LAURIER'S RECEPTION.

Quebec and Montreal Have Prepared a Most Enthusiastic Welcome for the Distinguished Canadian Statesman.

Processions, Addresses and Speeches at the Ancient Capital and Commercial Metropolis.

Quebec, July 18.—It is expected that the Empress of Britain, with Premier Laurier on board, will arrive at Grosse Isle at nine o'clock this evening and Quebec an hour later. This will be remarkably fast trip and will of course depend on the weather met with in the Gulf. The first report of her progress came yesterday morning when at 6.20 the steamship passed Pointe-aux-Loup, sixty miles east of the Straits of Belle Isle.

Quebec, July 18.—Should unpropitious weather not intervene, the demonstration which will characterize the return to Canada of its distinguished Premier will unquestionably excel any public event of the kind witnessed for many a day in the ancient capital.

The King's wharf, where the disembarkation will take place, has been profusely decorated, and from there the Premier will be driven to the Chateau Frontenac.

It is, however, during the evening that the public demonstration will take place, for it is then the masses but more especially the electors of Quebec East, where Sir Wilfrid's popularity is as great as it was almost a quarter of a century ago, when they first sent him to represent them in the commons, will have an opportunity of welcoming home and acclaiming one who has shed lustre on the Dominion both at home and abroad.

A triumphal procession in which several thousand prominent residents of the district will participate, will leave the Chateau Frontenac on Friday evening at 7.30 and will conduct Sir Wilfrid Laurier through the upper town and St. Roches to St. Peter's market in St. Sauveur. The route will be resplendent with electrical and other decorations, an impressive and worthy of which will be the inscription with electrical bulbs at various points of striking utterances made by Sir Wilfrid in his notable speeches. Over the platform erected at St. Peter's market will be blazed forth the phrase often repeated by the Premier: "Canada is a nation," while beneath it will appear his effigy and the years "1887-1907."

On arrival at St. Peter's market the Premier will address the immense gathering and will recount his labors in Canada's interest while in Europe. The other speakers will be Hon. Messrs. Lemieux, Paterson and Aylesworth.

The procession will wend its way through the lower town, and Sir Wilfrid will board the Government steamer Frontenac, which will be in waiting for him at the King's wharf, where he will spend the night. Early Saturday morning the vessel will leave for Montreal, where it is expected she will arrive about midday or early in the afternoon.

Montreal, July 18.—The universal enthusiasm of which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is more than ever the object since his commanding services to the empire at the recent Colonial Conference will not lack any appropriate means of expression in the demonstration that will salute his return to his native shore on Saturday evening.

It is arranged that Sir Wilfrid will reach this city at about seven in the evening from Quebec, on the Government steamer Frontenac. He will be accompanied from Quebec by a number of the leading ministers of the Dominion and province. On the way demonstrations will be tendered him at Three Rivers and at Sorel.

At the Victoria Pier at seven on Saturday evening there will be assembled a concourse of civic and Governmental dignitaries such as has seldom been gathered together in this city. Besides the official representatives there will be a turnout of Liberal clubs on an unprecedented scale.

The Reform Club to assemble at the club house at 6.30 on Saturday evening and proceed to the wharf in cabs, there to join with the other Liberal clubs assembled. Mr. U. H. Dandurand has offered the very latest thing in automobiles for the carrying of Sir Wilfrid to City Hall, and thence to the Windsor Hotel. The club accepted this offer, and determined to have the automobile decorated in such a fashion as has never before been seen in this city.

With the Premier's automobile at the focal point, an immense procession will be formed at the pier and will escort the returned statesman to the City Hall. Addresses will then be presented by the city, the Board of Trade and other organizations. It is anticipated that at least fifty will be brought in, but only those of the city and Board of Trade will be read. The Premier and his enthusiastic followers will then proceed amid red fire and sky-rockets, by way of St. Dennis and St. Catherine streets, to the Windsor Hotel.

POTTINGER---REID.

Former Fredericton Lady Wedded to the General Manager of the I. C. R.

Moncton, N. B., July 18.—The nuptials of David Pottinger, general manager of government railways, and Mrs. Mary Louise Reid, daughter of the late William Fisher of Fredericton and widow of the late Fred P. Reid of Moncton, were celebrated at half past seven last evening at Barbary Lodge, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Y. Smith, Highfield street, in the presence of about twenty guests, immediate friends of the bride and groom.

