(Special correspondence of The Fredericton Daily Herald.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 16.—Mr. Borden has commenced his Ontario speech-making tour, and while the Halifax platform furnishes material for his remarks, he relies almost solely upon vehement denunciations of bribery and corruption, the gravamen of his charges, being directed against the Liberal party.

According to Mr. Borden the Liberals attained to power by dishonest practices, they hold power by debauching the electorate, and must be removed from power before the political atmosphere can be purified.

The Mail and Empire, Toronto, is eloquent in condemning electoral venality and hurls thunderbolts of abuse at the Liberal party for accepting campaign contributions from contractors. The Mail and Empire may be regarded as the leading Conservative newspaper of Canada, referring to this subject, it says:

"It was proven that in order to secure the return of a minister of the crown, the contractors were lined up and forced to contribute money, which was used to buy votes by wholesale."

TORIES' CORRUPTION FUND

Mr. Borden harangues the electors of Canada upon the same lines. He bases his arguments on precisely the same premises and demands that the Conservatives be placed in power to the end that there may be purity in elections, honesty in dealing with the public funds, and economy in the management of national affairs.

What is the Conservative record in this connection? Geo. E. Cartier, writing to Sir Hugh Allan said:

"Dear Sir Hugh: The friends of the government will expect to be assisted with funds in the pending elections; and any amount which you or your company shall advance for that purpose, shall be recouped to you. A memorandum of immediate requirements is below.

Yours very truly,

(Sgd.) GEO. E. CARTIER."

NOW WANTED.

Sir John A. Macdonald...$25,000
Hon. Mr. Langevin...15,000
Sir Geo. E. Cartier...20,000
Sir John A. (add'l)...10,000
Hon. Mr. Langevin (add'l)...10,000
Sir G. E. C...30,000
This is historical and exposes the blatant criminal effrontery of the Conservative party, who did not hesitate to solicit funds for corrupt purposes from a prospective contractor of the government. Sir John A. Macdonald did not hesitate to ask for another $10,000, saying it would be the last time of calling, and the money was to be used for debauching the electorate, and afterwards the public treasury was to be looted that the contractor might be paid. This was an express condition of the contract—all money was to be recouped and there was only one source from which such sums could be recouped, and that the treasury of Canada.

WHEN ILLNESS COMES.

Have you near at hand a remedy that will alleviate pain and help till the doctor comes? A wise thing is to have right in your home a bottle of "Nerviline" which gives instant relief, and prevents disease from spreading. Nothing known for the stomach and bowels that compares with Nerviline. For cramps, indigestion, heartburn and headache, it is indispensable. For fifty years Polson's Nerviline in 25c. bottles has been a family stand-by. Get it today.

TORIES' CORRUPT ELECTIONS.

The Mail alludes in the same article to the West Hastings election, charging that the ballot boxes were fraudulent. Let us consider a parallel case. In the East Hastings election, Mr. Aylesworth, Liberal, defeated Mr. White, a Conservative, by 10 majority. On a recount the trial judge allowed ballots marked with number marked on the backs in one poll where Mr. White had a majority and rejected similar ballots in another poll where Mr. Aylesworth had a majority, giving the seat to White by 22. By this juggling with the ballots, the seat was lost to the Liberals. The method was deadly, and the will of the people was thwarted.

Take the Haldimand case. By one of the most disgraceful incidents of corruption and fraud ever known in Canadian political life, what was considered a safe Liberal seat was reduced to a majority of 13, which was converted into a Conservative majority of 1 on a recount. The trial developed that the seat belonged to the Liberal, he being lawfully elected, but the Conservative wrongfully held it through corrupt means.

In the West Northumberland case, Hargratt, Liberal, was declared duly elected by 36 majority. After this some person tampered with the ballots, and after taking genuine ones, substituted bogus ones, sufficient to lose the Liberal seat. The trial judge refused to give effect to the fraud, thus nullifying the conspiracy.

MR. BORDEN'S HYPOCRISY.

Mr. Borden is going through the country telling the people what happened in his own case at Halifax last election. It is alleged that such corrupt methods were employed to secure Mr. Borden's election that should the matter ever come to trial the evidence would be efficient, not only to unseat, but to disqualify the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Borden was defeated at the polls, but this fact would have no bearing upon the question of qualification.

MR. BORDEN'S INCONSISTENCY.

Mr. Borden cannot advance any claim to consideration on the presumption that under his administration politics will be cleansed. He is charged with corrupt methods in attempting to secure his own election in Halifax, and the trial has been postponed with his consent. He accepts the services of Geo. E. Foster, as an advocate of the cause of purity, while knowing that Mr. Foster has been condemned by a Royal Commission, for juggling with trust funds—and Mr. Foster, in a prospective member of any cabinet which Mr. Borden would form. He accepts the services of Messrs. Fowler and Lefurgey, who, upon a former occasion, accompanied him on a political tour and who improved the opportunity of speculating in land with the active assistance of certain exalted railway officials whose dealings with members of Parliament were of an extensive character.

MR. BORDEN CONTRADICTS GRAHAM.

The letter which Mr. Graham, of the Montreal Star, says Mr. Borden wrote him has but one meaning. It was a clear indication to the man who was finding the money that he should so dispose of it that it could not be followed. Why all this secrecy unless the funds were for dishonest purposes? Everybody knows there are legitimate party and proper campaign expenses. Then why conceal the destination of the funds? Why fear publicity? Mr. Borden is a politician, also an eminent lawyer, and he knew what process was safe, and he gave the benefit of his advice. It is interesting in this connection to note that the owner of the great Conservative paper, the Montreal Star, says one thing, and the leader of the Conservative party gives his statement a categorical denial. It reminds one of the old adage, "When thieves fall out, honest men come by their own."

ELECTORS ARE NOT FOOLISH.

To hand over the government of Canada to the Conservatives would be tantamount to entrusting a flock of sheep to a pack of wolves. While the Conservatives were in power they were not only guilty of every form of political rascality, but they spent millions more each year than Canada had coming in, with the result that a huge public debt was imposed on the people under the burden of which the country has labored to this moment.

THEIR WORKS CONDEMN

Under Conservative government there was flagrant electoral corruption, imbecility in the management of the national finances, and criminal extravagance in public expenditure.

Grafting, so loudly denounced by Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster, was a science under Conservative rule. Charges are made against the Liberals that they showed favoritism in the granting of timber limits. Under the Liberal government limits were put up by auction and went to the highest bidder. Under the Conservatives, in the case of Rykert, who afterwards became the standard bearer of the Lincoln Tories, the agent who examined the timber was bribed with $10,000 to give a false report. The government sold the limits to Rykert for $2,500, and Rykert sold them for $200,000. Rykert described this transaction as a fund for his old age, and announced his intention of going in for something better.

Messrs. Borden and Foster tell the people that government contracts are not given by tender. The answer given in the House proved that work was often done at much lower rates than the lowest tenderer was willing to take it at. The Conservative method was to give the work to the highest tenderer, and make it a condition that large sums should be donated to the campaign fund. In the Cross Wall contract the Conservative Government gave the work to the firm bidding $700,000 higher than another contractor was willing to do the work, and secured a campaign contribution of $25,000. In the Esquimaux Dock case the contractors made $240,979, and gave back $27,000 to the Conservative campaign fund. The Curran Bridge scandal cost
