

ROMANCE OF PEERAGE AND THE STAGE.

Action for Divorce Against Lord Rosslyn—Peer's Secret Marriage with American Actress.

London Daily Mail: An action for divorce has been "called" in the court of session, Edinburgh, by the Countess of Rosslyn against her husband, the Earl of Rosslyn, who is described as living at the Rue Picot, Paris.

Lord Rosslyn's career presents several remarkable features. Though not yet forty years of age, this is his second appearance in the Scottish Divorce Courts. His first wife, a beautiful woman, was the youngest daughter of Mr. Robert de Grey Vyner, of Gauthby Hall, Lincolnshire. After seven years she left him and came to live in a separate establishment at her own in London. Then, on the ground of desertion, he obtained in 1902 dissolution of the marriage.

Three years later, March 1905, he married Miss Anna Robinson, a well-known American, who is now, after a little more than two years, seeking a divorce from him.

Lord Rosslyn is a brother of the Duchess of Sutherland and a half-brother of the Countess of Warwick.

SPENT £25,000 A YEAR.

In the same year, 1890, that this Scottish nobleman succeeded to the valuable family estates at the age of twenty-one, Miss Anna Robinson came from Minneapolis, where her father was living, to go on the stage of Mr. Charles Frohman's theatre in New York. They accordingly set out upon life simultaneously. A most striking journey it has been for each.

The young nobleman, living most extravagantly, rapidly threw away the hereditary property. He was spending £25,000 a year. At horse racing and at cards he lost heavily. When the estates came to him from his father, they were encumbered to the extent of £30,000. Within eight years he increased the encumbrance to £140,000. He owed the late Sam Lewis, the millionaire money lender, at one time £145,000. At the end of the first ten years he was in the bankrupt court, with liabilities (including the money lenders' accounts) of £166,000.

FOUGHT IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Then, Lord Rosslyn taking the name of plain Mr. James Erskine, tried to earn his living—first trying unsuccessfully to become city clerk, then being an actor, a journalist, a lieutenant in Thorneycroft's Horse in the South African war, and the operator in a much talked of scheme to break the bank at Monte Carlo.

Meanwhile, Miss Anna Robinson blossomed into a radiant beauty, magnificently dressed, acting at occasional periods, and ultimately settling in Paris, where Reutlinger's charming photographs showed her style to perfection. Then she came to London, her introduction to the stage here, in September, 1905 being in the part of a rich American widow at the Criterion, and she made her residence at 11 Norfolk street, Park Lane.

From here she drove to church on Monday, March 20, 1905, for the secret marriage with Lord Rosslyn. Only the officiating clergyman and the necessary witnesses were present.

IN DIMITY OR LAWN.

Many pretty new frocks are appearing for small maidens in the dimities and muslins which are so unusually dainty this year. Here is one having box pleats in the waist and attached to a full gathered skirt. The neck outline is becoming as well as the bertha which lends a broad shoulder line and pleasing adornment. A small flowered dimity develops the dress with narrow Valenciennes insertion and edging for trimming. A soft ribbon sash may girdle the waist or the joining of the waist and skirt may be finished with a band of insertion. The medium size calls for 4 yards of 44 inch material.

Woman is often referred to by man as "doubling his joys and halving his sorrows." That may be complimentary but it would seem to be rather hard on the woman. For in plain terms it means that where things are going well with the man his wife makes them go better. But when things are going ill with him, he expects the wife to share half his burden. And there is more truth than poetry in this presentation of masculine selfishness. Men don't appreciate the fact that the strain of motherhood alone is a burden heavier than all the loads that rest upon male shoulders. They see the wife grow thin, pale and nervous and worn without a thought that she is letters received by Dr. Pierce's are those from husbands who have waked up before it was too late to the crushing burdens laid upon the wife, and in the search for help have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a restorative which has given back to the mother the health of the maiden and the maiden's happiness. "Favorite Prescription" always helps, and almost always cures. It has perfectly cured ninety-eight out of every hundred women who have used it when afflicted with diseases peculiar to women.

Father-in-law—Now, my dear son-in-law, tell me honestly whether you are satisfied with my daughter.

Son-in-law—My dear Herr Schmidt, I have nothing at all to complain of—except, perhaps, that you didn't throw me out when I asked for her hand in marriage.

BAD BURN QUICKLY HEALED.

"I am so delighted with what Chamberlain's Salve has done for me that I feel bound to write and tell you so," says Mrs. Robert Mytton, 457 John St., Hamilton, Ontario. "My little daughter had a bad burn on her knee. I applied Chamberlain's Salve and it healed beautifully." This salve allays the pain of a burn almost instantly. It is for sale by all dealers.

A good story of Dryden's autobiography is told. At a recent sale of old books and curios the auctioneer said: "This book, gentlemen, is especially valuable as it contains a marginal note in the handwriting of John Dryden. Five pounds offered. Going—going—gone. It is yours, sir."

The autograph marginal note by the renowned scholar was as follows: "This book is not worth the paper it is printed on."

Angler's Paradise.

New Fishing Grounds to be Opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific Next Year.

Mr. H. R. Charlton, of the Grand Trunk, has discovered a sportsman's paradise, where the delights of the angler never fail of realization. This is at La Tuque, on the National Transcontinental Railway from which he has just returned with substantial evidence of the piscatorial wealth of the waters. The trip which was undertaken for the purpose of inspecting the property which was secured by lease from the Quebec government for the Saginaw Fishing and Hunting Club, composed of a number of Montreal gentlemen.

Mr. Charlton was accompanied by Mr. J. W. Swan, the artist photographer of the Grand Trunk, and by Mr. E. T. D. Chambers, a writer on fish and game subjects. The party proceeded by canoe up the Lacoché river, one of the tributaries of the St. Francis. They found the lakes and rivers of the region abounding in speckled trout. In fact speckled trout were the only fish, but the waters were simply bubbling with them—the average size being from 3½ to 4 pound. In fact, anything less than a pound in weight was thrown back. The territory is also alive with moose and caribou, Mr. Charlton says.

The finest part of this region—Lake Kennedy, is only six miles from the Grand Trunk Pacific line, which will be opened there next year.

A Veteran's Story—George Lewis, of Shamokin, Pa., writes: "I am eighty years of age. I have been troubled with Catarrh for fifty years and in my time have used a great many catarrh cures, but never had any relief until I used Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. One box cured me completely." 50 cents—Sold at Central Pharmacy, A. J. Ryan—25.

American Regard for Women.

Toward women the American man's attitude is fine. She is neither his deity nor his doll. He simply treats her with deference. His chivalry has as little to do with saccharine utterances, scraping feet and bended knees as has his patriotism with hysterical shriekings and the waving of ensanguined flags.—Lippincott's.

One's Point of View.

"I liked that play we saw last night because it has a happy ending."

"Why, man, the husband in it terrorizes his wife into trembling and silent submission and ends by killing his mother-in-law!"

"I said it had a happy ending."

ARE YOU SUBJECT TO STIFF NECK.

Perhaps it is in the neck or shoulder. First thing is a good rub with Eerviline. No more speedy remedy can be adopted. When applied to the muscles Nerviline gives them flexibility and vigor; inflammation, soreness and stiffness disappear. "Whether in the chest or throat nothing can surpass Nerviline," writes O. B. Denton, Lumber Merchant at Oak Bay N. B. "Rubbed on at night, trouble is gone by morning. I have proved Nerviline a great medicine." Every one says the same, and Nerviline always makes good, 25 cent bottle sold everywhere.