Mr. Smith's residence was beautifully decorated and brilliantly illuminated for the event. The decorations included ferns and daisies and the reception room, had a bower of roses. Rev. E. B. Hooper of St. John, formerly of this city, assisted by Rev. W. B. Sisam, rector of St. George's, officiated. The bride was handsomely crowned in pale blue chiffon broadcloth adorned with large turquoise buttons and wearing a large cream picture hat. She was unattended and was given away by her brother, W. S. Fisher.

Although the most interesting matrimonial event in this city in recent years it was a quiet but pretty affair, being characterized by the greatest simplicity.

The guests present include Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fisher, St. John; Geo. Fisher, Chatham, brothers of the bride; Mrs. and Miss Best, St. John; E. Pottinger, of Boston, cousin of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Allison, Sackville; Miss Doherty, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. O'Dwyer, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Chandler, Mrs. Green, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Botsford, Miss Molly Harris, Misses Dora and Emily Horton, Moncton. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining hall, where a most tempting wedding repast was served.

The I. C. R. general offices and Mr. Pottinger's residence were brilliantly illuminated in honor of the event and fireworks from the top of the general office building added to the gay appearance of the railway building and grounds.

The gifts were a magnificent and elaborate collection of great value. A very large crowd of people, including many leading citizens, had gathered at the depot when the wedding party arrived and Mr. Pottinger and his bride were given a very cordial reception.

Mr. Pottinger and bride traveled in the general manager's private car and the train took its departure amid the cheers of hundreds of people.

THE MURDER CASE.

Preliminary Examination of Tom Davidd Commenced at the Police Court.

WITNESSES GIVE DAMAGING EVIDENCE AGAINST THE ACCUSED.

The preliminary examination of Tom Davidd, the Assyrian charged with having murdered his wife at McAdam Junction on the 8th inst., was begun at the police court this morning before Col. Marsh. The court room was crowded with spectators, and as the weather was rather sultry and ventilation none to good, nobody appeared to derive much enjoyment from the situation. The prisoner occupied a seat on the bench alongside of Sgt. Phillips, and did not seem to take a very lively interest in the proceedings. He has grown quite a beard during his incarceration, and other wise there is no change in his appearance.

Mr. J. H. Barry, K. C., appeared in the interest of the crown and Mr. J. D. Hazen, K. C. for the accused. The testimony of four witnesses was taken this morning in less than an hour and a half.

Mr. J. H. Barry was appointed official stenographer and duly sworn by the police magistrate.

Mr. J. H. Barry said that he thought the prisoner was sufficiently conversant with the English language to enable the services of an interpreter to be dispensed with. As he was represented by counsel, no injustice would result to him.

His Honor expressed the opinion that the prisoner could understand the evidence fairly well.

Mr. Hazen said he would not insist on the appointment of an interpreter, although he did not agree with His Honor that the prisoner could understand the evidence.

Mr. Barry said that the Crown would have an interpreter in attendance at the January court if the case was sent up.

MISS SADIE PORTER, Captain in the Salvation Army at Woodstock, was the first witness examined. She swore that she was on the railway station at McAdam on Monday, July 8th, and saw the prisoner there. She also saw him on the train coming down from Woodstock. There was a woman with him on the train, and they were in opposite seats conversing together. The woman was rather stout, of dark complexion and fairly well dressed.

She afterwards saw the two people together in the station at McAdam. "Ensign Martin was with me," said the witness, "and as we came out of the dining room I saw the prisoner fire a shot at the woman. He was only a few feet away from her at the time I saw the pistol and heard the report. The woman ran towards us, and we passed by the woman. I heard a second shot at that instant, but did not see him shoot. We ran into the toilet room and remained there until Davidd was handcuffed.

Mr. Hazen contended that Mr. Barry was leading the witness, which he said was not right in an important case of this kind. The witness should be asked what she actually saw.

Mr. Barry said he merely wanted to find out if the witness saw the man arrested.

His Honor said that he thought that Mr. Barry's question was quite in order.

Mr. Hazen asked that his objection be noted.

The witness said that she did not see the arrest made, but afterwards saw the prisoner in the custody of Policeman Gardiner.

