STILETTO IN ENGLAND.

Revolver Is Growing In Favor as a Weapon.

Is the revolver becoming the stiletto of England? The question is prompted by the recent appalling list of crimes committed by this cheap, easily-used and easily-procured weapon in England. The list might have been said to culminate in the murder of Mr. Whitely but for the fact that since then there is a case in which a young railway porter is charged with shooting and wounding a girl.

An Impulsive Age.

The tendency of the age is undoubtedly toward quick decisions and active measures. The old-time deliberation, non-impulsive habit of the Briton has been influenced by the restless energy of the day. In restless, badly balanced minds the sense of proportion is lost in the need for instant action. Many deeds of violence, done on quite inadequate grounds, are reported which never would have taken place if the perpetrator had had the patience calmly to consider whether or not his method of righting his wrong, real or fancied, was in proportion to the offence.

In many murder cases tried recently it has been shown that the deed had not been deliberately premeditated. The murderer seems to have provided himself with a revolver, so as to be ready for any emergency, just in the way the Italian seems to carry a stiletto.

Act Decreases Sales.

Extensive enquiries made revealed the surprising fact that the gunsmiths' books show a falling off in the sale of revolvers of at least two-thirds since the act of 1903 was passed. That act requires the production of a license or other authority by a would-be purchaser, while the seller has to keep a careful record. The act has diminished remarkably the shooting crimes by gangs of young ruffians, such as those who made Clerkenwell infamous a few years before it was passed, but has not prevented suicide or crimes in which passion of some kind acts as the spur. There was a well-known case not long ago of a man obtaining a license to carry firearms from a postoffice, walking along to a gun shop, buying a revolver, proceeding a few yards farther to an hotel, smoke-room, and shooting himself. The series of events occupied about twenty minutes.

Rural Training Cause.

A suggestion was thrown out by a member of a leading firm of gunsmiths that it is, as a rule, the man who is country-bred who uses the revolver when he means to injure or destroy life.

"I think if these cases were investigated," he said, "it would be found that the man concerned had either had a country training or were in the habit of going out shooting. The pure-bred townsman knows nothing of weapons; he would sooner use a knife or poison. But the man who has lived in the country has seen or has engaged in the destruction of animals by firearms. He is familiar with them, and hence his liking for the revolver."

The view was supported by one of the leading detective officers, though it struck him as being novel. He could hardly recall a case in which the man who shot to kill had not had country experience. Usually, however, it was slight. The true sportsman, if he commits suicide, uses one of his favorite guns, and hardly ever the revolver.

SCHOOLS VERSUS CRIME.

Elementary Schools In Great Britain Reduce Number of Criminals.

Since the year 1870 millions of money have been spent on elementary schools in Great Britain. Have the great results which were then anticipated been realized? It is very pleasant to note that the highest hopes of promoters of education thirty years ago are accomplished facts to-day.

In 1870 there were 30,000 people in jail, nearly 6,000 more than there had been ten years before. Now, though the population of the United Kingdom has increased by over fifty per cent, we have to-day only some 20,000 people in prison. That this good effect is due to our elementary schools is strongly suggested by the following table:

Population	1870	Present day
Number of persons	22,500,000	34,000,000
under sixteen in prison, reformatories, etc.	11,733	2,321
Total per 100,000 of the population	52	7

Photographs, again, will point out the improvement that has been brought about in Council School children's appearance.

Where, in 1870, we saw forbidding little semi-savages, we now see clean, neat children, with happy and intelligent faces.

Proper Way to Churn.

The agitation in churning should be as violent as the form of churn will admit, says Farm Progress. The churning is to be stopped while the butter is in the granular form. In order to have as thorough churning as possible the temperature of the cream should not be over 53 degrees.

The buttermilk should be drawn from the churn and the butter washed. The butter must be removed from the churn and salted while yet in the granular form. The amount of salt should be to the taste of the customer. For most people, one ounce to the pound is required.

Bottled Love Letters.

Missouri girls are still throwing bottled letters into the Missouri river to see what will turn up. A year ago a Carroll county girl cast a message on the waters at St. Louis. Recently she received an answer from a young engineer in the employ of the Government a few miles below Memphis, Tenn. The letter stated that the girl had been found in a crevice by workmen engaged in the work of repairing the levee. Kansas City Times.

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Fred Seydel.

Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by letter. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent of the request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ill and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman in consequence, but have a beautiful baby girl. I wish every suffering woman in the land would write you for advice, as you have done so much for me."

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ill.

If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helpful.

The Baffled Lion.

(Near Lake Albert Edward Major Powell Cotton was saved from being killed by a wounded lion by a folded copy of Punch which he had in his pocket.)

The lion in his wounded pride, His victim mauled with tears and surniches; And all resistance he defied, Until he met at last with "Punch's."

If "Punch" could thwart these wild-ent schemes, And all a lion's efforts cumber, Just as it should have been, it seems, It must have been a funny number.

Yet "Punch's" lovers with disgust, Must own that when a lion rages, It's clear his sense of humor must be but in embryonic stages.

