Limited Habit.

The girl was tugging her chiffonier across the room when a friend dropped in unceremoniously and demanded an explanation. "That's the third time you've changed that piece of furniture in so many months. I'd like to know the reason for such foolishness."

The girl gave the chiffonier a final shove into the corner and then said gaspingly: "In order that I may be beautiful on all sides. Sherlock Holmes is to blame for it. You know he pointed out that the side of the body which the light struck the most clearly is always dressed the most immaculately. He showed that on that side the hair would be most artistically curled, the powder most carefully applied, the neckwear most painstakingly adjusted."

"And I've found out a lot more things he didn't speak of. On that side a woman will pencil her eyebrows more cleverly, will massage her face more thoroughly, will put in her side comb more neatly, etc. So every month I shove my chiffonier across the room that I may not become lopsided."

About Flatirons.

Flatirons that are put away for a few weeks often get rusty, and the best way to prevent this is to rub a little warm grease over the surface and then wrap them up in brown paper. When taken out, dip into hot water that has had a small piece of soda dissolved in it, rub dry and then put them to heat in the usual way. When they are ready to be used on the ironing board have a piece of brown paper with a little powdered bath brick on it and rub the surface of your iron with this. It seems rather a lengthy process, but it really does not take long to do, and housewives will be rewarded for the trouble they have taken by finding the irons delightfully smooth and easy to use, and when they are like this the work can be done twice as quickly.

The Baby Baskets.

Nothing is better for a baby basket than a wire dish drainer, either round or oblong in shape. They only cost 10 cents at any store where kitchen goods are sold. Cover the wire with blue cambric or blue satin first. Over that place white dotted or plain muslin, rather full. Make a deep ruffle edged with baby lace to fall over the outside. Cut out a piece of cardboard to fit the bottom. Cover it with a layer of cotton batting. Cover with the cambric and then the muslin.

Sprinkle sachet powder on the cotton batting if one cares to have the basket scented. Make little pockets and push them to fasten on the sides. Around the top edge sew heading with ribbon run through it. The wire frame is

GOT GREAT 'RECEPTION

Thousands Cheered Hon. W. Paterson when he Delivered Address in his Native Town.

BRANTFORD, Ontario, November 12.—"Three cheers for Brantford's Billy," was the shout that greeted Hon. William Patterson, Minister of Customs, when he entered the Liberal meeting Saturday night, and the cheers were heartily given. Mr. Paterson spoke more particularly to the young Liberals and to those who have as yet developed no strong party affiliation. He asked whether it was more logical to support a government whose policy had been attended by success or the party, who, when in office, had only succeeded in obtaining a record of continual failure, and who had no real policy to offer to the country.

"True," said Mr. Paterson, "Mr. Borden has been out through the west, but it seems as if he had lost his policy of adequate protection there. The Conservatives were pursuing a policy of drift, and surely if, under the present government the commerce of the country had increased seven-fold it was sufficient reason to enable men to decide which party it was to their advantage to support. What was the result of the government's policy? The government had lots of money, and were spending it in opening up the country and in increasing transportation facilities.

Every cent of reduction in the cost of transportation meant a cent in the pockets of the men who were sending their produce to the markets of the world. It was not merely for the love of men in the shipping business that improvements like those at Montreal and on the St. Lawrence were inaugurated nor because thereby transportation was facilitated and the whole country benefited. Their opponents told them that the money was being wrung out of the people, despite the fact that taxation had been reduced by fourteen per cent. by the present administration.

The people did not grudge the spending of this money, but let them see to it that it was spent honestly that they got value for their money, and from such investigation the government did not shrink. But it was no reason that men should be deprived of power because there were charges preferred against them which would not bear the light of day. Let them have fair play and decency. The opposition told them that the government were bribing constituencies by the promise of public works. They had said that in East Northumberland, although the construction of the Trent valley canal had been decided upon long before any question of an election had arisen.

What, however, could these people, who talked of bribery and corruption by public works, think of Mr. Borden and his appeals and promises to British Columbia?

At Hamilton in the afternoon Mr. Paterson said it had always been a source of regret to him that Sir Wilfrid had not a majority of the members from Ontario, and he trusted that after the next election this would not be so.

HEROIC ENGINEER

Who Saved Whole Town From Destruction.

DOUGLAS, ARIZ., Nov. 9.—Jesus Garcia, a locomotive engineer, saved Naco, Arizona, from destruction by running a powder train through the town at top speed, but lost his own life and caused the death of a dozen or more Mexican section hands, through the explosion of two cars of powder, just as the flaming train was passing a section house. John Christolm, a boy, was also killed by the explosion.

