GLACE BAY WINS AGAIN.

The Glace Bay baseball team,which includes several former Fredericton players defeated the Dominion nine on Thursday last by a score of 5 to 4. The Glace Bay Gazette in its accountof the game has this to say:

"One of the features of the game, was the double play in the first when McGinnis hit to B. Finnemore at first, and Finnemore sending the ball to G. Finnemore at second, put out Breen. It was a snappy play and should be emulated by all league players at the first opportunity. Another feature was Breen's deep right which was caught by Hamilton on a thirty yard run. In fact, Hamilton played an A1 game throughout yesterday and won the adulation of the fans.

"In the first inning McMannamin got a nasty swat in the jaw, rendering him somewhat apprehensive of Trott for the balance of the game and consequently lowering his average.

Boone came up to the expectations of the fans. Warming up to it, he made 'em place their hits and latterly did a few stuots of the "strike out" order. He struck out nine men all told, which is a fairly good day's work for a pitcher with the climate doing gyrations between 40 and 50 in the shade."

GOSSIP FOR FANS.

President Pulliam of the National League and Secretary Locke of the Pittsburgs think that Klem is a good umpire. The Philadelphia Record says there are thousands in Philadelphia who do not agree with him. Yes, and a multitude here in Boston.

Jersey City's win from Montreal last Thursday enabled that club to get into first place for the first time this season. It looks as if the pennant would lie between that club and Buffalo, with the chances favoring the former, as it is the better club on the road.

The New York Herald said of the famous 19 to 0 game of last Thursday at the Polo grounds; It isn't often that you see streams of once loyal rooters pouring out of the grounds before the first inning is ended, but so it was, and so it continued, until at the finish all the stands and bleachers showed beggarly arrays of empty benches. Those who remained did so apparently only for the fun of hooting derisively at the disintegrated outfit with the ironic literature on their uniforms, tossing lemons to them and applauding the visitors when they walked around the bases and permitted themselves to be put out in order to hasten the end. It would have been funnier than an East side melodrama if it hadn't been so monotonous.

The St. Louis Republic says that that Manager Griffith of the New York Americans is undoubtedly the most unpopular player that comes to that city, not even "Muggsy" McGraw barred.

Catcher McCarthy, one of the new men of the St. Louis team, formerly played with the Central Islip team of Long Island. He is a tall, tangey chap, with all the earmarks of a comer.

Worster has a third baseman in Lord, a Portland boy, it will pay to watch. Lord is very fast and very strong in allround work.

Young Hickman, who was the sensation of the opening game in Worster this year, has been discarded,but will not long lack for a job.

Pitcher Newton of the New York Americans will be out of the game for another week on account of a bad arm.

Pittsburg has taken seven straight from the luckless Boston Nationals. Easier sailing this year than last for the westerners.

Wyatt Lee, the former Washington crack, is pitching for Altoona in the Tristate.

Manager Fred Lake of the Lowell club says that no one was authorized to change the date of the forenoon of July 4 to Worster, and says that this game will be played in Lowell, as originally scheduled. The only changes in the Worster-Lowell series will be the games of today and tomorrow, which will be played in Worster in exchange for the games assigned to Worster Sept. 4 and 5, which will be played in Lowell.

SUNDAY BASEBALL.

New York, June 11.—There were no professional or semi-professional baseball games played in Greater New York Sunday. Police Commissioner Bingham issued instructions to his subordinates during the week that they should prevent the playing of all Sunday baseball games where admission was charged, either directly or by subterfuge, snch as the selling of score cards or programmes by voluntary subscriptions. Last week the National League Executive transferred several of the Brooklyn Club's games from the regular schedule to Sunday dates. This change arranged for a game between the Chicago and Brooklyn teams at Brooklyn yesterday. This game was called off at a late hour Saturday night, but about 3,000 persons went to the park Sunday, expecting to see a game.

President C. H. Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn Club, said that he would make an effort to have the question of the permissibility of Sunday games settled in court.

THE TURF.

GRAND CIRCUIT OPENER.

