WELCOME HOME

Sir Wilfrid Returns in Triumph from His European Trip in Excellent Health and Spirits.

SPLENDID RECEPTION AT QUEBEC.

Explosion of Rockets and Guns Marked the Progress of the Premier up the St. Lawrence.

Quebec, July 19.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived back in Canada last night on the Empress of Britain at half past ten and was accorded a reception that quite put in the shade all previous demonstrations to welcome a returning premier.

There was however, one great change between Sir Wilfrid's present homecoming and his return from the coronation festivities four years ago. Then the Canadian Premier came back apparently broken in health. Last night Sir Wilfrid appeared smiling and happy, browned by the Atlantic breezes and evidently full of healthy energy. Indeed not for four years has he looked so well.

Although the Empress of Britain made so rapid a trip that the Premier arrived some hours before he was expected there was an enormous crowd at the docks to welcome him, many members of the cabinet being here while there were strong delegations from both Dominion and Provincial parliaments.

Sir Wilfrid's reception really started at Grosse Isle, where the government steamers Druid, Lady Aberdeen, Frontenac, Lady Grey, Strathcona and the ferryboat Polariset met him, loaded with members of parliament and representatives from all over eastern Canada.

The program was a good deal mixed up owing to the surprisingly early appearance of the Empress of Britain. It had been intended to take Sir Wilfrid at Grosse Isle on the Lady Grey, but this was found impossible at the last moment, so the Premier and his party came up to the ancient capital on the Empress. There were really two receptions to the Premier.

An immense crowd had gathered at the breakwater, when the reception committee, ministers and members of parliament, boarded the Empress and welcomed Sir Wilfrid home. The band of the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery was on the dock and played a series of national airs at the big boat pulled in.

As soon as preliminary formalities were over Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with Lady Laurier, Madame Brodeur, Miss Melvin Jones and other members of the premier's party were transferred to the government steamer Lady Grey which conveyed them, with a big crowd of admirers of the premier, to the King's wharf, where a second welcome awaited Sir Wilfrid.

On reaching the Chateau Frontenac, Sir Wilfrid spent some time in the rotunda meeting his friends, with an animation and evident pleasure that delighted everybody.

It was very evident that the trip to England, if it did nothing else, had greatly improved the Premier's health, and he was warmly congratulated by all on his improved looks.

The real formal welcome to the Premier will occur this evening, when a big demonstration, winding up with an open air meeting and speeches, will be held.

Sir Wilfrid remained at the Chateau Frontenac all day, meeting his friends and this evening at 8 o'clock a big procession will form up at the Chateau and proceed to the St. Peter's Market, where a platform has been erected, at which Sir Wilfrid and other members of the Dominion and provincial governments will speak.

Amongst those who met Sir Wilfrid last night were Hon Messrs Patterson, Aylesworth, Lemieux and Templeman, while the reception ceremonies were looked after by Hon. Jacques Bureau, Solicitor General. Practically the whole Quebec legislature was present while scores of members of the Dominion house from Ontario and Quebec and the maritime provinces were on hand, including Premier Robinson of New Brunswick and F. B. Carvell M. P. for Carleton.

On Saturday morning Sir Wilfrid and his party will start for Montreal on the Lady Grey, stopping at Three Rivers and Sorel, where brief demonstrations will be held. The party will arrive at Montreal early on Saturday evening.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

All Quebec was out to Welcome the Premier.

Quebec, July 19.—(Special)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is back in Canada in unusually good health and his return was the occasion of a demonstration of remarkable enthusiasm from all shades of political opinion.

All Quebec was afoot and the steamers Druid and Frontenac, which went down river to meet the Empress, wharf up the gaily lighted streets to crowded to the rails.

Signs of welcome were visible to passengers on the Empress as far down as Grosse Isle. Flashes and booms detonated saluting guns, bonfires blazed and rockets shot high in the air. The Empress responded with rockets and many calls of her weird siren whistle.

This was but the beginning of the demonstration and it grew more and more enthusiastic as the vessels passed up river to the ancient capital, where the docks were crowded and the home-coming Premier passed through cheering crowds from King's Street to the Chateau Frontenac.

