WILD ANIMALS ROAM UNAFRAID.

The Great Plateau North of the Zambesi and Southwest of Lake Nyassa.

June 26.—A correspondent of The Field thus describes the great plateau north of the Zambesi and southwest of Lake Nyassa in its spring aspect:

A green carpet overspreads the veldt as if by magic, and the earth smells of the life and moisture with which it is impregnated. The days become cool and the heat haze gives place to a clearness of atmosphere which is unrivalled even on the South African veldt.

Go on to the top of a kopje and drink in the view. As far as the eye can reach is a vast sea of low forest, broken by conical hills standing like sentinels above the surrounding plain, and by open glades, or "dambos" whose grass presents the most vivid green one can imagine in nature.

DENIZONS OF THE COUNTRY.

Now for the denizons of the country.

Natives there are few; some tiny draals at long intervals in the forest. Not so the wild animals. Slowly work their way down on open park, a herd of zebra and haartbeest meander, noses to the ground, greedily cropping the tender grass shoots, tails busily switching off the flies which cluster round them.

Warthogs scurry to and fro, tearing up the fresh green clods in their search for succulent roots. They always seem busy, these warthogs. A hurried scamper out of the forest into the open, and all are hard at it, nosing up the soft earth; shen, without apparent rhyme or reason, tails up in in the air, off they scamper to another part to repeat the process.

A SKULKING LION.

Suddenly the antelopes becomes alarmed; heads up for a moment, a hasty sniff around, the danger scented, a noisy clatter of hoofs, and they are off. The cause of it? Perchance a lion skulking in the neighboring cover, or, if you are quick, a roan or haartbeest galloping full tilt across the glade, head thrown back, nostrils dilated, eyes wide with terror, foam flecks on the foreflanks, a packs of hunting dogs in close pursuit the white splash on their bushy tails marking the rhyme of their headlong gallop. Nature is here unspoiled. No bullock waggons, with swearing drivers, and indiscriminate slaughter of the country's game by their owners. The great tsetse belt to the south takes care that. The South African has yet to come.

Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time.)" Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescriotion in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent. Not a "patent medicine" because all its ingredients are printed on the bottle-wrapper.

P. T. Powers, the President of the National Association of Baseball Leagues, was talking in New York about the business management of baseball.

"Baseball," he said, "must be managed liberally. There must be no niggardliness. Otherwise a deadening unpopularity and a great kick ensues. He who tries to conduct the baseball business pawnshop lines gets hourly such reproofs as fell to a tobacconist the other day. A newsboy walked into the tobacconist's shop and asked for a light for his cigarette.

"We sell light here sonny," said the tobacconist.

"The boy took out a cent. "All right boss" he said. "Let's have a box of matches, then."

"He paid for the matches, extracted one, lighted his cigarette, and, closing the box, handed it back to the tobacconist.

"Put this on the shelf," he said "and the next gent what asks for a light, give him one on me."

JUMPING WITH NERVE PAIN.

That's how you feel with neuralgia. But why lie awake at night, grumble or complain—get busy with a bottle of Nerviline. It does act like magic, seeks out the pain and destroys it. Harmless and certain, instant in effect, nothing is so popular as Nerviline for aches and pains of all kinds. Try it for lumbago, test it in rheumatism, prove it in neuralgia, pleurisy or colds. You'll soon acknowledge that Polson's Nerviline beats them all Sold everywhere in large 25c. bottles.

Permanent Shapeliness in Outing Suits

There is only one thing that can make an Outing Suit hold its shape. That's hand tailoring.

Summer Tweeds and Worsteds, Flannels and Serges, must be moulded in shape by hand—and held in shape by hand stitching — in order to stay in shape.

Fit-Reform Outing Suits keep their style and their proportions, because they are hand tailored.

A WAIST OF TRIM ATTRACTIVENESS.

The distinctive shirtwaist of the year is that built on tailored lines and one of these a bit novel in its fashion is shown. The fronts close in surplice style while the chemisette is cut in one with them. Two tucks at the shoulder lend breadth and extra fullness for the front. The pattern provides for either long or short sleeves, the plain shirt cuff finishing the former and the natty turnback one, the short style.

Linen is smart in this waist as well as taffetas or pongee, the only adornment suitable being the stitching which finishes it. For the medium size 3⅞ yards of 27 inch material are needed for the waist.

6878—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10 cts.

To the Fredericton Herald:

Please send the above mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to Measurement—Waist..... Bust ... .

CAUTION.—Be careful to send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure you need only mark 32, 34, or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 23, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When miss' or child's pattern write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than three or four days from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or postal order or stamps.

Green—What do you think of Bullem's $50,000 failure?

Brown—I think that Bullem must be crazy.

Green—Why?

Brown—With his opportunities he should have failed for twice that amount.
