

"Hello! Hello!! Ok! Yes!!!"
 "I should say so! Everyone who tries it says there's nothing like St. George's."

"I know—but wouldn't you rather get a Baking-Powder you are sure is good?"

"St. George's is really less expensive—it goes farther and does better work—and never wastes flour in failures."

"No, indeed! There's not an atom of adulteration in St. George's Baking Powder—and the Cream of Tartar is 100% pure."

"Never! It makes the biscuits deliciously light."

"Yes, yes! Just try St. George's on my recommendation—if they're not good, I'll eat them all myself—at one sitting."

"Yes—the manufacturers guarantee it—and I guarantee it too."

"Certainly! Money back, if it's not just as I say it is."

"Thank you. I'll send it right away."

"One more customer for St. George's! Any one who tries it once always buys it afterward."

SEASONABLE SPORTS.

A Peep Into the World of Base Ball, Racing, of Bowling and Athletic Sports Generally.

BASE BALL.

Billy Gilbert, the ex-Giant, has been appointed captain of the Trenton team.

The prettiest race for championship honors, is in the American Association. Only six games separating the leader and the tailender.

The Washingtons will try out a first baseman from the Quebec Club, of the Canadian outlaw league, named John Elwood. He is a former Fordham College player.

Business Manager Frank Bancroft, of the Cincinnati Club, says that Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and New York possess the only dressing rooms for visiting players that are fit for use.

Brockton, Mass., of the New England League has four catchers on its pay roll and all of them are Macs—McGovern, McCormick, McDaniels and McAuliffe.

Jesse Burkett, the former league star, who is part owner of the Worcester Club, leads the New England League in batting.

Venice, Ill., has a baseball park, the fence of which is entirely composed of doors from old box cars of all the roads in the country.

Lave Cross the old Brooklyn third baseman who was released by Washington the other day, has decided to go with New Orleans pending his engagement as manager of some minor league club later this season.

Blows were exchanged in the Worcester-Fall River game Thursday in which managers, players and spectators pummeled each other. The cause of the disturbance was the throwing of a mask in front of a runner who was coming to the home plate.

An exchange of players between the Toronto and Boston Americans has resulted in the securing of Jack Thoney by Boston for Grimshaw and Schlafly. Thoney is heralded as a star, and it is said that Manager Griffith of the Yankees had made up his mind to get him.

CY YOUNG MUTINED.

Cy Young mutined in the opening game with St. Louis Friday afternoon. In the first inning, after Cy had hit the first batter and had allowed the Browns to get a triple and two singles, Manager McGuire told George Winter to go out, and beckoned for Cy to come in to the bench. Whether he saw McGuire signal to come in cannot be said, but he flushed, shook his head angrily at Winter, wrathfully kicked the dirt out of the pitcher's box and stood ready to deliver the ball. It was plain that he was not coming to the bench and Winter, after looking helplessly at Young and at McGuire, walked back and took his seat alongside the manager. The next two men were quiet, though a run was scored on one of the outs. When the Boston players came in from the field McGuire talked earnestly to the veteran and when the Pilgrims again took the field Winter was on the slab. Winter held the Browns to three hits for the remainder of the game and Boston won 4 to 5.

THE RING

JEFF MAY FIGHT SQUIRES.

San Francisco, June 21.—Jim Jeffries has agreed to reenter the ring. He will fight Bill Squires, the Australian champion, if Squires defeats Tommy Burns. "Tex" Rickard paid a visit to the training quarters of Squires at San Rafael today, and was so impressed with the work of the foreigners that he at once made the offer of $50,000 to Jeffries to fight him. When Jeffries was told of the offer he said: "Well, let the foreigner show me that he is a fighter, and Mr. Rickard's $50,000 offer will not go begging. All I ask is to be given three months to get into condition." Rickard plans to hold the fight at Ely, Nev., on Labor Day.

DONOVAN GOT DECISION.

Brazil, Ind., June 19.—Mike Donovan of Buffalo, N. Y., was awarded the decision over Joe Walcott of Boston at the end of ten rounds of slow fighting last night. The decision of Referee Hugo Kelly did not seem to meet with the approval of the crowd.

THE TURF.

CROKER'S VICTORY.

The Derby Race Described by an English Paper.

An English exchange just to hand gives the following account of the Derby:

It was a Derby of surprises. The favorite lost and there was more sunshine than was expected. The prize fell to the Irish trained Orby, owned by Mr. Richard Croker, the famous American politician.

The downpour at 10 a. m. was responsible for the fact that sportsmen arriving at Epsom pursued a hot and heavy way across the downs, encumbered with overcoats, water-proofs and umbrellas. For it was a beautiful day at Epsom, with the sun shining, and a warm, drying wind sweeping across the glorious downs. The people poured on to the racecourse from an early hour. They came by every kind of conveyance, drag and chara-bancs, brake and omnibus, hired wagonette and gig. They formed an endless line from London to Epsom.

Except for a buttonhole of blue cornflowers—his racing colours—and a certain levity in gloves, Mr. Richard Croker in the unsaddling enclosure after the Derby, receiving congratulations on a memorable victory, rather suggested a square peg of parochial sobriety in a round hole of public rejoicing.

An elderly man of medium height, impressive of feature, with close-cropped grey beard, black clothes and large black tie he by no means realized the popular conception of an owner of a Derby winner. Anywhere else the Tammany chieftain might easily have been mistaken for a Primitive Methodist deacon getting an insight into racing life—except for those gloves.

It was a picturesque and dramatic Derby. Its picturesqueness was all on the surface for everybody to see, but the dramatic aspect of it was recognized only by racing men. What gave it this character was the action of the Jockey Club stewards in refusing a few weeks ago to allow Mr. Croker's horses to be trained at Newmarket. He bought three expensive yearlings giving nearly £10,000 for them. At the time his horses were trained at his place in Berkshire, but for some reason he sent these costly youngsters to Newmarket, and almost immediately the Jockey Club stewards ordered them to be removed out of the sacred precincts of the heath.

Mr. Croker naturally wanted to know the reason for this action, and applied to the stewards for an explanation. This, when it came, proved to be no explanation, only a reminder that the training grounds at Newmarket were the private property of the club.

There the matter ended. Mr. Croker removed himself and his horses to Ireland, vowing he would never again run anything in England, and a considerable time elapsed ere he broke through his resolution.

On Wednesday Mr. Croker took his success as calmly as though winning Derbys were a habit with him. "I expected to win, I have won, and I am delighted," sums up his remarks. The King was one of the first to congratulate Mr. Croker on having won the chief prize of the racing year.