The details of the accident was received yesterday. A powder train on Sitares mine caught fire when near the narrow gauge railroad of the Naco. In the train were two open cars heavily laden with explosives. Realizing that the concentrator and a good part of the town of Naco would be destroyed if the powder exploded there, engineer Garcia called to the rest of the crew to jump, and started to run the train away from the town. He had taken it about half a mile when the explosion occurred, as the cars were passing a section house full of Mexicans. The explosion blew the house, the train, the men and the engineer to atoms.

Young Christolm, not seeing the fire in the train, sought to steal a ride on the rear car. It was impossible to say just how many sectionmen were killed.

MAKE THEM EAT DIRT.

Market Gardener's Cure for Fast Motoring.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The sequel to a collision between two expensive motor-cars, in which both were badly damaged, was an action for damages in the King's Bench Division, which began on Tuesday and ended yesterday in a verdict for the plaintiff with one farthing damages without costs.

Some amusing evidence was given by Mr. Miller, a market gardener, who is an avowed enemy of all motorists. Counsel was unable to get from him any estimate as to the speed of the plaintiff's car. "I have ridden slower in a train," and "I have watched an express train which went pretty faster," are specimens of his answers.

In cross-examination he said he refused to give any information to the solicitors because he had had experience in giving evidence. He objected to motors altogether, and if he had his way he would make every motorist eat two pounds of dust a day. Then there would not be so much of it to spoil his strawberries. He had never ridden in a motor, and did not intend to. Continuing, he said: "I had a nice bed of strawberries, but after a few days of motor dust I should not have liked to have offered them to your lordship."

BURIED IN LAVA DUST.

Bogoslof Island Covered Hundreds of Feet Deep.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The remarkable transformation that has occurred in the topography of Bogoslof Island, Alaska, as the result of volcanic disturbances is described in a report received at the Treasury Department from Lieut. H. B. Camden, commanding the revenue-cutter McCulloch. Regarding the subsidence of McCulloch Peak the report says that the peak had entirely disappeared, and that astonishing changes occurred in the profiles of the the neighboring peaks, whose outlines "had been softened to a general symmetry by a padding of lava dust that almost disguised them beyond recognition, while the sand pit connecting the peaks had attained a height varying from twenty to one hundred feet.

"Incalculable tons of material, hundreds of feet deep in depth, had been deposited over the entire island. Fire Island and Perry Peak now tower into the air with a genuine incline rising from the beach several hundred yards distant to their summits."

Lieut. Camden says McCulloch Peak blew up a few hours before the fall of lava dust at Unalaska on Sept. 1 last, about the origin of which there has been much discussion. He adds that there is little doubt that the deposit of lava dust which has covered Mount Makush and the surrounding mountains came from Bogoslof Island when the McCulloch Peak explosion occurred.

A RELIABLE REMEDY FOR CROUP.

WANT TO BE MINISTERS.

Many Claimants for Cabinet Rank in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 11.—Conservative factions in Brandon have lost no time in looking to the filling of the seat left vacant by the sudden and much-regretted death of Hon. S. W. McInnis. A delegation of three gentlemen from Brandon, comprising Ald. B. D. Wallace, T. M. Percival, President of the Conservative Club of the Wheat City, and another worker were closeted with Premier Roblin for a long time this morning, and it is understood that there are a number of leading supporters of the party who would like the nomination to go to Mr. Wallace, and that he has a good chance of carrying the constituency.

It is probable that Hon. A. G. Agnew will temporarily have charge of educational affairs until a rearrangement has been effected. To add to the difficulties there are other aspirants in the field for the Cabinet position, and each of them is being put forward by his friends.

A PRINCESS' TROUSEAU.

Magnificent Display of Feminine Finery at Paris.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The trousseau of Princess Marie Bonaparte, whose marriage to Prince George of Greece will be celebrated next month, has been put on exhibition, and has set all Paris to discussing it. Such a magnificent display of feminine finery had not been seen here since the third republic. There are sixty-five different complete costumes, a dozen hats, a profusion of costly furs and sables, acres of linen and piles of dainty lingerie. The lingerie alone cost $80,000, the beautiful skirts and other garments which the bride will wear on her wedding day attracting special attention.

The Princess has been the subject of much criticism by Parisians because the entire trousseau was purchased at a single house, and that not French, but Austria.

Some people make a specialty of earning money and a few others of getting it.