He tore at "Punch" with all his strength, And sorely he began to rue it, Because he was compelled at length, To own that he could not get through it. —M S

BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD FOR COLIC AND DIARRHOEA.

"I find Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to be the best remedy in the world," says Mr. C. L. Carter of Shiloh, Ala. I am subject to colic and diarrhoea. Last spring it seemed as though I would die, and I think I would if I hadn't taken Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I haven't been troubled with it since until this week, when I had a very severe attack and took half a bottle of the twenty-five cent size Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and this morning I feel like a new man." For sale by all dealers.

A remarkable discovery of ammunition smuggling has been made here, after a fight, in which two Pathans were shot, says a correspondent from Lucknow, India.

Two constables, returning from patrol duty, found three Pathans with several camels, preparing to cross the bridge of boats connecting the Nowshera cantonment with the North Bank of the Kabul river. When questioned, they said they were going to Swat, and had nothing except empty bags and fodder for their camels.

The police asked to see the bags, and were then offered bribes, which they refused. They insisted on the search, and when they were joined by a third constable a free fight ensued.

Two Pathans were shot and the third surrendered. Examination of their packs showed that they had ninety packages of Martini-Henry ammunition concealed among the bags.

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find that the family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cramps, colic and cholera morbus, require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured of a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life. For sale by all dealers.

YORK COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE RECORDER'S BILL.

Coun. Brooks presented a bill for $500 from Recorder Colter for consolidating indexes for the record office for 1905-1906.

Coun. Robison moved, seconded by Coun. Masten that the bill be referred to a committee to report six months hence.

Coun. Robison said that he would like more information in regard to the bill before voting to pay it.

Coun. Goodspeed said that the recorder obtained an order from the government to prepare the book, and he thought the bill should be paid. There was no doubt that the index was needed and that it was a valuable book. He thought that the way the record office was kept was most creditable to the county of York.

Coun. Grosvenor expressed the hope that the index was now down to date.

Mr. Bliss said that the payment of $1,000 made to the recorder some time ago was for new books ordered by the government. The recorder was in a position, under the law, to compel payment of the amount. He thought that the new index was needed.

Coun. Grosvenor had had some business with the record office and could testify that the new index was of great value. A search which formerly occupied several hours now could be done in a few minutes.

Coun. Robison said it was only with the object of procuring information that he had made his motion. Coun. McNally said that he agreed with Coun. Goodspeed that the record office was a credit to the county of York.

Coun. Timmins thought if the bill had to be paid it might as well be paid now as at some future time.

Coun. Scott said that the new books were vastly superior to the old ones and were needed by the recorder.

He saw no reason why the bill should not be paid.

Coun. Haining moved, seconded by Coun. Pond that the Recorder's bill be paid.

Coun. Brewer announced that he would support the amendment.

The vote on the amendment was then taken and it was declared carried.

On motion of Coun. Scott it was resolved that in future all accounts should be submitted at the opening day of the session, otherwise they would have to stand over.

Coun. C. W. Pond complained of the action of Col. Marsh of Fredericton in giving tramps and other loose characters a peremptory order to leave town. The county was full of these worthless characters and he thought some action should be taken by the council to suppress them. He wanted to hear the councillors' views on the subject.

COUNTY AND CITY.

The Warden thought that there should be some information forthcoming in regard to the present relations between the city and council.

Coun. McNally said that the administration of Justice Committee had not been able to agree with the city authorities in regard to some items in last year's accounts.

Mr. Bliss said it had been agreed by the two committees to prepare a special case in the matter in dispute and submit it to the Supreme Court. It had been afterwards found, however, that the committee had no power to do this. The city authorities had claimed that they had no right to pay any portion of the cost of heating and lighting the secretary's office, or of renovating the Council Chamber. He as secretary-treasurer had advised that the city was liable for one-third the amount.

Coun. Goodspeed said that while he thought the city was legally bound to pay one-third of the cost of fitting up the secretary's office and council chamber he scarcely thought it would be wise for the county to enforce payment. They were all proud of the council chamber and secretary's offices. He thought, however, that the city had a perfect right to pay one-half of the cost of administration of Justice.

Coun. Brooks thought the county should pay its share of the cost of constables and witnesses' fees, and chambers and secretary-treasurer's office.

Coun. Brewer thought that the matter should be settled with the city according to the law of the land.

Coun. Masten hoped that nothing would be done that could be used by the city as a precedent.

It was finally decided to refer the matter of the administration of justice committee to take up with the civic authorities.

Coun. Brooks wanted to know if it was lawful or cattle to run at large on islands above the Keswick.

Mr. Bliss said he thought that when an island was within a pound district it came under the bye-law relating the running at large of cattle.

On motion of Coun. Brewer the running at large of cattle on the islands at Douglas, Bright and Kingsclear was prohibited from November 1st each year until October 1st in the following year.

BAD BURN QUICKLY HEALED.

"I am so delighted with what Chamberlain's Salve has done for me that I feel bound to write and tell you so," says Mrs. Robert Mytton, 457 John St., Hamilton, Ontario. "My little daughter had a bad burn on her knee. I applied Chamberlain's Salve and it healed beautifully." This salve allays the pain of a burn almost instantly. It is for sale by all dealers.

