RESTIGOUCHE ENQUIRY.

Mr. Reid, M. P., Emphatically Denies Opposition Allegations Against Him.

HE USED NO UNDUE INFLUENCE AT THE BALMORAL POLL—SHERIFF WAS ADVISED BY OPPOSI-TION LAWYER.

H. M. Blair Tells of Conversation Overheard at Way-erley Hotel—Bottom Completely Dropped out of Scandal.

The Restigouche election investigation was concluded at one o'clock this morning and the committee adjourned to meet on Monday to prepare a report for submission to the Legislature. A large number of witnesses have been examined but nothing has been brought out to show that one single elector was prevented from casting a secret ballot for the candidate of his choice.

At the recent bye election in Restigouche the envelope system of voting was used for the first time, and while the electors had the privilege of going behind a screen to deposit their ballots, the evidence shows that a number of them considered this an unnecessary precaution and did not avail themselves of it.

All the members of the committee except Mr. Clarke were in full dress when the committee met at 10.30 o'clock, having just returned from the mess dinner at the officers' bar-acks.

MR. REID, M. P.

Mr. James Reid, M. P., for Restigouche, was called and sworn. He said that he resided at Charlottetown in the Parish of Colborne. He represented Mr. Currie at the Balmoral poll on election day. He was at the poll all day and offered ballots to voters. He did not watch voters to see that they used the ballots that he gave them. He had no understanding with the returning officer by which it was hoped to find out how the electors voted. He thought that one-third of the voters went behind the screen and about the same number walked towards it. He repeatedly asked the returning officer to go behind the screen. He heard Mr.
Stewart tell the deputy returning officer to instruct the voters to go behind the screen.

Witness had no conversation with Mr. Stewart on the subject. The ballots of both candidates were placed on the table near the deputy returning officer. He denied that he had any ledger influence with the Balmoral electors. At one time the electors of Balmoral owed him, but now it was the other way. The people were independent and voted as they pleased. He had no understanding with Mr. Arsenau that the law should not be carried out. He had no previous conversation with Mr.
Arsenau in regard to the election.
He made no attempt to influence the voters. He did nothing except hand ballots to such of the voters as would accept them.

To Mr. Hazen the witness said he was a farmer and carried on a general store and lumbering business. He gave employment to some men in the Parish of Balmoral. He carried on considerable trade with the people of the parish. He owed them for getting out lumber for him. He usually went to the Balmoral poll on election day and was well treated. He was usually asked to go to the Balmoral poll on election day.

His friend Mr. Mott had asked him to go there on one occasion. He would admit that he might have some influence with the electors of Balmoral, and they always used him well. The election law was read at the opening of the poll, in the presence of a number of people. He did not remember hearing any discussion about a table. The ballots were placed on the table, but he made no agreement with Mr. Stewart in regard to the matter. Some of the electors took ballots from the table and some of the electors asked Mr. Arsenau to assist them in opening the envelopes. The ballots had to be folded before they could be put into the envelopes. He was unable to tell how any man voted, but he could see where the men deposited their ballots. He did not know all the men who were in his employ as he was absent from home a good deal and his son looked after the business. He handed ballots to quite a number of the electors. He saw Dennis Arsenau on the night before the election. Arsenau did not scale the lumber which witness cut on crown lands. Witness had stood at the Balmoral poll at every election since 1896.

Mr. Hazen wanted to know where the witness stood at the election of 1896.
Premier Pugsley said that the question was not relevant to the enquiry.
Mr. Hazen contended that he had the right to ask the question under cross-examination.
Premier Pugsley was unable to see what the election of 1896 had to do with the late bye election.
Mr. Hazen did not think he should be crowded out in such a manner.
The Premier replied that it was common practice of Mr. Hazen to talk of fair play; he did it for political effect. He (Pugsley) was unable to see what the question had to do with the present enquiry.
He admitted that Counsel were allowed some scope under cross examination, in order to test the credibility of the witness. If it was right to go into an election eleven years ago there is nothing to hinder the enquiry from going back forty years.

Mr. Clarke thought that Mr. Hazen's object in asking the question was to lead up to something else.
Messrs. Robinson and Sweeney decided against Mr. Hazen and his question was ruled out.

Mr. Hazen continuing wanted to know if it was not true that Mr.
Reid had always carried the Balmoral poll no matter which party he represented. The witness replied that he had always stood for the right side.
He went to Balmoral because his friends invited him to go there.
Referring to the recent election he did not hear Mr. Stewart tell Mr.
Arsenau that there should be a screen in the booth.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Some Interesting Information for Busy Housewives.

ORANGE COMPOTE.

