PLAY TIME NOW.

Teachers and Pupils of the City Schools Released From Their Duties.

INTERESTING EXERCISES AT THE CLOSING OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS.

High School Students Presented Attractive Program. The Prize Winners.

(For Honor Certificate winners see elsewhere.)

The public closing of the city schools today for the summer holidays after a most successful half year's work. Fine weather graced the occasion and the attendance of visitors was somewhat larger than usual. In all the departments the exercises were of a most interesting character and the pupils acquitted themselves in a manner creditable alike to themselves and their energetic and competent teachers. The citizens of Fredericton tax themselves liberally for the support of their schools, and probably no city or town in Canada derives more substantial results from the money expended. The city at the present time has well equipped and up to date school buildings, an efficient staff of teachers, and a progressive board of trustees.

Nobody begrudges the teachers and pupils the eight weeks holidays on which they have entered, and it is to be hoped that they will take advantage of the excellent opportunities this section of the province offers for recreation and enjoyment, and that they will benefit both mentally and physically by the change.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Closing Exercises Attracted Large Crowd and Were Very Successful.

The public closing exercises of the High School took place in the Assembly Hall of the York Street School building and were the most successful in several years. The hall was artistically decorated presenting an inviting appearance. A huge star worked in the national colors loomed up in the centre of the ceiling and miniature flags together with the motto of the school were displayed on the walls. The work was done by the pupils of the tenth grade and shows unmistakably that they have an eye for the beautiful.

Sheriff Sterling, of the Board of Trustees, presided very acceptably over the gathering and had on the platform with him besides the members of the teaching staff, Revs. Willard Macdonald, Father Carney Jones, Principal Bridges, John Weddall H. H. Hagerman and others. The members of the graduating class, twenty in all filed into the hall and took seats reserved for them in the front row. The young ladies were costumed in white and looked very cheerful as well as attractive and hopeful.

The program commenced with a chorus entitled "The High School," which was rendered in a most creditable manner.

Principal Foster then made a brief address dealing with the work of the school during the term, and was most attentively listened to.

Another chorus entitled "The Red Scarf," followed after which Principal Foster presented the certificates won during the term. "The Lost Chord," one of Sir Arthur Sullivan's master pieces, came next and was followed by a recitation rendered in French by Miss Gwendoline McAdam in a manner which won great applause.

Robert Rush was the class prophet and his address was most creditable, production, provoking great laughter and applause. He paid his respects to each member of the graduating class in turn and quite naturally intimated that the future had great things in store for them.

Miss Lillian Corbett delivered the valedictory address for the graduating class and discharged the duty in a manner which showed great cleverness on her part. It was a fine address, was exceedingly well delivered and won very hearty and well deserved applause from both students and spectators.

At the conclusion of the valedictory the students rendered "Alma Mater" in chorus after which the presentation of prizes took place.

PRIZE PRESENTATIONS.

Chancellor Jones presented the Douglas medal to Miss Thomas and in doing so heartily congratulated her upon the success she had achieved. He spoke highly of the school and expressed the hope that the members of the graduating class would enter the U.N.B.

Principal Bridges was called upon to present the governor-general's bronze medal to Miss Thomas and discharged the pleasant duty most acceptably. He had a good word to say for the Fredericton high school and its competent staff of teachers and closed with words of advice to the pupils.

Mr. George A. Inch, in a neat speech, presented the mathematical prize to Clarence P. Steeves. This young man also won the Coulthard memorial and received the prize at the hands of Sheriff Sterling. The Sheriff took occasion to congratulate the winner on being a Sunbury county boy and expressed the hope that he would be a worthy successor to the great men his native country had given to the province.

Rev. Father Carney presented the prize for French to Miss Lillian Corbett, and in doing so took occasion to commend the study of French in the schools. While Canada, he said, was an English-speaking country, French constituted an important element and a person who had a knowledge of both languages possessed a distinct advantage.

Rev. Willard Macdonald, after delivering an eloquent and witty speech dealing with various topics and pregnant with good advice for the students, presented the history prize to Edward Hanning.

The prize for the student having the highest general average was presented to Miss Ruth A. Cassidy by Rev. Canon Cowie.