COUN. MURRAY'S DEATH.

Coun. Goodspeed after a few feeling remarks presented the following resolution which was seconded by Coun. McKeen and adopted by a standing vote: "Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God since our last meeting, to remove from among us Mr. John C. Murray, who for over thirty years was a valued member of the board, and during the greater part of that time was chairman of the public buildings committee, and

"Whereas the late Mr. Murray, by his extensive knowledge of Municipal affairs, rendered valuable aid to the county and especially the parish of Kingsclear.

Therefore, resolved, that we, the members of the York Municipal Council, in semi-annual meeting assembled, place on record an expression of our deep sense of loss sustained by the death of Mr. Murray, and Further, resolved, that this resolution be entered upon the minutes and a copy forwarded to his family and also to the daily papers. Carried.

On motion of Coun. Masten, seconded by Coun. Fox, the two reporters were voted $4 per day each.

Coun. Brewer brought up the question of taxing wild lands and the secretary-treasurer promised to have the section of the act dealing with the matter printed and distributed.

COUN. SCOTT'S FAREWELL.

Coun. Scott, who spoke with considerable emotion, announced his retirement from municipal politics. He wished to thank the council and preceding councils for courtesies reposed in him during the past years of his service.

He had served under four secretaries-treasurers and four auditors, and had received most courteous treatment from them.

He had also been treated with great consideration by the reporters and writers and wished to return his thanks. He was retiring from municipal politics with nothing but the most kindly feelings for all the members of the board.

Coun. Brewer paid a glowing tribute to the worth of Coun. Scott, and acknowledged the kind advice and assistance he (Brewer) had received from him when a young member of the board. He was also greatly indebted to the late Coun. Murray in the same way. He sincerely hoped that Coun. Scott would be spared for many years and that the richest of divine blessings would be poured upon him during the evening of his long and useful life.

Coun. Simmons had been Coun. Scott's colleague at the board for many years and realized the great loss the county and parish would sustain by his retirement. He did not know where a man could be found to fill the place.

Coun. Timmins also spoke in very feeling terms of Coun. Scott and expressed great regret at his retirement. He moved that a vote of thanks be tendered Coun. Scott for his long and honorable service to the county.

Coun. McKeen, who is one of the veterans of the board, and has enjoyed Coun. Scott's friendship for years, seconded the vote of thanks. In doing so he told of the good qualities of Coun. Scott and also had a kindly word to say for the late John C. Murray.

The motion was carried by a standing vote, and was followed by three cheers and a tiger. The councillors then joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," led by Coun. Robison.

Warden McFarlane in presenting the vote of thanks, said he hoped the day would soon come when Coun. Scott would be Mayor of Fredericton.

On motion of Coun. Brooks the Council passed a bye law prohibiting the running at large of cattle on Brown's Island from May 20 to December 1st.

On motion of Coun. McNally the sum of $43. was ordered to be paid to Rev. Mr. Colter out of Scott's Act funds to reimburse him for monies advanced by him for constables and witnesses' fees.

Coun. Goodspeed thought that the city was giving a lease of piece of land on the alms house property to R. Chestnut & Sons for a canoe factory. The city council it appears could not give a clear title to the property without the sanction of the county council. He moved that the sanction be given.

The motion was briefly discussed and adopted.

Coun. Hallet of Queensbury said that he had enjoyed his first meeting of the council very much and had been most kindly treated. He extended an invitation to all to meet him Wilkes' ice cream parlors. (Applause)

The minutes of the meeting were read by Mr. Bliss and approved.

The council adjourned after singing the National Anthem and all repaired to Wilkes' and partook of ice cream and cigars at the expense of Couns. Hallet and McNally.

SLEEPLESS?

Nerves are Racked.
Vitality is Lowered.
Brain is Congested.
Health Undermined.

Opiates, Sedatives, Narcotics, Worse Than Useless. Produce No Permanent Good.

Worry, overwork, over-study and indigestion cause insomnia.

Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved.

Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into over-worked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so sure as Ferrozone.

Remember sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down.

You can if you'll use Ferrozone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep.

Ferrozone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.

Absolutely safe is Ferrozone.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes.

Most Wonderful Cave In the World.

The most wonderful cave in the world is in the island of Tonga, in the south Pacific. Byron called it "a chapel of the seas." It is formed in a rock that is almost surrounded by the ocean. This rock is about sixty feet high and broad proportionately. Many years ago a boy, the son of a native chief, was chasing a huge turtle, when his game seemed to sink into the rock. The lad watched and waited until the tide fell, disclosing a small opening in the rock about six feet under low water mark. Diving boldly, the young hunter entered the aperture and, to his surprise, came to the surface inside the rock. The rock was hollow, and its interior was found afterward, when the natives explored it with torches, to contain many beautiful stalactites. When attacked and followed by enemies, the natives, who know the secret, leave their canoes, plunge into the water and disappear. Their foes linger, astonished at their disappearance, for no person not acquainted with it would suspect that the rock was hollow.