That the Grand Circuit of 1906 will open at Detroit appears to be still in doubt. When the announcement of the renewal of the M. & M. and C. of C. stakes was announced it was thought that everything had been satisfactorily arranged and that the Blue Ribbon meeting would be held at the Grosse Pointe track, as usual; but later, after these events had closed it was announced that negotiations were under way whereby the meeting might be transferred to Columbus, but nothing, apparently,came of this, and now comes a report from Detroit to the effect that the meeting may be held across the river at the Windsor, One., track.

Windsor is to hold a meeting the week following the Detroit dates, and it is now said that the meeting will be made a two-week one and that Detroit's two classic events will be held there. Racing affairs at Detroit have been very much mixed ever since a syndicate of running horsemen secured control of the track, and it wodld appear that they are badly mixed. With breaks at both ends and in the middle the Grand Circuit is certainly having its troubles this season.

Reports from Philadelphia state that Wentworth 2.04¼, is working splendidly. The horse's owner and trainer are confident of winning the big match race at Readville July 4.

Those Canadian trainers are great believers in going out early and looking for the worm. The season opened on Victoria day, May 24, and this year, as usual, there were plenty of horses ready to race.

The Nathman (2), by Todd (2.14¾) dam Gypsey Dark, Dam of Susie N., 2.09¼, has been a half in 1.16¼, last quarter in3 6, for Richard Curtis at the Lexington, Ky., track.

Olin H. Burnham, whose death was recently announced from Hartford, St., for years had charge of the horses owned by the late Charles M. Pond, the breeder of the famous "demon trotter," Clingstone, 2.14, and others of note.

At Readville, Friday and Saturday the track looked as though the racing season had really arrived. There were no very fast miles, but the trainers let their horses step through the stretch a bit, and it really looked like business.

Idle Hour Farm, Macon, Ga., is to be rehabilitated. It is the aim of its new owners to make it a great winter training ground, and a contract was recently let for 12 new training barns, each of which will have 25 box stalls.

Havers James has sent Maud Keswick 2.03¾, to Nickels for her early keoing up, while he is racing over the Canadian half-mile tracks. This mare never looked as well as now, and the easy manner in which she paced three heats in 2.15, 2.16 and 2.14¼ this week shows that she will be up to something ere long.

"Doc" Tanner is getting Mafor Delmar 1.19¾, Morning Star, 2.04¾, and George G., 2.05¼, into form and all three are now repeating better than 2.20. The Major simply tries to run away on the trot, and as he is headed for the Gold Cup race at Pittsburg, next fall, it looks as if it would take an accident or an express train to beat him for the trophy.

As report has been made to the Work Horse Parade Association of the theft of three of the brass medals given to all winners of first prize at its fourth annual parade, held Memorial Day, the association has given an order to engrave, at the expense of the association, the name and entry number on the back of these medals, and hopes by so doing to prevent the medals from being stolen.

THE RING.

BRITT TO TRY HOCK KEYES.

New York, June 11.—Hock Keyes, the lightweight champion of Australia who bumped against a difficult game here in his American debut, still is on the ground and threatens to remain till he is really a champion or a selling plater. Keyes certainly had his troubles the night he met rugged Amby McGarry at Essington, and the result left his statut in doubt. Billy Roche, manager of the Australian, is a bit annoyed over the experience with McGarry. In Keyes' arrival in this country it was proposed to Roche that he put in a bout with some good man here. Roche said he intended to do so, but he didn't want a very hard man, as he desired to give Keyes some time in whichto become acclimated and also accustom himself to the American style of boxing before sending him to a hard contest.

Somebody took Roche aside and breathed into his ear the name of Amby McGarry as just the man for Keyes to toy with in his maiden effort in this country.

"He's a big, slow, awkward slob," said Roche's informant, "but can take a world of punishment. With his cleverness Keyes can cut McGarry to pieces."

Roche had been away from New York for several years and knew nothing of the merits of McGarry or any of the other three round recruits. so he accepted the advice of the promoter and made the match. After the fight and when Keyes was getting his breath and trying to remember where he was, Roche solilоquized:

"Well, if this fellow McGarry is a fair sample of the easy ones that have been developed here since I have been away, I wonder what the real good ones must be."

