Brien settled into his corner with his head hanging to one side and a forced grin on his face.

"He's a good one," said Jack. "He took me wholly unawares, as I had underestimated his value. I know him now, though, and will prove that I can beat him."

The first round was all in favor of O'Brien, who landed almost at will.

Second round—Berger opened a gash in O'Brien's left eye, and Jack had Berger bleeding from the nose. Both were covered with blood as they went to their corners. This round was slightly in O'Brien's favor.

Third round—This round was also slightly in O'Brien's favor. Berger opened up the cut over the left eye, and O'Brien had Berger's left eye almost closed.

Fourth round—This was the most vicious round in the battle, and honors were even when the gong sounded. Up to this time the fight had been one of the fastest witnessed between big men in this city.

Fifth round—O'Brien had the advantage in this round. He repeatedly landed his left to Berger's chin and wind and had the latter tired at the gong.

Sixth round—O'Brien had a slight advantage in the closing round. He landed repeatedly, but his blows did not have sufficient force behind them. Berger was cheered as he left the ring.

JEFF MAY FIGHT AGAIN.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17.—All the heavyweights will be here for the proposed tournament before August 1. Jeffries has given his pledge that he will come out of retirement and defend his title any time the public finds a man worthy of consideration and the only manner in which this worthy opponent can be found is by holding a tournament as proposed.

All battles in this tournament, including the final championship struggle with Jeffries, will be fought at Los Angeles before McCarey's club, and if plans do not go awry the world should know the result by Thanksgiving Day.

Philadelphia, Pa. O'Brien is due the last week of this month and Tom Burns will also join the heavies. Sam Berger, McBride and Al. Kaufmann are others.

GOLF.

LYON IN THE FIRST RANK.

Walter J. Travis has given many proofs of being, not only one of our best players, but the steady, says The New York Times, editorially.

In examination of his scores for a series of years would, we think, show that he is the most uniform of American golfers. The youngsters, many of whom are terrible fellows at the tee, very far outride the veteran, but he usually plays true through the green and his putting is marvellous.

That he should overcome Egan and then be vanquished by Byers in Friday's play was a surprise to the golf public. But here enters a factor that perhaps explains the wholly unexpected triumph to Lyon in surviving to become the better runner-up. Travers is a man of exceptionally slight physique, and is beyond that period of youth when sustaining nervous force may be largely and even severely drawn upon without exhaustion. After the stress, nervous and physical, incident to defeating so formidable a rival as Travers in the morning, it was hardly to be wondered at that Travers in his match with Byers in the afternoon should show an irregularity of play unusual with him, and indicative of overstrain. Lyon, although somewhat beyond the age when golfers may expect to excel in championship matches, is of rugged build, possessing great strength and endurance. This quality gives him such an advantage in a week's playing as Vignaux's bulk and height conferred upon him in his billiard matches at 500 points with players of slight physique like Schaefer. The comment of the "Englewood gallery," was that the Canadian came to the finals largely from the luck of the draw, which had given him a not very strong line of opponents to overcome. The comment is ungenerous and mistaken. While Lyon's medal play scores were not low—his qualifying round being 161, or 9 strokes above that of Travis—he is, nevertheless, a player technically of high rank, and his muscle and endurance make him a pretty tough customer to handle in a championship contest extending through five days.

Very likely Egan, Travis, or Travers would in a series of individual matches win the majority of the games from Lyon. But his survival to the finals establishes his place in the very first rank of American golfers.

WOMEN SWIMMERS.

They Went Over Long Course and Compared Favorably With Male Competitors.

Paris, July 17.—Again a French swimmer won the race in the Seine from one side of Paris to the other, Bougon doing the 11 kilometres 620 ahead of Billington, one of the English competitors, who was second. But the feature of the day was the wonderful display made by the women who competed, notably by Miss Kellerman and Fraulein Frauendorfer, who, after swimming alongside each other throughout the course, had a keen struggle in the last one hundred yards. They crossed the line together, the race being classed a dead heat.

Not for a long time has a sporting event excited such interest in Paris. The crowd was dense all along the banks of the Seine from Bercy as far as Auteuil, and on each of the twenty-five bridges under which the swimmers had to pass.

