FOUND HER HUBBY.

Ontario Girl's Romance Ended in Wedding to South African Veteran---Night Shirt Responsible.

Guelph, Ont., Oct. 20.—(Special)—When the Boer war was raging the ladies of this city engaged with thousands of others throughout the Dominion, in making apparel to send to comfort soldiers lying in the hospitals in South Africa.

Among those performing this charitable work, was Miss Annie Callander, "Hillcrest."

While at work one day Miss Callander was seized by a whim to place her name and address on the night-shirt she was making, wondering if she would ever hear of the matter again. The garment ultimately reached a soldier named Thomas Hubby, of Sheffield, England, who when convalescing in hospital, wrote to the address given, thanking the donor of the garment for her interest in the work.

From this originated a correspondence which culminated in the marriage of the two here yesterday at the home of the bride's father.

Mr. Hubby is now stationed at Halifax, a member of the military force in garrison there.

SUNDAY SHOOTING.

Manitoba Residents Complain of Sabbath Desecration by Some Men High in Authority.

Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Complaints come from Popular Point and St. Marks district regarding those in high authority, and others, particularly Winnipeggers, who go out there on Sunday for shooting purposes, thus desecrating the Sabbath.

A petition has been prepared and will be forwarded to Earl Grey, who is mentioned as one of those guilty of the practice.

The petition sets forth the loyalty of St. Marks people to his Excellency but urges that the spirit of Canadian law providing for Sunday for a day of rest and quietness be observed.

In charge of the conference is Mr. Slack of Philadelphia, general secretary of the colleges of Eastern Canada, and Mr. G. Irvine, a graduate of McGill, '02 and general secretary for Canada. This is a new position made necessary this year by the increasing work.

At the morning session the subject of Bible study was presented by Mr. Slack and discussed by W. P. Bell, Mt. Allison, '04, Grant of Dalhousie and Orchard of the U. N. B. The methods of teaching, selection of leaders and preparation of subjects were dwelt upon in an interesting way.

At 2.30 a paper on the finances of an association was presented by Mr. Machum, of the U. N. B. He struck the keynote of the problem of the best means to raise and use the funds to promote the association. A paper on Devotional Meetings was given by Mr. Read of Dalhousie College. He impressed the facts that the needs of the men and that men must be reached through the intellect as well as the emotion.

LATE CURATE OF FREDERICTON.

Rev. C. W. Forster Very Popular in His New Parish.

Mr. T. B. Kidner has been spending a few days in Massachusetts, and while there visited his friend the Rev. C. W. Forster, the late curate of this parish. Chatting with our representative this morning Mr. Kidner said he found Mr. Forster very happily situated in the Parish of St. Matthew's, South Worcester, a large suburb of Worcester City. The parish church is a fine stone structure of the Gothic period and is beautifully finished inside, the windows being especially good examples of the stained glass artist's work. The organ is a fine instrument and the music at portions of the services is quite a feature. The choir is a large one of some forty boys and men. Alongside the church is a commodious parish hall, devoted to various activities of parochial work. Amongst these are a boys' club, a young men's society, and a woman's league, each of these having fine apartments in the parish hall. The rector of St. Matthew's is Rev. Henry Hague, a scholarly preacher and a gentleman of fine attainments. The Worcester County Church Convention was in session during Mr. Kidner's visit. Bishop Vinson of Massachusetts presiding. One very pleasant function in connection with the convention was the dinner at the Bay State House, which Mr. Kidner had the honor of attending. Our representative learned that Mr. Forster is already very popular among the parishioners, many of whom Mr. Kidner had the pleasure of meeting, and that he is looking forward to much useful and pleasant work in his new parish.

Man Arrested at Moncton for Crime Committed at Sydney.

Moncton, Oct. 20.—(Special).—Thos McLean, aged thirty, a consumptive looking man, is under arrest here on the charge of theft, alleged to have been committed at Sydney, N. S., several weeks ago.

Chief Chappell has had a description of the prisoner since October 1st with instructions to arrest him.

McLean arrived in town yesterday and was arrested about midnight by the chief, who was in search of him.

It appears that McLean, who is from Prince Edward Island, is charged with stealing clothing from a Sydney concern and an officer is expected from Sydney today for the prisoner.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Prince Albert Election Manipulator Prosecuted Under Wrong Clause of Statute.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 20.—(Special).—Sinclair, the self-confessed ballot-stuffer in Prince Albert division, was yesterday let go on a suspended sentence.

He was prosecuted under the wrong clause of the statutes and the technical objection raised saved him probably from serving the full penalty of his offence.

He was charged with defrauding the electors.

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS.

Messrs. H. K. Mohr of Philadelphia, E. Lawrence and C. W. Billings of New York, who have been hunting on the Miramichi for the past fortnight, returned to the city today. They each shot a fine moose and were naturally greatly delighted with their success. Mr. William Griffin, Jr. of Cross Creek, was head guide for the party, and worked hard for their interests. Messrs. Mohr, Lawrence and Billings are leaving for home by this evening's train.

GIBSON NEWS.

