

THE ANTHRAX CASE

Dr. Frink, Well Known Veterinary Surgeon, Does Not Fear Spread of the Disease

Dr. James H. Frink, who was called to investigate the recent outbreak of anthrax at Upper Gagetown, has returned to St. John. It will be remembered that Bess Randall, a resident of Upper Gagetown, contracted the disease which killed four cows on his father's farm, and that for a time his life was despaired of. He was taken to the Victoria Hospital, Fredericton, and has since returned to Upper Gagetown.

In an interview with a Telegraph reporter last evening, Dr. Frink gave some interesting particulars of the disease which is happily uncommon in New Brunswick, the last case having occurred two years ago near Loch Lomond. Dr. Frink said anthrax, or charbon, had been known to medical science for centuries, and attacked humanity as well as the lower animals, with generally fatal results. The disease was caused by the introduction into the system of spore bearing organisms—a product of the bacillus anthracis. The bacillus itself exposed to atmospheric oxygen and sunlight would die, but the spore was tenacious and lived for many years in the soil and other media, ready to be taken up and become an unwelcome guest in the body of some unfortunate human being or animal.

"The disease is not altogether uncommon in this province," continued Dr. Frink, "and the outbreaks which have occurred in recent years have been dealt with by the officers of the department of agriculture without comment. Had not a human life been at stake in the recent outbreak at Upper Gagetown, the matter would have received but scant consideration."

The locality would appear favorable for the appearance of the disease owing to the low ground between the bank of the river and the ascending land to the westward, forming a receptacle in which is held marsh water without chance of escape and from which these animals drank and fed largely on the vegetation on this area.

"It is probable that an animal may have died from anthrax years ago, and owing to the wet weather this season, earth worms or insects may have come to the surface spore laden and have been consumed. Bodies of dead animals are frequently thrown into the river or placed upon the ice to be carried down stream in fresh time causing pollution of the water and land."

"In Louisiana, anthrax commits extensive ravages in the low lands and this is attributed, I believe, to the custom of throwing bodies of diseased animals in the river, and also from the refuse of tanneries which conduct their sewage to the river Mississippi. It is then washed up by the freshet, and on its recession invisible, deadly organisms are left in waiting."

In reply to a question as to the probability of further contagion in the Upper Gagetown case, Dr. Frink said that flies, crows and mosquitoes should be excellent carriers of the contagion. Yet from his observation the outbreak seldom extends beyond the farms on which it was found.

"I am of the opinion," he added, "that the contagion in this case will not be widely distributed. I understand Mr. Randall is improving and that he has escaped from a disease which has laid low many members of the human race. I saw him after he had been infected, and he impressed me strongly as being cool headed and displaying great fortitude under suffering, which possibly may have had some influence favorable to recovery which I trust will be assured."

URAEMIA FOLLOWS KIDNEY DISEASE

Dreadful perils lurk in kidney weakness.

Insidiously it develops into Bright's Disease and Uraemia poisoning. Through the system it sweeps with fatal effect, causing dropsy, gout, gravel and jaundice.

Many remedies contain alcohol. In consequence they inflame the disease to further fury.

A proper remedy will soothe and heal the kidneys, give them strength, and nourish them back to health.

Such a remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are composed of simple vegetable extracts and juices that are absorbed at once by the kidneys.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills heal and cure the diseased tissues, restore healthy action, and allay congestion and inflammation.

Proof is abundant, and here is quoted the experience of Mr. Patrick McDonald of 235 Kent Street, Ottawa.

"My back ached from morning till night. Every bit of work I did made me weak and worn. I couldn't stoop or lift without getting dizzy. My tongue was furred and my appetite poor. My head ached continually, and I had severe urinary disorders. My kidneys were in the worst possible state. I heard of the wonderful Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and proved them just the medicine needed. Why I felt better in a week and after using these pills for a month or two at regular intervals was completely restored."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills give complete relief because they act directly on the diseased tissues of the kidneys. Get the genuine in yellow boxes 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1. at all dealers. Refuse a substitute.

ON BIG MISSION TO DOMINION

Issues Between Dominion and United States to be Further Discussed

Montreal, Aug. 27.—The Hon. Esme Howard one of the chiefs of the British Embassy at Washington, is in Montreal, on a visit to Canada which is understood to be partly diplomatic or official and partly social.

He is staying at the Windsor Hotel and was met yesterday by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, administrator of the government, who introduced him to the members of the Mount Royal Club and other prominent citizens. It was stated this forenoon that he would then go to Ottawa where he will confer with the members and leading officials of the government on the questions which are now the subject of negotiation between Great Britain and Canada and the United States.

