SPANISH MOB RULE.

Premier Hooted and Troops Attacked--A Reign of Terror at Lisbon and Some Fatalities.

GREATER EXCESSES ARE FEARED.

New York, June 22.—(Special)—Paris despatches to the Times today say, that despatches received from Lisbon, by way of Madrid, report popular hatred of the system of government decreed by the Premier, Francisco, after the dismissal of parliament in the beginning of May, has had as an outcome a barricade fighting between troops and people and much blood shed. The Premier had journeyed to Oporto in the hope of obtaining a popular endorsement of his policy, but at every station between Lisbon and Oporto, crowds hissed and hooted the train as it passed. Oporto received the Premier with crepe banners in place of flags, yells and insults instead of the hoped for cheers. When the dictator returned to Lisbon, there was a furious riot outside the railway station. Cavalry charged and infantry fired into the mob. Officer's commands were drowned by cries of "Death to the dictator," and revolvers were freely used by the crowd. A young officer was mortally wounded and the neighboring square filled with killed and wounded. The principal fighting occurred under the windows of the Hotel D'Angleterre, and several English visitors who witnessed the struggle, said the people fought for hours with sticks and stones against the soldiers, who fired a volley. Women, with aprons filled with stones, supplied missiles to the men, and urged them on. Republican leaders harangued the people to revolt. Barricades were built, cafes invaded, the mob breaking up the furniture for extemporé fortifications. The chief Lisbon cafe was completely destroyed. The mob's great fury was undiminished by the volleys of the troops. Thursday was a day of mourning for the dead. All the newspapers appeared with deep black borders, on business offices and private houses flags were floating at half-mast and windows were draped with crepe. Last night the troops were again firing on the people in the public squares. The most serious events are expected. The press despatches censorship is strict.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSIONS.

Messrs. Guy and Stephen Whitehead Tell of Transcontinental Railway Contractors' Loss from Forest Fires in Quebec.

The Herald's despatches recently told of serious forest fires in the province of Quebec, especially mentioning the conflagration that had destroyed some of the camps of the Transcontinental Railway construction parties near La Toque. At this point Mr. George E. Howie of Fredericton is the engineer in charge of a fifteen mile section and the fire seemed to have wrought some devastation to the contractors' property. Employed with Mr. Howie's party are Messrs. Guy and Stephen Whitehead, sons of Mr. W. T. Whitehead, M. P. of this city, and in letters to their parents here, they tell of the destruction wrought, and of their own personal experience. Mr. Stephen Whitehead writes: "We have had a forest fire here all day, and had to fight till some of the men dropped in their tracks. The hat was even burnt off my head. We saved everything but one magazine, but the dynamite it contained had been thrown into a lake, so we got off very luckily."

"Craig and Thompson, the contractors next above us, lost 1600 cases of dynamite, practically all they had loss of about $9,000. This will hang up their work for a month at least as it was all rock. The dynamite exploded about four miles north of here and broke every window in our camp. The shock was terrific. We had everything on a raft on the lake and even had to stand in the water sometimes ourselves. It is all over now however, but the smoke is still so thick that we can hardly see, and everybody has sore eyes and burns."

Mr. Guy Whitehead in his letter says: "One of the contractors about thirty miles north of here lost forty tons of dynamite and twenty tons of blasting powder, worth up there over $20,000. It was set off by forest fires and we could feel the shock quite plainly down here. We thought Sunday at one time that we would have to move out on account of the fires but the contractors turned out a hundred men on it, and got the flames headed the other way."