City Clerk McCready, who is an old time school teacher, presented the prize for the highest average in Class C to Arthur Carter. The prizes in Class C for the best literature books were presented to the winners, Miss Evelyn Carten and Purves Loggie by Mr. H. H. Hagerman in an appropriate speech. Rev. Canon Cowie delivered the address to the graduating class and his remarks were followed with the closest attention. He took for his text the words "accuracy," "thrift," and "celerity," and urged the students to let these words be their motto all through life. In the course of his remarks the rector referred to the time when he attended the old collegiate school here, and incidentally mentioned that he had been fortunate enough to carry off the Deane medal on that occasion. In closing, he heartily congratulated students and teachers on the success of the closing exercises.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem. Mr. Frank Harrison played the piano accompaniments for the choruses.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

In the departments of the York street school taught by Misses Thompson, Vandine, McCann, Burt, Everett and Currie the examinations were of the usually interesting character. The work of the term was reviewed and in several of the grades programs of music and recitations were carried out. Among the visitors were noticed the following:

Mr. A. H. Hagerman, Mr. W. J. Scott, Mrs. J. Dolan, Mrs. J. J. Weddall, J. W. McCready, Mrs. C. A. Robinson, Miss Mina Read, D. A. Everett, E. A. Inch, Miss Winnie Everett, Miss Nina Clements, Mrs. E. Clarke, Miss Grace Hazen, Miss May Dolan, Miss Sadie Waycott, A. D. Thomas, Miss Gertrude Coulthard, Mrs. T. G. Loggie, Miss Sterling and others.

MODEL SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of the model school were as usual very entertaining and the pupils acquitted themselves in most efficient manner. The list of visitors included Dr. Creed, Mrs. A. R. Wetmore, Mrs. O. H. Sharp, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. A. B. Kitchen, Mrs. Harry Walker, Mrs. G. W. Adams, Mrs. R. B. Adams, Mrs. A. S. Murray, Mrs. J. F. VanBuskirk, Miss Vera VanBuskirk, Mrs. A. E. Masie, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tennant, Mrs. R. B. H. Phillips.

In Principal Page's department the pupils were examined on the work of the term and a short musical program was carried out. Prof. Cadwallader played the accompaniments on the organ. Some very excellent blackboard drawings were shown.

In Miss Richardson's department a program of readings and choruses was carried out and the subjects taught during the term were reviewed. Miss Richardson is a most painstaking teacher and is held in high esteem by her pupils.

In Miss Harvey's department the drawings of wild flowers shown on the blackboard reflected great credit upon the pupils and were very much admired. The pupils were examined in the subjects taught during the term and carried out a short program of songs and readings. The following made a record of perfect attendance during the term:

M. Lemon, G. Adams, M. Hawthorn, J. Kitchen, V. Millar, C. Olmstead, D. Stevenson, M. Smith, H. Vanwart, R. Wilcox.

The primary grade of the model school was taught during the term by Miss Edna Goiding, B. A., with marked success. Although there has been considerable sickness among the pupils the average attendance has been good. An excellent program was carried out this morning and proved very interesting to the spectators. The little tots seemed to enter heartily into the spirit of the occasion and came in for many compliments. The following were never absent or tardy: Harold Sharpe, Gordon Boyd, Gordon Osborne and George Tennant.

REGENT STREET SCHOOL.

The closing exercises in the different departments of the Regent street school took place this morning and were of interesting nature.

The pupils were put through a review of the term's work and the manner in which they acquitted themselves reflected much credit upon themselves as well as on their painstaking and efficient teachers.

The rooms were nicely decorated and the blackboard work shown was of an excellent character. The chief interest centred in Principal Hughes' room, where the older pupils were located, but the work in the departments presided over by Sister Clarice, Sister Estelle and Miss Rose Davis was also the subject of much favorable comment.

The visitors present included Rev. Fathers Carney and Hannigan, Principal Bridges, Dr. Atherton, Misses Neville, Mrs. W. G. Clark, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Gallagher, Mrs. D. J. Shea, Mrs. J. H. Barry, Mrs. Kelley, J. T. Sharkey, J. D. Black, J. L. Neville and others.

The list of those who captured certificates will be found elsewhere in this issue.

BRUNSWICK STREET SCHOOL.

The little tots in the Brunswick Street school were examined in printing, numbers and other primary branches. They were bright and answered all questions promptly.

The room was neatly decorated and some neat work done by the little pupils were exhibited.

The visitors here were Father Carney, Mrs. Lynch, Mrs. Lawlor, Mrs. Grannen, Mrs. Cain and others.

The teacher, Sister Evelyn was congratulated on the excellent condition of her school.

CHARLOTTE STREET SCHOOL.

The closing exercises at Charlotte street school this morning attracted many visitors and were of a very interesting character. The early part of the forenoon was taken up with a review of the work of the term and after recess the pupils, excepting those in the primary department, were assembled in Principal Perry's class-room where a very interesting program was carried out.

Principal Perry was lately granted a years leave of absence by the Board of School Trustees in order that he might take a post graduate course at Harvard University. His pupils felt that they could not let the occasion pass with expressing some form the high esteem in which they hold their principal, so during the exercises this morning made him the recipient of a beautiful silk umbrella and an address.

Master Stewart Atkinson read the address and Miss Louise Sterling made the presentation. Principal Perry returned thanks in a few appropriate remarks.

The honor certificates won during the term were presented to the winners by Mr. R. B. Wallace, Secretary Sampson made the presentations at the York street and Model Schools, while Mrs. Lynch discharged this pleasant duty at the Regent Street school.