Slice three oranges in the bottom of a dish at least six inches deep; over these sprinkle three tablespoonfuls of sugar; make a sweet custard or cream, using a double boiler if convenient, as the cream will not lump or burn.

Cream—Heat one pint of sweet milk and stir in slowly the beaten yolks of two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of flour that has been beaten smooth in a cup of milk and a cup of sugar; add a pinch of salt, and as soon as cooked remove from the stove, and when partially cool, stir in one teaspoonful of vanilla extract; now pour the cream over the oranges and, while cooling, beat the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth; add two teaspoonfuls of sugar and a few drops of vanilla; spread this over the cream and sprinkle the whole with a cup of chopped walnuts or pecans; set the dish in the oven for a few minutes, turning it around so as not to burn or deeply brown the frosting; then remove it and set in a cool place until dinner.

FRUIT PUDDING WITH ORANGE SAUCE.

Sift together one pint of pastry flour, half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons of sugar. Into this stir one beaten egg, one tablespoon melted butter and half cup sweet milk (or enough to make a soft dough) flavor with half a teaspoon extract of orange. Last mix in half cup prepared fruit, a mixture of currants, raisins, citron and candied orange peel, if convenient. Bake thirty minutes or steam one hour.

Orange Sauce.—Mix one cup sugar and one heaping tablespoon of flour; gradually add, stirring till it thick-ens, one pint boiling water; cook three to five minutes; add one tablespoon of butter, one scant teaspoon extract of orange and one tablespoon vinegar.

A TASTY DISH.

A good way to serve up stale pieces of cheese is to put them through the food-chopper; place in a dish and moisten with a little milk. Put in a hot oven for ten minutes and serve hot on toast. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

CHEESE FONDUE.

Melt an ounce of butter and whip into it a pint of boiled milk. Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of flour in a gill of cold milk, add it to the boiled milk and let it cool. Beat the yolks of four eggs with a heaping teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper and five ounces of grated cheese. Whip the whites of the eggs and add them; pour the mixture into a deep tin lined with buttered paper, and allow it to stand sitting, say four inches. Bake twenty minutes and serve the moment it leaves the oven.

HEADCHEESE.

Take the heads, tongues and feet of young fresh pork, or any other meats that are convenient. Having removed the skin, boil them until the meat is quite tender and can be easily stripped from the bones, then chop it very fine and season it with salt and pepper, and ground cloves if you choose, or sage leaves rubbed to a powder.
Mix it all well with your hand, stir into deep pans with straight sides and press it down hard and firm with a plate that will fit the pan. Put the under side of the plate next to the meat and place a heavy weight on it. In two or three days turn it out of the pan and cut it in thin slices. Serve with mustard and vinegar on it. This is desirable for a supper or breakfast dish.

WELSH RAREBIT.

Quarter pound cream cheese, fourth cup of milk, teaspoonful mustard, half teaspoonful of salt, pinch cayenne pepper, one egg, teaspoonful butter, four pieces of toast.

Break or grate the cheese in dish, put in milk. Toast the bread and keep it warm. When cheese is melted, mix the mustard, salt and pepper; add egg and beat well; stir in butter. Cook two minutes, until it thickens. Pour over toast.

CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by

Why do Women Worry?

FIRST SIGN OF FAILING HEALTH.

Worry is a disease—and it's more —it produces other diseases, because it breaks down the nerves and saps the vitality of the body.

What a pity women don't realize that if they were well—if the blood was nutritious—if the nerves were strong—if all the organs were active —then the little things that irritate and prey on the mind wouldn't receive a moment's thought.

The woman who worries has a poor appetite—she sleeps poorly. If it only lasted for a day or two it might be of small consequence—but she grows limp, miserable, unhappy —worse day by day.

She needs Ferrozone which cures worry by curing the conditions that render worry possible. For nervous, weak women, no tonic is so good; thousands it has cured just like Mrs.
M. E. Etherington, of Troy, who writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired, and completely worn out. No doubt it's quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Fer-rozone, and took it for several weeks I made me quite strong, and in fact I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone cures by making good blood strong nerves and a healthy body.

This is why it gives color, clearness to the skin, buoyancy to the step, brightness to the eyes—because with good digestion and activity of the body in all its parts there's health. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

A WOMAN TELLS HOW TO RE- LIEVE RHEUMATIC PAINS.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale, by a dealers.

SHAKE HANDS WITH ASTHMA.

Awfully distressing is asthma. But worse if possible when combined with Bronchitis. Relieved quicker by Cat-arrhoxone than anything else—cured so thoroughly by "Catarrhoxone" that it doesn't return. Catarrhoxone's healing vapor is breathed right into the lungs, destroying the cause of Asthma and succeeds in the most chronic cases. Try it. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00 at all dealers.
