

OTTAWA BAZAAR

Clergymen Criticized Gambling Methods Employed to Raise Money.

OTTAWA, Ont., November 12.—The Presbyterian and Methodist clergymen of Ottawa yesterday criticized the "Streets of Paris" bazaar held under the patronage of Earl Grey, and censured those who had the operation of wheels of fortune at which Tombola tickets could be speculated for. Some of the reverend gentlemen said that it had been reported to them that cigarettes, and even liquor were sold on the premises during the show. They had no direct evidence on these points and therefore did not take action regarding them. However, they were satisfied that there had been games of chance and the Presbyterians therefore passed a resolution, which declared:

"Since our co-operation as ministers was requested by the 'Streets of Paris' bazaar and since some of our ministers, because of interest in a worthy cause, gave announcements of the matter to their congregations, we feel it necessary to put ourselves on record as disapproving of the gambling element introduced into some of the methods for raising funds."

The Methodist ministers at the morning session also expressed their disapproval of the wheels of fortune and the cigarette selling, but they did not pass a resolution on the subject.

The bazaar was held in aid of the Anti-tuberculosis league and over ten thousand dollars was cleared. The leading society people of Ottawa ran it and both the governor-general and Lady Grey were among the active workers.

The bazaar is going to be discussed at a general meeting of the Ottawa Ministerial Association, which includes all of the Protestant denominations.

PAYING WAGES IN CANADIAN MONEY.

Financial Stringency Teaches Detroit Financiers Value of Dominion Banking System.

DETROIT, Mich., November 12.—Almost every large corporation, manufacturer and merchant in Detroit is singing the praises of the Canadian banking system these days, because the Canadian banks with branches along the Canadian border, are letting many of them have a little money at a time, when the Detroit banks, both national and state, are absolutely out of funds, and have had to enforce the 60 days' notice rule on depositors.

Many of the big manufacturing concerns have had to pay their employees with cheques, hoping that the departmental stores would cash them in order to make a sale. Some other corporation found that by paying a pretty fair rate they could get quite a little money from some of the branch offices of the Canadian banks at Windsor, Amherstburg, Sarnia and other places.

For the first time in the history of the Detroit United Railway the entire pay-roll of about $115,000, was paid out in new bank bills of a Canadian bank, while another manufacturing concern got enough Canadian silver from a Canadian bank to be able to pay the weekly wages, partly in cash, and partly in cheques. The head of one of the largest departmental stores remarked today that there was never anything like as much Canadian money in Detroit as at the present time.

DESPERATE FIGHT

Italians Seriously Wounded in a Montreal Row.

MONTREAL, Quebec, November 12.—Knives, axes and other impromptu weapons figured in a big scrap last night between half a dozen Italians, in which one man was probably fatally hurt and another so badly damaged that he is also in the hospital, but will probably recover.

The fight arose over a money dispute in an old shack which was formerly the Quebec Hotel, but is now an Italian rendezvous. Three Italians broke into the room occupied by another of their clan, and demanded cash, which he promptly refused.

In a moment a small sized arsenal was brought into action, the three falling upon the man of money with axes and knives, while he retorted with a revolver. The gun proved the most convincing argument, as the victims of the assault laid out two of his opponents. Several other Italians joined in the fray, and until the police arrived there was a lively time.

A number of the Italians in the house were arrested and the two injured men taken to the hospital.

All the participants were sober and it is the opinion of the police that it was a deliberate hold-up, engineered by the "Black-hand" Society.

BIG PROPERTY DEAL

P. G. Mahoney of Westmorland Negotiating for Kent County Mill, Lands, etc.

Negotiations are in progress between Mr. P. G. Mahoney of the Jardine, Limited, for the purchase by Mr. Mahoney of the Jardine property, which includes a large mill, a shop, and one ty at Rexton. This property is valued at nine miles of good timber lands. The mill is fitted with two band saws and is said to be one of the best equipped saw mills in the Maritime Provinces. All in all, the property is a very valuable one. While it is known that the negotiations are in progress, it is understood that no definite point has yet been reached in them. Mr. Mahoney has been very successful in his lumber operations and if he purchases the Jardine property he will, no doubt, be as successful in the new venture as in the old ones. It is not known whether or not, if the deal is carried through, Mr. Mahoney would move from Melrose.

VERY FIRST SIGNS

Of Serious Kidney Trouble are in the Back.

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here, also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

An authority once stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature gangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic patent medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and any one can mix them: Compound Kardon, one ounce, Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.

FREAKS IN NATURE.

The Stone Man, the Brittle Man and the Poison Proof Man.

When she is in a freakish mood nature seems to revel in making human beings who defy all her most cherished traditions and are a constant mystery to their fellow creatures. Such a man is Herr Schwarz, "the armor plated man," who is such a puzzle to the doctors of Europe. Herr Schwarz has been for some years undergoing an ossification of the whole of his body and is rapidly developing into the hardness and immobility of a statue. His back has now become quite rigid, the muscles standing out hard and immovable. In fact, he seems to be enveloped in a kind of armor plating, consisting of surface bone as hard as stone. He is no longer able to move his jaws and is compelled to take food in a liquid form through a tube, some of his teeth having been removed for the purpose. And yet, singular to say, this ossified man enjoys excellent health and not long ago was married to a charming young Berlin woman.

In curious contrast to this indurated man is Herr Stahl, whose bones are so brittle that he can scarcely move without fracturing one of them. By simply stepping on a pavement he has broken a leg more than once. A hearty handshake has broken his arm, and a slap on the back not long ago laid him up for weeks with a fractured shoulder. Herr Stahl has only numbered twenty-four years, yet he counts two fractures for every year he has lived.