The Premier was affable and readily consented to receive a representative of The Herald, but the suggestion that the topics of conversation should reach beyond small talk and generalities received scant consideration at the hands of Sir Wilfrid.

"This special occasion," Sir Wilfrid returning to Canada, after such a trip as you have had, seems to invite some word from you." The force of this did not appeal to Sir Wilfrid, who replied:

"If I have anything to say, doubtless there will be many sufficient opportunities presented to me."

This was his final word on that matter.

"Oh yes I am in excellent health," answered Sir Wilfrid, when asked a question as to his health.

"It has been a pleasant voyage not altogether in weather, indeed there has been plenty of mist and fog, but it has been a restful trip. I am a very poor sailor, but I seem to have fared better on this voyage than at any other time."

"There has been some sharp criticism of the All-Red route by London weeklies, such as the Spectator and Nation, these publications holding that subsidies would result in discrimination was suggested." At this the premier smiled.

"Don't you think it was the policies of these papers that led to criticism," he was asked, but that was the beginning and the end of his remarks upon the proposal to run a service which would connect England and Australia by way of Canada.

ST. JOHN COUPLE INJURED.

Among those injured in the Reid building collapse on Tuesday at London, Ontario, were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peters, of St. John, who are both suffering from broken legs. Mr. Peters has a compound fracture, while Mrs. Peters has a simple fracture of one leg. They were in Brewster's store when the crash came. Baby Hazel Peters, is not seriously injured, being bruised slightly about the head.

MOOSEPATH RACES.

Burling, the speedy gelding owned by Mr. A. B. Kitchin, was an easy winner of the 2.18 event in the Moosepath races yesterday. His best time was 2.21. Lady Paton of the Springfield stables was second. Mauderite, owned by Gallagher Bros., of Woodstock, won the forty class and Fred Duncanson's Laura Merrill, the 2.35 class. Little Don of this city was distanced in the last named event.

A SOLDIER DROWNED

Private Charles Smith of this City Lost His Life at Petewawa.

A telegram from Petewawa Camp Ontario, last evening conveyed the sad intelligence of the death by drowning of Private Charles Smith, a Fredericton man belong to H. Company of the Royal Canadian Regiment. No particulars were given other than the statement that he was accidentally drowned, but the press despatches today state that he lost his life while bathing.

The unfortunate young man was a son of Mr. Robert Smith, who was for many years a resident of Doak Settlement, but who now resides in Wilmut's alley. He was nineteen years of age and unmarried. He joined No. 4 Company of the R. C. R. nearly four years ago, and completed his term of service after the company had been transferred to Halifax. In March last he returned to Fredericton and enlisted in H. Company. He went to Sussex with his corps four weeks ago, and from there proceeded to Petewawa.

Mr. Smith received the news of his son's tragic death last evening and seems to be much broken up over the affair. Some years ago it will be remembered, a two year old child of Mr. Smith's strayed from his home at Doak Settlement, and although a diligent search was kept up for days no trace of him could be found. Until this day the mystery remains unsolved.

The remains of Private Smith were interred at Petawawa today with military honors.

SIMMONS—PICKARD.

Nuptials of a Popular Couple Well and Favorably Known in Fredericton and Vicinity.

The following from the Boundary Creek Times of Greenwood, B. C., June 12 will interest many Herald readers:

The home of Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Simmons was the scene of an interesting event yesterday, when Mr. Stanley Dow Simmons and Miss Eleanor Mildred Pickard, both of Fredericton, N. B., were united in marriage by Rev. Forbes J. Rutherford, of the Methodist church.

The groom is a brother of Dr. Simmons and the bride a sister of Mrs. Simmons, with whom she has been visiting for the past seven months.

It is picturesque to say that the bride looked charming in a robe of lace over satin and carrying a bouquet of white carnations.

The Simmons home was profusely decorated with flowers and flowering plants for the occasion.

After a sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of, the bridal couple was escorted to the Canadian Pacific west bound, by the guests, immediate friends of the family.

For her journey the bride wore a travelling dress of blue venetian, with turban to match.

After a trip to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will return to Fredericton, where Mr. Simmons is an official court reporter.

