UP IN THE AIR.

M. Clemenceau, the premier of France was up in the air one day last week—took a balloon trip.

That's nothing new in this country. The Tory leaders have been up in the air for many moons, and there is no likelihood of them reaching solid ground.

Mr. Borden has been up in the air ever since the overwhelming defeat of himself and his party in the last elections, and in the local field Mr. Hazen is in a similar condition.

Neither of them has any substantial policy to offer the country, and neither is taken seriously by the people.

Mr. Hazen has not only been up in the air, but he has been permeated by it, and has given vent to large quantities of the article super-heated.

Mr. Hazen was up in the air for some weeks before the last election. He was forming a cabinet in the clouds, but when the voters went to the polls his balloon was pricked and he struck the earth with a dull thud, that stunned and wounded the whole Tory party in this province.

Mr. Hazen and his friends are up in the air again, prophesying all kinds of impossible things in the political arena. Their balloon is inflated by the gaseous utterances of Organizer Hubbard who claims everything in sight, and will get little but his salary.

The Tories are most proficient and energetic in a balloon act, while some of their newspaper friends are eminent political acrobats, but the entire troop fails to enlist the serious attention of the great thinking and determining public.

COMPENSATIONS.

There will be some compensation to the public for the sudden change in the Telegraph's political complexion, if it gets rid of the American flavor of its editorial columns.

Its readers have become thoroughly tired of that newspaper giving up much of its space to the discussion of matters in which Canadians have but little interest. The fact that the editor for some years was connected with a New York paper and lost his touch with things Canadian, was not sufficient excuse for the Telegraph, which in the late Dr. Elder's day wielded a great influence in this province, to be eternally worrying his readers with American political problems, and the crimes of the people in that country. We have large and important questions in Canada quite worthy discussion in even so pretentious a newspaper as the Telegraph, and if Mr. S. D. Scott who is named as likely to take editorial control of the Telegraph under its new ownership, assumes command it will at least be a Canadian journal with the American flavor eliminated.

The independence dodge however, will not work. When Mr. Scott supersedes the present controlling spirit in the Telegraph's editorial sanctum it will be a Tory newspaper, pure and simple. That is the purpose for which Mr. McKane has purchased it, and that is why Mr. Scott is likely to be repatriated to give the Telegraph a prestige that it has not possessed under its recent management.

CHAMPION FLOPPER.

On the eve of the last general election the Telegraph, having fallen into the hands of Mr. David Russell of Montreal, who thought he could make and unmake governments, betrayed the Liberal party, and under the guise of independence gave all the comfort it could to the Tories. Having failed in its mission however that paper returned, in a measure to its former allegiance, but now when another election is not far distant, it flops again, this time clear into the arms of the Tories, while still hypocritically proclaiming its independence.

The Telegraph is the champion flopper, even surpassing Mr. Hazen's present Fredericton organ in the agility with which it gravitates first towards one political party and then to the other.

The Liberals of New Brunswick will not be deceived by the Telegraph's alleged independent attitude. It is owned body and soul by the Tories with Mr. John McKane putting up the bulk of the money for its purchase, and the fact that Mr. S. D. Scott former editor of the Sun, is likely to be recalled to St. John to take charge of the Telegraph's editorial columns is evidence that it will be the Tory organ in this province.

THE RUSH TO CANADA.

A writer in Success, a leading American Magazine, pays tribute to the vigorous immigration policy of the Laurier government, and the great results it is achieving in the Canadian west.

After a glowing description of the great fertility of the prairies, this writer proceeds: "Into this rich 'promised land' westward through the Winnipeg gateway from Eastern Canada and Europe, and northward over the border lines from the States, are already pouring thousands upon thousands of sturdy, bright-faced, well-clad Americans. Canadians and Englishmen, with other thousands of the continental emigrants who have been wont, hitherto to regard the United States as their final home.

"All of a sudden—in barely three years past—has this great surge of settlement come, invited and promoted by as perfect, as far reaching and as wonderful in international organization of education as was ever created by government and railroads in co-operation. Almost like our own well remembered and hardly more picturesque race for the newly opened lands of Oklahoma has come, of late, this rush for the rich Canadian prairie lands, which are believed to exceed in fertility the vast wheat growing fields of the United States."

The eyes of the Americans are becoming opened to Canada's splendid resources, and they have turned from sneers at our pretensions as one of the most promising lands under the sun, to sincere admiration for the development which has come to Canada under the wisdom and energy of Liberal government.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is announced that Rev. Father Gaynor of St. John is to succeed Mr. M. McDade as managing editor of the New Freeman.

The editor of the Telegraph expresses satisfaction at the closing of a leak in a Fredericton water pipe. We know he would feel that way. Water, pure flowing water is not a favorite in some journalistic circles.

The Fredericton school trustees have already extended favorable consideration to the project of introducing musical instruction into the public schools, after enquiries as to the results of the innovation in other cities, and the time has arrived when the enterprise should be pushed to a practical basis. The board meets tomorrow, and it is to be hoped steps will be taken for the introduction of musical instruction at the commencement of the next term.

The suggestion has been made that when Hon. Edward Blake returns to Canada a place should be found for him in the senate, but it is to be regretted that the delicate condition of his health would not permit him to take part in public life. Mr. Blake, it is understood is suffering from partial paralysis and his friends fear he will never again be able to follow the activities of life.

Those who have been arranging the cabinet slate at Ottawa for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will have to wait a few weeks before their curiosity and anxiety are satisfied. It is stated that there will be no cabinet appointments made until the return of the Governor General to the capital, and of Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. L. P. Brodeur from Europe. Lord Grey is at present in Labrador and he is to visit New Brunswick before he returns to Ottawa, so that it will probably be pretty near the last of August before anything will be doing in cabinet reconstruction.

It is said that a fever blister will disappear like magic if touched with a drop of sweet spirits of niter.