In fact, as he humorously says, the only safe place for him is a glass case.

Captain Vetro, an American, is a freak of another order, for he can make a hearty meal off poisons which would provide work for quite a large number of undertakers if others were to partake of it. Not long ago in Berlin he sat down to a dinner which consisted of a plate of veridigris, a liberal portion of ultramarine and a composit of sulphur and borax, followed by a dessert of white sulphur. These edibles were washed down by a solution of strychnine and a bottle of patent rat killer made of powdered glass, arsenic and atropine. This meal he devoured with evident enjoyment, to the amazement of the government officials and doctors who looked on and who to a man declined the captain's invitation to join him in his repast.

A LADY OF RESOURCE.

Beautiful English Countess Goes Into Fruit Business.

Most Canadians have heard or read of the beautiful Countess of Warwick, who has for many years been an ardent socialist. The name and fame of Warwick are so closely associated with feudal privileges and king-making power that it is difficult to associate a countess of that line with anything so modern and unbecoming as socialism. Lady Warwick's views are described by one writer as a kind of pink-tea democracy, rather than the red variety.

Her sister, also a woman of physical charms, Lady Algernon Gordon-Lennox, has recently shown that she holds in light esteem the convention that a feminine aristocrat shall be useless. Not content with being known as a perfectly-gowned woman and one of the cleverest amateur gardeners in England, she has also undertaken to carry on an industry which appeals to every housewife. She is going to establish a fruit-bottling business at Broughton, Oxfordshire and is confident of success, as the trade in bottled and tinned commodities has greatly increased of late. The gardens at Broughton Castle are the most beautiful in the county with their hundreds of different kinds of roses. If equal success crowns her efforts in fruit bottling, Lady Gordon-Lennox may prove a formidable competitor to Californian and Chicagoan firms, which have been rather unpopular in England since last year's "exposures."

A STUFFED EMPEROR.

Fate of Valerian of Rome, Captured by the Persians.

One of the most remarkable stuffed skins on record was that of Valerian, emperor of Rome, who was taken prisoner and afterward kept in chains by Sapor, king of Persia. He was either killed in a tumult or by order of his conqueror, who was perhaps fearful of losing his valuable living trophy, in the year 260. The body of the dead emperor was treated with no more delicacy than when it held the spark of a living one. It was skinned. The hide after being tanned was stuffed, painted red and suspended in the chief temple of the capital. It remained there for many years and was the popular spectacle for holiday makers and visitors from the country. But it was put to more important ends than this. It was made a diplomatic engine of much significance and efficiency. In after times it often happened that the Roman envoys at the Persian court had misunderstandings more or less serious with the government to which they were temporarily accredited. When these ambassadors from Rome grew arrogant in their demands, it was the custom to conduct them into the presence of the stuffed skin of the emperor of Rome, where they were asked if humility did not become them at sight of such a spectacle.

"THE BLUE DANUBE."

Odd Way in Which the Beautiful Waltz Was Written.

It was a linen cuff and the quick thought of the woman who wore it that gave us one of the prettiest of the tuneful Strauss waltzes. Johann Strauss and his wife were one day enjoying a stroll in the park at Schonau when suddenly the composer exclaimed: "My dear, I have a waltz in my head. Quick—give me a scrap of paper or an old envelope. I must write it down before I forget it." Alas, after much rummaging of pockets it was found that neither of them had a letter, not even a tradesman's bill. Johann Strauss' music is considered light, but it weighed as heavy as lead on his brain until he could transfer it to paper. His despair was pathetic. At last a happy thought struck Frau Strauss. She held out a snowy cuff. The composer clutched it eagerly, and in two minutes that cuff was manuscript. Its mate followed. Still the inspiration was incomplete. Strauss was frantic and was about to make a wild dash for home with the third part of his waltz ringing uncertainly in his head. His own linen was limp, colored calico. Suddenly his frau bethought herself of her collar, and in an instant the remaining bars of "The Blue Danube" decorated its surface.

When the Sun Will Burn Up.

That the sun is slowly but surely being consumed by its own fires there is but little doubt. No one can tell, however, to a certainty whether it is or not. Astronomers say that its diameter could be reduced two feet per day for 3,000 years before the finest instruments could detect the fact that any reductions had taken place.

The Rialto at Venice is said to have been built from designs of Michael Angelo. It consists of a single marble arch ninety-eight feet long and was completed about 1592.

No Sound of R.

Many languages are devoid of certain sounds quite familiar to us. The Chinese, for instance, has no sound equivalent to our "r." For America a Chinaman says "Yameliika." The Society Islanders could not pronounce either "c" or "k," and the nearest approach they could make to the name of the celebrated navigator Cook, who visited their shores, was "Tut."

AN EATING ULCER.

Ulcers are a skin disease, and are more or less directly occasioned by a bad state of the blood, which produces acid humors and corrupts the secretions.

No one can expect to have a skin free from disease when the blood is in a disordered condition and the stomach and bowels acting feebly in consequence.

Through its wonderful cleansing, purifying powers on the blood, and its renovating action on the entire system, Burdock Blood Bitters has made thousands of cures of different skin diseases during the past thirty years it has been on the market.

Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Halton, Que., writes: "I had an eating ulcer on my ankle. I took two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and it worked like a charm, cleaning out all the impurities from my system and improving my appetite. While taking the B.B.B. internally I used it externally to cleanse the sore, and it helped a lot."
