GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

Sir Chas. Rivers Wilson Says Company Has no Intention of Starving Eastern Section.

Great Bulk of Traffic Will Come to Maritime Province Ports.

Quebec, Aug. 4.—During his visit here, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk, was asked if the Grand Trunk Pacific was averse to the Eastern section, from Winnipeg to Quebec and Levis to the Maritime Provinces. It was explained to him that the impression in the province of Quebec, especially in this section, was that all the Grand Trunk sought after was to enter the granaries of the Northwest and, after obtaining a foothold there and gain a share of the trade, divert it to the European markets through the channels of American seaports, and that for that reason it took no interest in the eastern sections of the railroad under construction by the Federal government.

"No such thing was ever contemplated," said Sir Charles, in a most emphatic manner. "Speaking of the present Grand Trunk Pacific, I might say that idea was conceived from the first inception of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The only thing that will retard the building of the line to Quebec will be the scarcity of labor."

"We, however, take as much interest in the Eastern sections as we do in the Western sections, and it is to our advantage to have them finished as soon as possible. We are under a heavy lease in regard to the Eastern sections and apart from our binding obligations with the government to utilize and develop the East we would be cutting our own throat if we did not carry out our agreement in good faith in the terms of our contract, as men of honor. Therefore, the great bulk of the traffic will come over the Eastern sections."

Sir Charles, when asked if the Grand Trunk would continue to use Portland as its terminal for export, replied that all unmarked freight would pass over the Canadian system of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, but the Grand Trunk would continue to use the port of Portland.

"It is childish," he said, "to bring up the port of Portland in discussing the future Grand Trunk Pacific. We are under obligations to carry the trade of the Canadian Northwest through Canadian ports, and the great bulk will come over the Eastern lines and find their terminal exits at Quebec in the summer, St. John (N. B.), and Halifax (N. S.), in the winter, and if we do not carry out our obligations with the government and also consider the heavy lease we are under, we would not be loyal to the government and our obligations and we do all in our power to advance the Eastern sections as well as the Western sections of the Grand Trunk Pacific in keeping with our agreement. Insinuations to the contrary are founded on unwarrantable presumption."

THE SAGE ESTATE.

Stocks and Bonds Discovered That Run the Value of the Magnate's Fortune up to $150,000,000.

New York, Aug. 4.—That Russell Sage's wealth was enormous everybody has surmised for many years. Into the $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 was a common guess but that it should reach more than twice that sum was beyond almost any person's expectations. The wealth this great juggler of money left behind can only be characterized as fabulous.

The inventory of the estate of Russell Sage, begun three days ago by representatives of the executor, had established by yesterday to the satisfaction of the executors and their lawyers that the value of the estate was much greater than had been supposed and that it might reach $150,000,000.

In the Sage strong boxes have been found millions of dollars worth of securities bearing high interest and guaranteed as to principal and income which have been for years unknown to the manipulators of Wall street. That Mr. Sage's investment in what are called underlying securities was well known to Wall street, but the extent of his holdings of such issues will surprise the street when the inventory is filed with the surrogate for tax transfer assessment.

Blocks of the bonds and stocks of such merged and forgotten railroads as the Troy & Schenectady, Rensselaer & Saratoga, Shore Line, Champlain and Lebanon Valley and Abbia & Centerville have been found. Either the stocks or bonds of these roads have been guaranteed as to dividends or interest and principal by the bigger roads which absorbed them. Six Six and seven per cent income was the ruling rate in the days when these mergers were made.

Mr. Sage had similar luck with telegraph stocks, American Telegraph & Cable, Gold & Stock Telegraph, York Mutual Telegraph, Empire and Bay State Telegraph, corporations which built lines in various parts of the country have all been acquired by the Western Union and their stocks and bonds guaranteed as to interest and principal by the larger companies.

Mr. Sage owned large blocks of such securities and the inventory shows that the scheme of absorbing small concerns at tremendous valuations was not unknown twenty, thirty and forty years ago. The securities of these smaller companies bear incomes ranging from 5 to 7 per cent and, of course, the interest must be paid before any dividends are declared by the company which has absorbed them. Such undecaying investment securities are in high favor in Wall street and command premiums.
