LADY GRENFELL'S DEATH.

Eloquent Expressions of Sympathy from Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden.

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—Parliament adjourned today without the transaction of any business, in this way manifesting not only the sympathy of the members of the House, but of the whole people of Canada. The motion to adjourn was moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and seconded by R. L. Borden. The premier said:

"Mr. Speaker, for reasons which will be appreciated even before they are uttered, I rise to suggest that the House should not proceed with business, but that it should adjourn. The honorable gentlemen are aware that Lady Victoria Grenfell, the eldest daughter of Their Excellencies the Governor General and Lady Grey has departed this life. A young woman or not yet thirty years of age, happily married, the mother of three children, she succumbed last evening to an insidious disease against which she fortunately fought in vain."

"Sir, the relations which have always existed between the holder of the office of governor general with the people of this country have always been so intimate, and I may say, affectionate, and never have been indifferent to any incident in the life of the incumbents of the office. Indeed, sir, these affectionate relations have continued even after their official connection of our governor general has been severed with Canada. Whatever may have happened to them and their families, whether of joy or of sorrow, and more particularly of sorrow, and the Canadian people have sympathetically desired to share it. I think I may say that this is more particularly true of the present incumbent of the office than even of his predecessors."

"It will be admitted by all that, although Their Excellencies have been in this country only a little more than two years, they have entered more completely into the life of the others, the life of the Canadian people. The sad event at Government House is doubly painful from the fact that it occurred almost in the midst of festivities, which have been organized by Their Excellencies to promote and encourage art in this country. It is painful to reflect that even while these festivities were in progress, the angel of death hovered at the door, and it was only their high sense of duty which impelled Their Excellencies not to postpone these functions."

"Under such circumstances, the sympathies of the members of this House, the sympathies of the people of Canada will pour out to Their Excellencies in the bereavement. From every Canadian home, from the heart of every father and of every mother in this land there goes forth the prayer that He alone who can comfort may grant fortitude and consolation to Their Excellencies in this hour of their affliction. I have the honor to move, seconded by Mr. Borden, that this House do now adjourn."

R. L. Borden, Carleton Place, said: "The chief minister has most fittingly and eloquently voiced the feelings that are uppermost in the hearts of the members of the House, and in the hearts of the Canadian people today on such an occasion as this, a common bond of human sorrow and sympathy unites us."

It is true, as the prime minister has said, that the past weeks have been a period of very great sadness and trial to Their Excellencies, and we have not failed to notice that during that time they have borne themselves with an unshrinking courage and an unwavering devotion in the performance of the duties cast upon them by their high position. That devotion and that courage has won the respect and the admiration of us all. Their Excellencies can rest assured that in their bereavement they have the heartfelt sympathy of the Canadian people."

The motion was agreed to.

BLOOMFIELD.

Jan. 31.—Beware of false prophets our local weather prophets prophesied a warm winter, and behold the outcome.

Operations have been suspended at B. J. Thibodeau's mill owing to defects in machinery.

Benjamin Norrad & Sons who are lumbering on Ansel Brook for Swim Bros. of Oaktown expect to get through in about a month. Mr. Norrad expects to get about half a million.

Clarence McKay passed through this place this morning en route from Jas. Porter of Brook, Mr. McKay reports about three feet of snow in that part of the country. S. Fairley's Camp on the head of Mr. Ernest Norrad has secured the contract to supply Mr. L. Allan with stove wood for the ensuing year, also to supply Mr. B. J. Thibodeau with 1,000,000 feet of lumber.

Mr. Thomas McDonald has finished his logging operation for Swim Bros. and is now getting cord wood for Fairley and Standish.

The Pleasant Ridge school is about to be reopened. Miss Helen Carson of Nasonworth officiating.

Mr. William Carson of Pleasant Ridge returned home from his hunting camp on the upper waters of Rocky Brook last week with $1,000 worth of fur.

A sharp brush took place on flat steamers yesterday between Jas. S. Fairley's black pacer and Ernest Norrad's roan mare, although the black came out it was a case of touch and go.

Mr. Daniel Munn passed through here this morning on his way to marry his bride. Dan's mare is very fast.

A harness shop will be opened across the street from Busby Corner, in the spring by J. McKay of Glassville. Mr. McKay will make harness of all kinds and carry on a general repairing business.

Miss Evelyn Fairley who has been seriously ill with pharyngitis is convalescing.

Lee Baren Thibodeau was visiting friends on Parker's Ridge recently.

Clarence Fairley who has been ill with bronchitis pneumonia is able to be at work again.

J. W. Fairley our local humorist is cooking for J. S. Fairley this winter.

Mr. Willis E. Norrad received word last night of the death of an old schoolmate of the Ricker Classical Institute, Houlton.

THE COLLINS CASE.

The application for a new trial in the case of Thomas Collins, now under sentence of death, in Albert County, will be made before the Supreme Court on Tuesday next.

It is understood that the judge's questions, on which the argument is to be based, are as follows:

"Did I err in not adequately directing and impressing the jury that the whole burden of proving the prisoner's guilt was upon the crown?"

Was there error in my assuming it proven that the prisoner had the axe in his hand in the committing of the theft, and generally directing the jury from that standpoint?"

Was there error in directing the jury that the desire of the prisoner to make practicable his theft and escape, would be sufficient motive, and if they were satisfied the prisoner was the one who did the act of killing, there was no need of searching for, or proving motive?"