So, after pondering the situation for a time, Roche decided not to match his man against another "easy one," and picked out a boxer he knew to be one of the best lightweights in the world, Jimmy Britt is the name of Keyes' next opponent, and if the bout between them comes off it should furnish a true test of the ability of the Australian. Those who saw the bout with McGarry concede that the Australian is a very finished and clever boxer, and that he is as game as any man in the business.

As to Keyes' hitting powers there is some question, as he was unable to make any impression on the rugged form of the Bronx walloper, except to discolor McGarry's eyes and draw blood from his nose.

Keyes, like all the latter day English and Australian fighters, is a jabber pure and simple, and boxes after the fashion of the Britons, who poke out to left and then slip away. In a bout with a man who employed those tactics himself, Keyes unquestionably would make a clever showing and would be a hard man to beat. Therefore he and Britt should put up a most exciting and entertaining bout. Keyes evidently had never faced the style of slugger of which McGarry is an advanced type, and the Australian was weary and much battered at the close of the encounter.

A PUGILISTIC JOKE.

New York, June 11.—The suggestion has been offered that Hackenschmidt would make a good opponent for Jeffries. It is to smile. Hack who has been wrestling since he was a boy, now is taking boxing lessons from Gunner Moir, who was recently beaten by Jack Palmer, heavyweight champion of England, and he "expects" he would be able to give Jeff a terrible fight. The theory that because a man is a good wrestler and quick and strong he ought to make a good boxer has been thoroughly exploded, but it bobs up every little while. Boxing and wrestling are as different as pole vaulting is from weight throwing, and the wrestler never has a chance to develop into a good boxer. The Queensberry expert begins early and keeps at it, the same as the man in any other branch of sport. The man who has devoted nearly all his life to one or the other cannot suddenly take up a new game and make a success of it. There is not a shadow of doubt that were Hackto face Joe Gans in the ring the wrestler would be knocked out in a short time. If a match were made between Hack and Jeff the authorities would be justified in stopping the bout.

LONGWORTHS REACH LONDON IN ROYAL CAR.

Greeted at Southampton by Mayor and Consul, and Whirled to Capital.

London, June 10.—After a voyage which both declared to be the most pleasant in their experience, Mr. and Mrs. Nocholas Longworth reached London early this afternoon, having journeyed from Southampton, where they left the American line steamship St. Louis, in a beautifully appointed royal carriage, which was attached to the American line special on the London & Southwestern railway. The weather was ideal and the country traversed by the train on the short trip to London was looking its best, so that their impression of England where they will spend the opening fortnight of their European outing, was favorable. Only a short stop was made in Southampton by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth. The royal car which had awaited them at Plymouth, where it was expected they would leave the steamship, was taken during the night around to Southampton. The Mayor of Southamoton and the American consul there, Mr. Swaim, were the first persons to greet the travellers on British soil, and they gave them a hearty welcome.

On arriving in London Mr. and Mrs Longworth were met by Ambassador Reid and the members of the embassy staff, Mrs. and Miss Reid, Mrs. and Miss Carter, wife and daughter of the secretary of the American embassy, and Mrs. Gibbons, wife of the naval attache, while at the entrance to the station several hundred Americans living in London had gathered to welcome the couple. The greeting between Ambassador Reid and his family and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth was most cordial, and the party was soon on its way to Dorchester House, where Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will be the guests of the American ambassador and his wife while in London. This afternoon was spent in resting.

In the evening there was a family dinner, which was attended by the members of the embassy staff. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will be given an opportunity to see London, no engagements having been made for the day. In the evening they may visit the Alhambra with Mr. and Mrs. Reid for the first production of the new ballet, 'L'Amour,' the music for which was written by Mrs. Thay Ritchie, an American.

It has not yet been decided whether King Edward will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, but it is expected they will dine with him at Ascot Heath during Ascot week. Queen Alexandra, being still in mourning for her father, is not acception any but court engagements, and therefore will not accompany King Edward to the dinner at Dorchester House Tuesday evening.

