FOSTER NOT BLAMELESS.

Mr. Foster was an accessory to Mr. Fowler's exhibition in parliament.

Mr. Borden was absent at the time, Mr. Foster was leading the opposition and was in a measure responsible for its conduct, yet he did not move a finger to check Mr. Fowler's wild tirade which so disgraced the House.

Indeed Mr. Foster encouraged his friend Fowler as is shown by the following extract from a full report of the affair:

Mr. Fowler:—Are you going to lower the tone of public life to such a degree that if a man goes into politics he shall be smeared and have mud thrown at him by every dirty cur that goes along the streets."

Chairman Campbell:—The hon. gentleman is out of order.

Mr. Fowler:—There are dirty curs along the streets besides what may be mentioned in this chamber, and I was not necessarily referring to any hon. gentlemen.

The Chairman:—That is not parliamentary language.

Mr. Foster:—The hon. gentleman is quite in order.

"Quite in order" says Mr. Foster, for a member of the house to refer to fellow members and others as "dirty curs."

The ex-finance minister would be the first to object if a Liberal member were to conduct himself in debate as Mr. Fowler did on that occasion, yet he sat in his seat and openly encouraged the member, for Kings to proceed with his billingsgate.

CONSERVATIVE APPROVAL.

Ald. Baxter of St. John is one of the militant Conservative politicians of that city, and an aspirant for a seat in the legislature, but he was constrained to commend Mr. Emmerson and the government after he had heard the minister's addresses on St. John winter port affairs there on Friday.

The Telegraph report says: "Ald. Baxter moved that the thanks of this meeting be tendered to Hon. Mr. Emmerson for his attendance here and moved that the subjects to which he had referred be taken up separately. He added that everyone knew his political affinities and it was only fair to say that he could not ask for any better treatment than the city had received from the government and Mr. Emmerson. If the government carried out the proposal as suggested by Mr. Emmerson it would, no doubt, be greatly to their credit politically, but he felt that any government which should carry out a great work in such a way was entitled to all the political prestige which might attach to such action."

CURRENT COMMENT

Honduras has declared war against Nicaragua, is marching troops to the frontier and news of a battle is momentarily expected.

There seems to be a serious reaction against the Whitney Tory government in Ontario. It has been defeated in every bye-election since the general contest.

Hon. Mr. Fisher stated in parliament Friday night that when the Canadian branch of the royal mint was started it was under contemplation to have Canadian gold coinage of $1, $5 and $10 pieces.

After Mr. Fowler had given his coarse exhibition in parliament last Tuesday, he calmly charged Sir Wilfrid Laurier with being responsible for the tone of the debate. George is a coterie no doubt.

Mr. Foster declared in parliament that he had been hunting up alleged personal scandals against members and supporters of the government—a dignified and laudable occupation for gentleman of his pretensions.

Mr. Foster practically whined in parliament, "please don't touch me, I haven't been doing anything," and the premier, in reply, intimated that the ex-finance minister would have to take his medicine as he was the "most insidious insinuator" in parliament.

Mr. Carvell, M. P., seems to have given Mr. W. H. Bennett, one of the western land dealers, an uncomfortable half hour in parliament.

The Collins murder trial must be gone all over again, and one of the chief witnesses, Father McAulay, is dead. The law provides, however, for the acceptance of his evidence as given at the first trial.

London Ontario Liberals have unanimously re-nominated Hon. C. S. Hyman for the House of Commons, but the minister of public works, owing to ill health, will not be able to take part in the election.

Much regret will be felt at the death of Coun. John C. Murray of Kingsclear, a gentleman who had a large circle of friends in this city and county. His long service in the municipal council made him well known to all classes of people. He was a gentleman of high character and pleasant address, and was faithful in the discharge of his public and private duties.

There are said to be heartburnings among the men who are looking for places on the opposition ticket in this county. The party is divided into two hostile ranks which are watching each other with jealous and suspicious eyes. The rival factions are said to be led by the warden and the St. Mary's physician and the head leaders are alleged to favor the pretensions of the physician, while those who have always stuck to their party sympathize with the warden.

The Forestry Convention having been disposed of, the legislature will be able next week to commence the real business of the session and there will be lots to do. A large amount of legislation is promised and no doubt there will be a great deal of discussion. There always is at the last session of a legislature, members being anxious to place their views before the people in preparation for the general election. The Premier will probably deliver the budget speech next week.

