CANADIAN PARLIAMENT

Senate Discussed I. C. R. Provident Bill— Quiet Day in the Commons.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—In the senate yesterday the bill to establish an Intercolonial employees' provident fund was considered in committee. The clause confining the benefits of the act to male employees was held over at suggestion of Senator Loughheed, who did not see why ladies in the service of the road should be deprived of a retiring allowance. Senators Loughheed, McMillen, Power and Ellis doubted if the language of the clause fixing the amount of allowance to be paid would carry out the intention of the government. The clause stood. Senator Robertson gave notice that he would offer an amendment to the medical examination being made by a man having a British certificate or a medical man properly registered in Canada.

Senator Power said he could not see why an employee of the Intercolonial getting the benefit of the civil service superannuation act should be forbidden the benefits of the provident fund act. A man should not be entitled to benefit from both but should have the option of saying to which he should elect to attach himself. This clause stood. The act states employees "discharged for wilful default, misconduct, negligence in the performance of their duties, drunkenness, fraud or dishonesty, and who are not reinstated" shall not benefit from the act. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Senators McMullen and Cloran objected to the words "and are not reinstated" on the ground that they would invite pressure to be put upon the minister of railways to reinstate men who had been dismissed as unsuitable for the service. The clause was held and progress on the bill was reported. The bill granting divorce to O. G.

V. Spain was given its third reading. THE COMMONS.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The commons yesterday had a four hour session, most of which was given to the labor bills and the review of an old story. It was left in the same position that it was found.

The minister of railways told Mr. Lapointe that the Intercolonial motor cars would be ready for use next spring.

R. L. Borden was told by the minister of justice that the government was considering the adoption of a system of intermediate sentences for confined criminals. Mr. Dubeau of Richelieu, called attention to an article in Le Nationaliste, a French weekly in Montreal, which credited him and Mr. Langelot of La Prairie, with saying that Mr. Fielding had shown himself so bigoted on the school question, in the autonomy affair, that they would not support him should he become leader of the Liberal party. He said that there was no truth in the article.

Armand Laverne, M. P. for Montmagny, said that he was the author of the article in question and had received the statements on what he regarded as good authority. However, he was bound to accept Mr. Dubeau's denial of its accuracy. Sir Wilfrid told Mr. Bole that the government had not entered into any agreement with Edward Brown, the Liberal leader, or any one else in Manitoba to grant a portion of the claim to the province for an enlargement of its boundaries. The question of settling the boundary dispute between Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan is still under consideration by the government. The remainder of the sitting was devoted to the labor disputes bill.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION.

Nova Scotia will Have a System in Advance of all Other Provinces.

Halifax, Feb. 28.—Technical education for Nova Scotia upon a broad comprehensive and modern plan is the object of a bill entitled "Technical Education Act," which was introduced in the house of assembly yesterday afternoon by Premier Murray. Outstanding features of the scheme which embraces the most complete system of technical education which is possessed by any province of the Dominion, or any state of the American union, are: 1.—The establishment of central institutions of university grade in the city of Halifax to call "Nova Scotia Institute of Technology" for the purpose of affording instruction and professional training in metallurgical, civil, mining, mechanical, chemical, and electrical engineering, and for the purpose of scientific research. 2.—The establishment of subsidiary technical schools in industrial centres. 3.—Continuation and enlargement of government training schools under direction of the director of technical education. 4.—Appointment of a director of technical education who will be principal of the Nova Scotia Institute of Technology and who will have supervision over the entire system of technical education. In introducing the bill Hon. Mr. Murray emphasized the importance of technical education, outlined the scope of the new system and indicated the lines which would be followed to make the quality of technical and industrial training to be provided in Nova Scotia second to none. The central technical college and the subsidiary local technical schools distributed throughout the province, he said, will establish such a complete system as is possessed by any province in Canada or any state in United States, where universities stand by themselves and the lower industrial schools are manipulated by entirely independent agencies. This system will stimulate our industries and be stimulated by them until they both grow to such magnitude that they shall be another great contribution to our already proud record as a province.

Here is the EXPLANATION

Of the Superiority of Columbia Disc Records.

On January 2, 1907, the United States Court of Appeals handed down three important decisions which not only gave the Columbia Phonograph Co. the control of manufacture of disc records in the United States, but it also pays them an extraordinary tribute to the patented process by which Columbia Records are made.

The superiority of Columbia's of recent make over any other disc record made is admitted by all. You may hear them anytime at