Oct. 18.—The residence of Mr. Geo. Dennison was the scene of a very enjoyable social and at Home last Wednesday evening, the occasion being a reception to Rev. H. R. Boyer, the new pastor of the Neill Street United Baptist Church, and his family. There was a large number of the members of the congregation and their friends present, who thoroughly enjoyed the evening. Rev. H. R. Boyer occupied the chair, and after a few well chosen remarks, an excellent programme was carried out. There were readings by Dr. Creed, selections by the Marysville quartette, readings by Mr. Barry Allan, a solo by Miss Belyea, selections by Misses

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Mrs. H. C. Creed had a most miraculous escape from death last night at Salamanca Station. In company with a lady friend she was crossing the railway track there and stumbling, fell into a cattle guard. The western train was rushing towards her at breakneck speed not more than one hundred yards away and the position of the unfortunate lady was most perilous. Her companion endeavored to assist her but had not time. Mrs. Creed with great presence of mind, laid herself down flat and the entire train passed over her not injuring her in the slightest. Had she moved hand or foot the result would have been terrible to contemplate. We have never chronicled a narrower escape from death.

RAILWAY CHANGES.

There have been quite a number of Parl. Mabce and Eva Brewer, Mr. Frank McElmain was present with his gramophone, the music of which added wonderfully to the entertainment. After light refreshments had been served, several parlor games, were heartily indulged in. During the evening a collection was taken up, amounting to fourteen dollars.

A few weeks ago The Herald threw out a hint that the covered bridge at the Mouth of the Nashwaak was badly in need of repair, and that a new floor was required. Acting on that suggestion, the government is flooring the bridge and adding other needed repairs. They are making an excellent job of it. While at the bridge they should inspect the little red bridge on the back road, near the residence of Mr. George Yeoman, as it is falling. The mason work is nearly entirely gone from one side, the last heavy rain we had washed a large quantity of the dirt and rock away, so that crossing at the present time is really dangerous.

There seems to be a great amount of kicking among the rate payers of School District No. 1, in reference to the high taxes this year. In some cases the rate is higher than last year while others are not taxed as much. Some men only have a small property and are taxed more than others who have twice or three times as much real estate.

Mrs. Brown and her grand-daughter Miss McConnell, of St. John, are visiting Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. John Hughes.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, sr., presented a brilliant appearance last evening, the occasion being the family reunion and a real old time Thanksgiving supper. Over fifty guests were present, including the following:

changes on the staff of the New Brunswick Railway employees since the management of the road was assumed by the new company. We intimated last week that the superintendent, Mr. Thomas Hoban, had resigned. Since then Mr. E. R. Burpee, an extensive stockholder in the road has succeeded to the position, only temporarily, we understand, and is assisted by Mr. Alfred Seely, who thus adds an important responsibility to his duties of secretary-treasurer of the company. Mr. John Allen, formerly station master at Gibson has received promotion and in future will assist in the accountant's office. Mr. John R. McConnell has severed his connection with the road, and will devote his attention to agriculture. Mr. Boyd, a nephew of Mr. Gibson, and formerly station agent at Millville, in company with Mr. Thomas Hoban, has bought out the grocery of Mr. G. F. Phair & Co., Gibson.

YORK MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The complete returns of the York municipal elections are given below. The elections seem to have been very quietly conducted and we should judge that from the very few parish- es in which a poll was necessary the people take but little interest in them. It will be observed that in eight parishes there was no opposition. In Kingsclear through an oversight, two candidates neglected to file their qualifications and consequently Coun Murray was the only one elected. The new council is composed as follows:

Bright—J. W. Jewett and Thomas Coburn, no opposition.

Canterbury—Jow and G. F. A. Jamieson. No opposition.

Douglas—William Johnson and Thomas H. Colter, no opposition.

Dumfries—Doherty and Davidson. No opposition.

Kingsclear—J. C. Murray. No opposition.

Manners-Sutton—Glendenning and Rutherford, defeating Pagan and Taylor.

New Maryland—William Lipsett and S. K. Nason, defeating A. A. Nason, North Lake—Vessey and Foster. No opposition.

Prince William—George Hoyt and McCormick. No opposition.

Queensbury—J. H. Murch and G. M. Sleep. No opposition.

St. Mary's—Benjamin Close and William White, defeating Luther Goodspeed. The vote stood: Close and White each 232, Goodspeed 198.

Southampton—Warden J. K. Pinder and J. T. Masten, defeating Geo. W. Brown. The vote was Pinder 188; Masten 168, Brown 82.

Stanley—Currie and John Calhoun defeating James Fairley and B. McManiman. The contest was exciting and the vote stood: Currie 197; Calhoun 204; McManiman 113; Fairley, 162.

MARRIAGES.

In this city, Oct. 19, by the Rev. E. Evans, William Timmins to Isabella Edmondson, both of Queensbury.

At Boston, Oct. 13, by the Rev. Charles E. Reese, George E. Mullin, of Boston to Sarah J. Dornady of Fredericton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes and family of Marysville.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Hughes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hughes, Mary-land.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rickard, sr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sturgeon and Little Mary Sturgeon.

Mrs. Brown and Miss McConnell of St. John.

Miss Rose Flowers of Marysville.

It was certainly a jolly crowd that gathered around a well laden table, with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes presiding, surrounded by their eight children and fifteen or more grand children. Super over, all assembled in the parlor when music was the order. Mrs. William Sturgeon presiding at the organ while the others present sang. The base voice of Mr. Hughes, who is 85 years of age, could be heard above all, while his esteemed and beloved wife was continually busy looking after the pleasure of her numerous guests, who thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the time spent together.

Mrs. Goodkind—So you are an engineer and can't get a job in this town? Well, why don't you go to some other place?

Tatterden Torne—I can't madam; you see I am a stationary engineer.

"What are you looking so gloomy about?"

"Oh, I'm just home from the race track."

"Why you told me before you went down there that you had picked a sure winner."

"Yes, but I—er—guess I picked him before he was ripe."