The negotiations which it is understood were informally opened by Secretary Root, and assumed more definite shape during the visit to Ottawa of the Right Hon. James Bryce, were interrupted while the Prime Minister was absent at the Colonial Conference. They will be resumed again practically at once. Mr. Howard's services are said to be in a sense intermediary between the embassy and the Canadian government whose views will naturally be regarded as of paramount importance in any agreement that may be reached between Great Britain and the United States concerning the various questions, commercial, military and industrial, which are at issue.

An earnest effort is being made to have all the points in dispute wiped off the controversial slate.

LASHED HUSBAND, JUDGE APPROVED IT.

Mrs. Elsie Miller, Arrested and Arraigned, Left the Night Court in Triumph.

New York, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Elsie Miller, a well dressed young woman, living at No. 204 West One Hundred and Fourth street, was a prisoner in the Night Police Court for a few minutes last night, after having horse-whipped her husband, Alexander, who, says he is a stock broker, and lives at No. 60 West One Hundred and Fourth street. The couple have been separated since July 26.

The horse-whip took place at One Hundred and Tenth street and Amsterdam avenue. Pedestrians saw Mrs. Miller leap from a carriage near that corner about 6 o'clock. Her husband, with whom she had been driving, whipped the horse and started over One Hundred and Tenth street. Mrs. Miller glanced at the departing carriage, meditated a moment, then started in pursuit. The crowd followed.

Mrs. Miller ran alongside the carriage, seized the whip and brought it across her husband's face. Miller jumped from the carriage and a desperate struggle for the whip ensued, while the crowd howled.

Policeman Pierce came along and Miller loudly demanded his wife's arrest. In court Mrs. Miller told Magistrate Cornell that her husband is a gambler instead of a broker.

"He asked me to go riding in his carriage this afternoon," she continued, "and I finally consented. He has been giving me only $7 a week and pays $30 a month board for his horse. I asked him where he kept the horse and he said—well, he said 'none of your business.' It just made me mad and I jumped out of the carriage. When I got thinking over what he had said I decided he ought to be horsewhipped. And I gave him a good whipping."

"It's a lie," exclaimed Miller. "I found her drinking with two men, and she followed me."

Magistrate Cornell called Miller a "contemptible creature," and dismissed the charge against his wife.

BE A STRONG MAN.

Increase your vitality and nerve energy, restore vim and force to your overworked body. Ferrozone will do this as it did for Walter Wood of Beauport, N. B., who writes: "I can say Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered so from nervous exhaustion I was scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone—I had no color or ambition and felt used up. One box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes and my health was completely restored." For men who are tired, pale, nervous and thin-blooded nothing compares with Ferrozone, 50c. per box at all dealers.

"Ah, my love," sighed the ardent lover, "if you only knew how beautiful you are."

"You mustn't speak of it," protested the modest girl, "I don't want to know."

"Why not?"

"Because it would make me too conceited."

"Speaking of borrowing, I have an acquaintance who has had a brand new overcoat of mine for a long time and he won't give it up."

"Who is it?"

"My tailor."

DARING AMERICAN ACROBATS WITH THE NORRIS & ROWE CIRCUUS THEY ARE MORE ORIGINAL THAN THE FOREIGNERS.

During the past winter a discussion was started among owners of the big circuses as to whether the foreign or native circus acrobat was the more daring, and consequently more valuable as a drawing card to the circus manager. The discussion has aroused general interest and will probably be seriously taken up at the next meeting of those interested in the white tents. Heretofore the average circus manager thought it impossible to start his tour without several high priced European acrobats and the consequence was that a number of clever American performers took the name of foreigners, with the result that they pleased both the public and the managers. Norris & Rowe claim they have played all the sensational European acrobats and finally came to the conclusion that for daring and originality, the American performers took the palm. For the white tents, Norris & Rowe have two acts this season that disconcert and amaze a troupe of acrobats ever brought from Germany where it is acknowledged the best athletes of Europe come from. They are the famous Lefel Troupe of mid-air horizontal bar performers.

Norris & Rowe will exhibit at Fredericton, Saturday Aug. 31st.

ER KNOWN TO FAIL.

"I want to say a few words for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used this preparation in my family for the past five years and have recommended it to a number of people in York County and have never known it to fail to effect a cure in any instance. I feel that I can not say too much for the best remedy of the kind in the world.—S. Jemison, Spring Grove, York County, Pa. This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Gracious! exclaimed the kind old lady to the beggar, are they the best shoes you have got?

Why, lady, replied the candid beggar, could you imagine better ones for dis business? Every one o' them holes means nickles an' dimes ter me.