Mr. akd Mrs. Longworth thoroughly enjoyed the Atlantic voyage and joined with the other passengers in the sports and amusements incident to the trip. The weather from land to land was splendid, the delay to the St. Louis being caused by bad coal and a slight fire.

ROUND WORLD MAY BE C. P. R. ANNUAL.

This Transportation Novelty May be Sequel to Mr. Fred Shaughnessy's and Mr. Austey's Trip.

Montreal Herald: It is not improbable that the next new development of Canadian Pacific enterprise will be an annual excursion round the Globe, which would be accomplished by railway and steamship, girdling it at the waist.

This may be the sequel to the world trip just made by Mr. Fred. Shaughnessy, son of the president, and Mr. C. T. Anstey, who accompanied him in the capacity of tutor.

The tour was not only as stated in Saturday's Herald, most enjoyable and interesting, but it constituted, as Mr. Anstey says, a record in transportation, because although it has been not unusual to take round the world trips from London to New Zealand round the Horn and back round the Cape of Good Hope, this was a journey round the world of a different kind. It girdled the planet at the widest part.

"We were," said Mr. Anstey, "the only round the world passengers that embarked on the steamer Monteagle from St. John in January last, but I am sure if the trip had been known there would have been many others, and I should not be at all surprised if the C. P. R. repeated the tour every year. It would be a very popular trip, as it could be done for little more than $1,000 with a maximum of comfort and pleasure."

The whole journey was accomplished on one small bit of post card, which constituted the ticket—a fulfilment in a sense of Sir William Van Horne's prediction—made in days when the C. P. R. was a less important factor in the world's transportation system than it is today—that it would be possible before long to go round the world on a single ticket. Each traveller in this case had his ticket which took him some 26,000 or 27,000 miles.

Both Mr. Shaughnessy and Mr. Anstey returned loaded with trophies of the peoples and countries they had visited. These included a choice assortment of Japanese and Chinese embroidered silks, a collection of walking sticks including two "sjambocks," or stout canes made of strips of rhinoceros hide dried and round, which Mr. Anstey had in his possession.

MUST FIGHT THEM ALL.

Richard Zombory May Have to Fight 150 Duels Because He Refused to Fight Bank Clerk on Ground that Social Position Precluded Satisfaction.

Vienna, June 1.—Richard Zombory, a well known Hungarian sportsman, residing at Budapest, has placed himself in the position of having to fight one hundred and fifty-one duels at the result of refusing to accept a challenge from a bank clerk whom he insulted. On receipt of a challenge from the latter M. Zombory sent back word that the clerk's social position precluded giving him the usual satisfaction. Thereupon one hundred and fifty of the bank's clerks championed the cause of their offended colleague and promptly challenged M. Zombory. Six hundred and four seconds held a meeting last night and arranged for the duels to be fought with pistols.

The meeting will take place Sunday night, one after the other, until satisfaction is secured, one bullet being exchanged in each duel.

Zombory's dog, Caesar, was the cause of the challenge. He bit a bank clerk named Johann Szuecs, slightly tearing his leg. Szuecs railed at the dog, for which Zombory, it is alleged, insulted Szuecs. This was followed next day by the challenge.

Szuecs and the other challenger belong to the Hungarian Land Mortgage Bank. The 151 challengers will stand in rows, formed in military fashion, and lots will be drawn in order to ascertain who will fight the first duel with Zombory.

It was announced late this afternoon that the 151 duels between Richard Zombory and officials connected with the Hungarian Land & Mortgage bank will not take place, the matter having been settled by an apology by Zombory. He now will be compelled to fight but one duel—with Johann Szuechs, the original challenger. Zombory in apologizing said he did not intend to offend the respectable class of bank officials.

QUARREL OVER BALL GAME.

Denver, De., June 12.—Luther Howel was shot through the heart and instantly killed at Frederica, Del. tonight, and C. W. Cameron of Philadelphia a base ball umpire, was shot in the shoulder and seriously injured as the result of a base ball game.

The shooting was done by Juhiper Benson and Buck Causland, negroes, the jail in this city.

The two negroes escaped, but were subsequently captured and lodged in a quarrel over a ball game.

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some oppressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation.

In nearly all forms of headache

has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."