Mr. Crockett M. P., when he stated in parliament that the local opposition carried York in three consecutive general elections, must have known that he was uttering what was untrue. The opposition carried this constituency in 1892 and 1895 when the Pitt's propaganda reached high water mark, but in the general election of 1899 Pitts and his ticket were beaten by nearly 1500 majority, and the Liberal victory was repeated in 1903. Mr. Crockett should make some effort to stick to facts.

BITS OF NEWS.

Fire late Friday night gutted the upper portion of a building on Granville street, Halifax, occupied by offices of the Acadia Powder Co., E. P. Allison, barrister, and the J. C. Wilson Co. All the firms suffered some damage by water, but none of the losses are heavy.

The Royal Bank of Canada is applying to parliament for an increase of its capital to ten million dollars from four millions and an increase in the par value of shares to $100 from $60.

A very sad accident happened at Chatham, Wednesday morning, by which the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barry lost her life. The little one was playing by the stove when her clothing caught fire and before the flames could be extinguished, she was fatally burned and died after four hours' suffering. While removing the burning clothing the child's mother had both arms badly burned.

LAI'D TO REST.

The body of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Segre, who died recently at Warren, Me., arrived here by the noon train yesterday and were taken to New Maryland for interment. Rev. Arthur Ross of McAdam conducted the funeral services and Mr. George W. Adams was the officiating undertaker.

Look out for things that won't bear looking into.

STUDENT'S DEATH.

Joseph McKinnon of Douglastown. Called Away Under Sad Circumstances.

Mr. Joseph McKinnon, a senior student at the Provincial Normal School, died at Orchard's boarding house, Queen street, last evening after a brief illness, brought on by a gripe and complications. The young man was captain of the Normal School basketball team, and on Saturday last, though unwell, took part in two matches at the University gymnasium. It is thought he either sustained internal injuries or over-exerted himself, as he was taken ill soon after returning to his boarding house. Medical aid was summoned and everything possible was done to save his life, but to no purpose. He was an exceptionally clever and promising student, and his untimely death under such sad circumstances is greatly deplored, not only by the teachers and instructors of the Normal School but by the whole community.

The deceased was nineteen years of age and a son of Mr. Colin McKinnon of Douglastown, Northumberland Co. In religion he was a Roman Catholic and the last rites of the church were administered by Rev. Father Carney. The father of the deceased arrived from Douglastown by the I. C. R. express today and will return this evening with the body. The circumstances are greatly deplored, not only by the teachers and instructors of the Normal School but by the whole community.

NECESSARY FOR SICK.

Claim Put Forward by Maine Druggists who want to Sell Liquor.

Augusta, Me., Feb. 22.—A lively hearing was held before the committee on temperance yesterday, druggists' bill, so-called, which would allow apothecaries to sell liquor under certain restrictions. This bill has the endorsement of the Maine Pharmaceutical Association.

The petitioners for the bill claimed that liquor was a necessity in cases of sickness, but if a druggist sold liquor, no matter whether it was for bathing purposes or as a beverage, he was guilty of breaking the laws of the state, and would be liable to a fine and imprisonment.

Representatives Murphy and Tolman and Vose spoke in favor of the bill. The remonstrators contended that if druggists were allowed to sell liquor, their saloon keepers would change their stores into drug stores, and that the law would be violated to a great extent.

DIED IN HIS BERTH

Shocking Discovery made by Pullman Car Porter—Victim was a Nova Scotia Clergyman.

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—When the porter of the east bound Transcontinental train made his rounds yesterday morning as the train neared Ottawa, he found a passenger fully dressed and dead in his berth. It proved to be Rev. F. S. Vance, a Presbyterian clergyman who had a ticket from Calgary to Halifax.

Mr. Vance was recently a minister at New Aberdeen, C. B. He had gone west with the hope of improving his health, and as he was not recovering was returning to his friends. Coronor Baptie found on examination and inquiry that deceased was consumptive and that an inquest was not necessary. The body was forwarded to deceased's old home at Folly Village, Colchester Co., N. S.

(The late Mr. Vance attended Dalhousie College and was a graduate of Pine Hill. He at one time had charge of the Presbyterian church at Lawrencetown.)

A FINE EXHIBIT.

The New Brunswick exhibit for the New York sportsman's show will likely go forward by freight train this evening. Mr. W. H. Allen, the president of the Guides' Association, who is looking after the exhibit, says it is by long odds the best ever taken out of New Brunswick.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—(Special)—The general opinion is that the parliament will prorogue on April 7, two days after Laurier and other ministers have left for the colonial conference.

CATARH CANNOT BE CURED.
