CONDUCTOR'S PERIL.

Foreigner when Remonstrated with for Making a Noise on I. C. R. Train

Drew Ugly Looking Dirk on Conductor Buchanan--Brakeman's Timely Interference.

Moncton, July 23--(Special)--A foreigner who was a passenger on number 9 this morning from Halifax, when remonstrated with by Conductor Buchanan of Truro for creating a disturbance, drew an ugly looking dirk and threatened the life of the railway official.

The man was travelling with a crowd of foreigners and occupied a bunk in the second class car.

The party was creating considerable disturbance and Buchanan and his brakeman went into the car to stop the noise.

The train official upon approaching one of the men seated upon a bunk and who was more noisy than the others requested him to keep quiet. Immediately the man drew a long murderous looking dirk, and threatened to do violence to the conductor. The brakeman caught the man's arm and prevented him from using the weapon.

Eventually the dangerous passenger was quieted down and the disturbance stopped.

It is felt by the train officials that the foreigner might have used the knife, had the brakeman not been on hand to grab his arm.

The incident occurred east of Moncton, and when the train passed through here the noisy passengers were fast asleep.

PREMIER'S MOVEMENTS

Laurier at His Office Today Leaves for Athabaskaville Friday.

Ottawa, July 23--(Special)--Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited his office this morning and received a hearty welcome from friends who were in the capital to see him.

Announcement of cabinet changes will not be made, however until he has had an opportunity of consulting his party friends.

The premier leaves on Friday for a brief visit to his home at Athabaskaville, whence he will return to Ottawa.

A MEAN THIEF.

Burglarized St. Ann's Church and Rifled the Poor Box.

Sometime during Saturday night, the thief made much of a haul for his trouble. So far as can be learned nothing else about the church was disturbed.

On Sunday Verger Smuin found a key belonging to the church lying on the grass near the door, where it was probably thrown by the thief. This same key was lost by the late Rev. Canon Roberts a short time before his death.

THE HORSE RACES.

Great Sport Expected at the Driving Park Tomorrow Afternoon.

The horse races at the driving park tomorrow afternoon will be called at two o'clock sharp. There will be two events pulled off, the 15 class and 21 class, and judging by the list of entries the struggle for supremacy is likely to be very keen.

Local horsemen are looking for Burling to win the 15 class, although they realize that he will have to travel some to get over Dr. Band. In the 21 class it is expected that the struggle for first place will be between Ruth Wilkes, Kremont and Miss Letha. Mr. Charles Dorothy of Lewiston, Me., will officiate as starter which is a guarantee that the races will be well conducted.

Following is a list of the entries for tomorrow's events.

2.15 CLASS PURSE $200
Burling--A. B. Kitchen, Fredericton
Dr. Band--M. L. Brisson, West Newton.
Gentiles--C. L. Jackson Patton Me.
Estelle Boy--Springhill stables.
Lady Bingen--Springhill Stables.

2.21 CLASS PURSE $200.
Daisy Wilkes--H. O'Neill Fredericton.
Northern Spy--C. L. Jackson, Patton Me.
Kremont--Hugh Calder, Fredericton.
Miss Letha--W. K. Allen, Fredericton.
Ruth Wilkes--A. H. Learment, Truro.
Joe Hal--C. W. Duggan, Fredericton.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements of People In whom our Readers are Interested.

Miss Alice Neill, of Woodstock, is visiting her friend, Miss Mildred Sewell, at Gibson.

Mr. Fred C. Lane, the popular representative of the Imperial Oil Co., is in the city today.

Mr. W. C. Gillies of Quebec is in the city for a few days, the guest of Mr. R. W. L. Tibbits, deputy provincial secretary.

REPORT PREMATURE.

G. T. P. Has Not Yet Bought Central Railway but may do so Later.

Montreal, July 23--(Special)--The rumor that the Central railway of New Brunswick has been purchased by the G. T. P. is denied by Secretary Philipps of the G. T. P. Mr. Philipps admits that such a step might be taken in the future, but says that no negotiations are now on foot, and the question is not now being considered.

Half a teaspoonful of table salt dissolved in a half glassful cold water will give instant relief in case of heart-burn.

IN HIS HOME TOWN.

Magnificent Welcome Extended to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on His Arrival at Ottawa.

Premier Says He Will End His Days in Canada--No Desire for Higher Honors than he now Enjoys.

Ottawa, July 23--Sir Wilfrid Laurier received a great demonstration from the people of Ottawa, irrespective of party last night.

Thousands turned out to welcome him despite a downpour of rain. The streets leading to his residence were decorated and the crowds cheered at every point.

The city council presented the premier with an address and a bouquet of roses was given to him.