The witness, continuing, said that after the second shot was fired the woman went out into the public waiting room, and was then taken up stairs by two officials the witness accompanying her. The woman told the witness her name was Davidd.

This statement was objected to by Mr. Hazen, but His Honor admitted it.

The witness undressed the woman and found a wound in the groin. There was quite a lot of blood on her garments, and the corset steel was bent. Dr. Butler was the physician who attended the woman. Witness took the next train to St. John, and did not see the woman afterwards. She positively identified the prisoner as the man who did the shooting.

The witness was briefly examined by Mr. Hazen in regard to the seats occupied by the prisoner and his wife on the train between Woodstock and McAdam.

MISS ETHEL MARTIN, Ensign in the Salvation Army was the next witness examined. She said she was at present stationed at Woodstock. She was at McAdam on July 8th, with Capt. Porter. She saw the prisoner on the train talking to a woman, and afterwards saw them at McAdam. The witness then corroborated Capt. Porter's testimony in regard to the shooting. Mr. Hazen of McAdam was the next witness examined. He swore that on Monday July 8th, he was called to the C. P. R. Hotel McAdam to see a woman who had been shot. She told him her name was Julia Davidd. He found her lying on the bed, and on examining her found a punctured wound on the lower part of the right abdomen. He probed the wound but could find no internal opening. The wound was not bleeding. The wound was blackened slightly at the mouth. He afterwards examined the woman's clothing and found where a corset steel had been looped in the wound and had doubled back. The witness dressed the wound and accompanied the patient to the Woodstock hospital. The patient was examined at the hospital by Drs. Rinkine, Grant, and himself, but they decided that an operation was not then advisable. From the appearance of the wound the witness said he thought it was caused by a bullet.

Mr. Hazen had no questions to ask the witness and he was stood aside after his recognition had been taken.

JAMES F. GARDINER.

C. P. R. policeman at McAdam described the arrest of Davidd, which was made in the A. P. R. waiting room at that place. He first saw the prisoner at McAdam between eight and nine o'clock on the morning of July 8th. He was in the company of a woman and they were conversing in a foreign language. They made enquiries from witness in regard to a train for Lowell. He saw the couple conversing together in the men's waiting room, and saw the woman get up and start for the ladies' waiting room. A moment later witness heard a revolver shot. He hurried to the spot where the couple were and captured Davidd, who had a revolver in his hand.

The witness here produced the revolver which he had taken from the prisoner. It is a 32 calibre, self-cocker, of Harrington and Richardson make, and the six chambers contained four loaded cartridges and two empty shells. It was identified by the witness and placed in the custody of the court.

The witness said that in addition to the revolver he found two razors on the prisoner, a box of cartridges, a knife, a pipe, a purse and some other articles.

Col. Marsh took possession of the revolver and cartridges, and returned the other articles to the prisoner.

In reply to a question by Col. Marsh the witness said the prisoner was a man, whose name he did not know. Power, had hit the prisoner a tap on the side of the head, but did not knock him down. Witness told the man that it was not necessary to hit the prisoner as he was offering no resistance.

The court here took recess until 2.30 p. m.

This afternoon Mr. Owen Kelly, Town Marshall of Woodstock, gave evidence. He told about assisting Dr. Butler to remove Mrs. Davidd from the train at Woodstock after she had been wounded. He did not see her again until after death had ensued.

Mr. Barry stated that the Crown would call five more witnesses, but as none were available he would like an adjournment until next Tuesday.

His Honor granted the adjournment and remanded the prisoner to jail by warrant.

CHARLES BAGELY DEAD.

The death occurred at noon today at his home on St. John street, of Charles Bagley, the fifteen year old son of the late Mr. James Bagley. He was taken down with typhoid fever a short time ago, and while recovering from its effects spinal meningitis set in, resulting in his death. He was a bright and promising youth, and had numerous friends about the city who will be sorry to hear of his untimely death.

Dorothy aged three was to be taken on her first long trip. She seemed most interested when told that she was on a fairy boat. After a few moments her mother noticed a look of disappointment come over her little girl's face. Asking the reason, Dorothy said: "Where are they mother?" "Who?" asked her mother. "Why mother, you told me this was a fairy-boat, and I've looked and looked and can't find a single fairy."

sighed dear little Dorothy.