The competitors were sent off in four batches. The first batch consisted of three young women. They started at eight o'clock. Miss Kellerman, Australian, who took part in the race last year, was warmly applauded. She is nineteen years old, and the black tight fitting swimming costume she wore admirably set off her handsome figure. Fraulein Frauendorfer, Austrian, twenty years old, has already won fame as a swimmer. She wore a dark blue costume and her hair was tied up in an impermeable red cap.

Miss Herzheimer, English, is a student of the Academie des Beaux Arts in Paris. She is twenty years old. This is her first appearance before the public as a swimmer. She is smaller and slighter than Miss Kellerman. She also wore a black, tight fitting bathing dress.

Simultaneously, with a graceful movement, the three swimmers were allowed to fall and the three young women dived in. Miss Kellerman swam with the over arm movement she usually adopts, Frauendorfer used the trudgeon stroke, disappearing under water with each stroke with regular, rhythmic movement. Miss Herzheimer swam with the ordinary breast and side strokes.

SELL YOUR COLD FOR $1?

You surely won't stop at a dollar bill to cure that horrid, stifling cold? Go to any druggist and get "Catarrhzone" and your cold will be a thing of the past. There is almost witchery in the swift way Catarrhzone kills colds. But when you consider the penetrating healing and antiseptic qualities of Catarrhzone, perhaps it's not so wonderful. Certainly there is no remedy half so prompt for colds and catarrh as Catarrhzone. Refuse a substitute and insist on having only "Catarrhzone!"

WOMAN'S WORK AT ST. JOHN EXHIBITION.

The Display Will Be One of the Finest Features of the Whole Display.

The announcement of a special women's department at the big fair to be held in St. John from September 1st until the 8th, has aroused a good deal of interest among the ladies generally throughout the province. It is a good many years since an exhibit of woman's work has been attempted in this province, and it is necessary, if this is to be the success that it deserved this year, that every lady who has any speciality in handicraft should be an exhibitor.

The Woman's council, in conducting this department, are endeavoring to develop interest generally among the ladies in all lines of needle and fancy work, and all classes of woman's hand work, in order to show that these eastern provinces are not behind the west in the ability of the women to produce artistic work of general usefulness. This is true not only in plain needlework, but in the fine arts, such as painting in oil or water colors, lace making, hosiery work, and other classes of artistic work in which women especially excel.

The exhibition management has issued a special prize list, devoted exclusively from the general prize list of the exhibition. This special prize list for woman's work covers a vast field of art and labor, and is well worth inspection by women of taste.

A postal card addressed to the manager of the exhibition, P. O. Box 411, will bring this prize list to anyone who sends for it.

G. T. P. OFFICIALS WILL TOUR THE WEST.

To Visit Kaian Island—Great Preparations Now Being Made at Metlakatla For Their Reception.

Vancouver, B. C., July 18.—Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway; Mr. Frank W. Morse, general manager of the latter road, and a number of the directors of the company, will visit Prince Rupert, the Grand Trunk Pacific terminus on Kaian Island, the latter part of this month or early in August.

Great preparations are now being made at the northern point for the reception and accommodation of the distinguished party, which may include a number of federal politicians. Owing to the fact that there is no residential accommodation at Prince Rupert, as yet, the Grand Trunk Pacific has leased the old hospital building at Metlakatla, and it is now being renovated and furnished for the use of the chief officials of the company during their stay in the north.

Metlakatla is an Indian village lying quite close to Kaian Island, and the hospital there has been operated by Dr. Tremaine, from whom the building was rented about two weeks ago. Information regarding the preparations being made to receive the Grand Trunk Pacific officials in the north was brought down by the C. P. R. steamer Amur, which reached port early this morning.

It is probable that on the arrival of the party in Vancouver from the east the Canadian government steamer Quadra will be in waiting here to take its members north. If there is not sufficient accommodation on the Quadra, the Fisheries steamer Kestrel may be pressed into service to take care of the overflow.

It is reported in the north that arrangements are now being made to show the officials some of the country in the vicinity of Kaian Island, and probably a trip up the Skeena River may be arranged for their benefit. As regards this proposal everything depends on the state of the water in the river.

What Does it Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue! Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red. Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated. Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness; this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo. O'Hogarty of Amherst, N. S., writes: "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be without the pills for ten times their price."

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25 cents per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.