Sir Wilfrid had to make four speeches. The first was in the city hall, which is given below, another on the steps leading from the city hall and the third at his residence where the crowd dispersed.

No premier, in fact no man, ever received so enthusiastic a reception at the hands of Ottawa citizens. His statement that his future residence will be Ottawa was not a new one, but the declaration that he would prefer being a member of the Ottawa improvement commission to a peer is of decided interest, although those who know Sir Wilfrid well would come to that conclusion.

WILL LIVE HIS LIFE IN OTTAWA

"Mr. Mayor, gentlemen of the city council, ladies and gentlemen," said Sir Wilfrid, "I have now reached my last stage of what I believe in many respects is a most pleasurable trip and the most pleasing part is that I am again home among my fellow citizens. I appreciate as I never did before how sweet home is and the truth of the saying that there is no place like home. (Cheers.) The joy of my return is intensified by the hearty welcome which I have received at your hands.

Need I say how proud I am that my fellow countrymen have come to meet me, so many of my friends and neighbors, so many who are politically associated with me and so many of those that I cannot claim the privilege of their political support. I offer to one and all the prayer that you will accept the expression which comes from the bottom of my heart of my deepest gratitude.

"I have been now a fellow citizen for eleven years and as time rolls on it seems that ties of affection are winding more and more around my heart and it is my intention whatever may be the fortune or misfortune of my future life to live and die in the city of Ottawa. (Cheers.)

NO AMBITION FOR A PEERAGE.

"A newspaper of Montreal published an article, inspired with most flattering intentions, and couched in still more flattering language, expressed the opinion that I should become high commissioner and plenipotentiary to the Court of St. James. While it was flattering to me, I cannot help saying that I have no such ambition (cheers) what I am now I shall remain, so long as it pleases God to give me health and so long as the Canadian people repose confidence in me as they have done during the past few years. If it pleases God to take my health away, or if the people should take away their confidence from me, then I would still become a simple citizen of Canada and a resident of Ottawa. (Cheers.) I desire no title, all that I want to be is simply a citizen of Ottawa. If I am to have another title, another position, than the one which I would endeavor to become would be a member of the improvement commission of Ottawa, (cheers) so that I would be able to take a share in that good work and continue to take a deep interest in the beautifying of this city."

Sir Wilfrid then referred to the holiday in proceeding with the new station and hotel, and said that it would be one of his first acts, now that he had returned, to see that work was proceeded with. He had visited some of the most favored cities in the world, but there was none of them for which nature had done so much as for the city of Ottawa. The people of Canada and of Ottawa should do their share.

Sir Wilfrid offered his thanks for the sentiments in the address and said that if his work at the conference met with the approbation of his fellow citizens that was all that he desired. He drew a picture of the grandeur of the meeting in London, of the daughter nations of the empire, the same as he had done at Quebec, and concluded by again thanking the people of Ottawa on behalf of himself and Lady Laurier for the magnificent welcome they had received.

WRONGLY REPORTED.

Premier Robinson Corrects Mis-statements Sent out from Montreal--Provincial Finances in Good Shape.

Hon. C. W. Robinson, premier, has returned from Montreal and Quebec where he joined in the welcome to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

His attention being called to the telegraphic despatches from Montreal which recently appeared in a portion of the press regarding the financial position of the province, the premier declared that the alleged interview did not give a correct account of what he said.

The premier further stated that the financial position of the province was excellent; that its credit was equal to that of any other province of Canada; that the object of his mission to Montreal was to consult with financiers as to the advisability of making at the present time an issue of long term bonds for the purpose of paying advances which had been obtained largely to retire six per cent debentures of the province.

The premier also stated that he did not think it worth while saying anything further at present, but in a short time he would be able to give the public, through the press, information which would be very satisfactory.

Regarding the implied suggestion that a sale might be made of a portion of the public lands at the end of the public lands the premier said that he did not make, and he had no intention of making any such suggestion. So far from this being the case he had stated to a reporter that the settled policy of the government was now, and would be in the future, not to dispose of its public lands.

CLYDE MARE DEAD.

Rosie Nicholson, one of the hand-domest Clyde mares in the government importation, died at the exhibition stables on Sunday night. She was taken ill on the voyage out from Glasgow, and although everything possible was done for her after her arrival here she continued to grow worse. All of the horses were insured on leaving Scotland, but the policies expired a few days ago. Rosie was foaled on April 27th, 1905, and was therefore a little more than two years old. The bringing of horses from the old country is always attended with more or less risk, and one death in a lot of forty is not a surprising matter. On the occasion of the last importation twenty years ago, two out of twenty succumbed to illness.