VISITING ST. JOHN.

Sun: H. C. Rutter, chief of the Fredericton Fire Department is in the city on a business trip and is getting the glad hand from numerous friends. W. S. Hooper, secretary of the Fredericton Exhibition Association is also in the city making good his short stay in booming the big show at the capital in September.

THE BRIDGE PIERS.

Mr. T. C. Brewer of Woodstock who has the contract for the substructure for two steel spans of the Fredericton highway bridge, is arranging to begin work as soon as the water falls sufficiently to enable him to do so. He will complete the work during the winter season.

HOUSE DESTROYED.

A dwelling house at Little River Sunbury County, belonging to Mr. Harry Bailey of Gibson was burned to the ground on Tuesday last.

MARRIED.

On the 17th. inst by Rev. John C. Berrie at the residence of the bride's parents, Central Kingsclear Samuel, second son of Isobad Aallagher, to Laura daughter of Isaac K. Good.

At Fredericton, N. B., July 17, by Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Mr. James Evan Saunders, of the Parish of Douglas, to Miss Margaret Appleby Pringle, of the Parish of Stanley.

The testimony of a man with practical knowledge of horses, will be accepted in preference to the ravings of a partisan newspaper—and the opinion of Mr. William McFarlane, of Nashwaakiss with respect to the recent government importation of Clydesdales is that they are the finest lot of animals of that breed ever brought into the province.

The Halifax Chronicle trots out an enormous roster in exulting attitude over the great Liberal victory in the Hants local by-election. The Chronicle, itself, did a great deal towards achieving this notable victory.

A genius is one who knows just how to conserve and increase the heat that generates in the stolen fires of intellect.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements of People in whom our Readers are Interested.

Mr. D. F. Maxwell, C. E., of the transcontinental railway staff is among the guests at the Queen today. Mrs. W. H. Reid and Miss Reid of Missoula, Montana, are guests at the Queen today.

Chatham World: Dr. Phillip Cox and children went to Mauderville last week where they will spend the summer. Dr. and Mrs. Cox have made many friends in Chatham who deeply regret their removal.

Truro Sun: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rowley, of Kingston, Jamaica, arrived at Elmhurst, Truro, last evening, where they will remain for two or three months visiting Senator and Mrs. McKay.

Where All Are Interested.

A significant evidence of Scotch good sense is afforded by the signs on the chairs and benches in the Glasgow parks, "Protect your property," thus reminding each citizen that he is part owner and has interests which he must care for.

Felt Hats.

Felt hats were first made by a Swiss in Paris in 1404.

Talc Quarries.

One of the largest talc quarries in the world is in the St. Barthelemy mountain, Luzenac. The best rock is brilliantly white and has a greasy touch when powdered.

Good Advice to Follow.

Somebody gives the following antithetical advice: "Drink less, breathe more; eat less, chew more; ride less, walk more; clothe less, bathe more; worry less, work more; waste less, give more; write less, read more; preach less, practice more."

Gold Lace.

One ounce of gold will cover more than a hundred miles of silver wire used for making gold lace.

Frogs and Toads.

Frogs and toads have remarkably acute hearing. The slightest noise in the vicinity of a pond will at once attract the attention of the frogs and put them on their guard.

Birth Superstitions.

Among the Vosges peasant children born at the new moon are supposed to have tongues better hung than others while those born at the last quarter have better reasoning powers. A daughter born during the waxing moon is always precocious.

Meat and Moon Rays.

In hot countries meat exposed to the direct rays of the moon putrefies much more rapidly than if kept in the dark.

Herrings Help the Brain.

A medical authority on the virtues of various kinds of food declares that the herring gives the muscles elasticity, the body strength and the brain vigor and is not dash forming.

Royal Titles.

The kings and queens of England were not always styled "his" or "her" majesty or after the pattern of that bestowed upon Victoria. "her most gracious majesty." Henry IV. was styled "his grace." Henry VII. "his most excellent grace;" Edward IV. "high and mighty prince;" Henry VII. "his grace and his majesty;" Henry VIII. "his highness" and afterward "his majesty." Subsequently the English kings were styled "his sacred majesty."
