EMPIRE DAY.

The institution of Empire Day in the schools of Canada was a wise proceeding to inculcate in the rising generation loyalty and patriotism, and its observance has become quite general throughout the country.

While we are Canadians, and desire to foster a national spirit of our own, we do not forget that we are Britishers with a pride in the splendid traditions and the glorious history of the mother land.

The victories of the past in peace and war, laying the foundations of the Empire, were achieved by men who are honored in the world's history, and whose deeds of valor in war in religion, in science, art and politics are recalled with veneration and pride. We grow up with such names as Wellington and Waterloo, Nelson and Trafalgar on our lips and in our hearts, and in the narrower field of Canadianism we take a pride in the achievements of the men who fought for, and established British sovereignty on the northern half of the continent, who secured the boon of responsible government, who laid the foundations of the confederation, and we admire those who are working out the destiny of this country and placing it among the leading nations of the earth.

To recall the history of the past as well as to glory in the achievements of the present and the promise of the future is an exercise well worthy the sons of the Empire and especially of Canada.

We have a glorious heritage—a magnificent country and every Canadian youth has reason to feel a thrill of pride and satisfaction in his country—the old land and the new—the Empire day programs in the schools will do much to nurture, cultivate and advance the national feeling and the national pride.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Fredericton police court next week will cut quite a figure in the interest of all Canada. There Mr. Emmerson will meet his accusers face to face, and put upon them the burden of substantiating, if they can, the serious charge they have preferred against him.

Mr. W. F. Luxton, who founded the Winnipeg Free Press, and for a number of years was prominent in the political affairs of Manitoba, is dead of paralysis. He was a native of Ontario, and went to the West as a representative of the Toronto Globe in the days of Hon. George Brown.

The Irish Nationalist convention at Dublin made short work of Mr. Birrell's bill of concessions to Ireland. Home Rule is the rallying cry of the Irish people, and they will not accept the government's piece meal program. In the face of the convention's unanimous declaration against the bill, the government will doubtless drop the measure.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson has evoked the aid of the law, both civil and criminal, to vindicate his reputation before the country, and the outcome of the suits he has instituted will be looked forward to with intense interest. Mr. Emmerson gave an emphatic denial to the slanderous statements in parliament, and declares his ability to confound his accusers when he meets them in the courts.

There were no toasts at the recent banquet given by King Edward at Buckingham palace to the visiting Colonial premiers, but before the distinguished party left the royal table, His Majesty addressed his guests with these graceful words: "I cannot leave this room without raising my glass to wish prosperity and happiness to my guests who represent my dominions beyond the seas. I give a hearty welcome to the distinguished statesmen who are here tonight, and trust they will carry away with them an agreeable impression of the Mother-country. I wish them Godspeed on their voyage home."

Mr. Winston Churchill, under secretary for the colonies, in a peppery address at Edinburgh, gives Britain's over sea domains to understand that there will be preference so long as the party of which he is a member is in control of the government at Westminster. Well Canada is not going to kick very much. We have given the mother country preference in our markets and if she does not respond, there are other markets that can be cultivated. Mr. Fielding is now in Europe, and it is probable, he will make some enquiries as to what may be done to open up wider trade with countries which are not now taking much of Canada's productions.

King Edward, it is stated, will go to Ireland in July, and will land at Waterford. It will not be his Majesty's first experience in the River Suir—the fine waterway leading up to Waterford. When he accompanied the late Queen Victoria on her first visit to Ireland in 1849, the royal yacht sailed up the Suir, and he accompanied his father, the Prince Consort, to Waterford, the Queen remaining on board the yacht. The first King of England to stand on Irish soil landed at Waterford. He was Henry II., who arrived in the Suir with a force of 10,000 men. It was at Waterford, too, that King John landed; and the same place was chosen by Richard II. on both his visits to Ireland, the second of which lost him his crown and ultimately his life.

ATTRACTED A BIG CROWD

71st Band Scored a Big Success at the Arctic Rink Last Night.

Last night at the Arctic Rink the 71st Regimental Band opened the first big affair of the season in the amusement line when they put on their grand bazaar and dance. More than twelve hundred people attended, and everyone went away expressing themselves well satisfied with the evening's entertainment. The dancing under the supervision of Chairman Robert Coombes was exceptionally fine and was enjoyed by a full floor for every band.

The refreshments were well served by Messrs. Fred Tonar, Roscelle Sheenan and James McMaster, and were in great demand. The ice cream booth was in charge of Miss Margaret Hanlon and Miss Eva Blizzard, and they won many praises for themselves for the professional way they served the wants of their patrons.

The huge cake of Surprise Soap, which has been donated by the St. Croix Manufacturing Company, was put up for a guessing contest under Vice President Clem Tonar and the lucky winner will be given the entire cake, worth about ten dollars, tomorrow morning, when it is weighed. Miss Stella Lynn and Miss Bessie Knox took charge of the fancy booth and proved themselves good clerks in that line.

Miss Maud Coombes with a large staff of assistants, took charge of the voting contests for the most popular alderman, officer of the 71st Regiment lady at rink, base ball man, lady roller skater and report that the contests are very close. The prize for the most popular officer is a fine hammock donated by Mr. James S. Neill, the prize for the most popular alderman is a large fancy parlour lamp donated by Messrs. Colwell & Jennings; the prize for the most popular lady roller skater is a fancy pair of silk lined canvass shoes donated by Lieut. C. H. Fowler, and the prize for the most popular base ball man is a gold medal hat, donated by Messrs. McMurray & Co.

The games were well conducted and proved to be a great source of amusement to the large crowd. The ladies' bean toss under Mr. Arthur Finne more was allotted to Miss Maggie Driscoll, who received as a prize a large fancy box containing a bottle of perfume donated by Messrs. Hunt & McDonald. The prize for the bean toss was a box of Pharaoh cigars and was won by Mr. Herb. Grace. Bandsman Jarvis took charge of the game and reports a successful evening. The prize for the bagatelle under the supervision of Mr. Ernest Ryan, was allotted to Mr. Percy W. Doak, and was a fine meerschaum pipe donated by Major J. H. Hawthorn. Tonight two prizes will be given with each game.

The candy booth was in charge of Miss Ida Nichols and was well patronized.

Secretary Guthrie with Mr. Daniel Dalley and Mr. Gillies attended at the door and report that twelve hundred and sixty eight persons were admitted. Tonight new games will be put on and many other attractions added to the already good assortment.

The Marysville train will be held over again tonight until 11 o'clock.

Shell Sounds.
The peculiar murmuring sound, not unlike the ripple of the waves on a still evening, which we hear on placing a shell or other hollow object to the ear is due to the fact that the concave surface concentrates and multiplies all different sounds around us, so as to render them audible. The many sounds always present in the air are augmented by the resonant cavity of the shell.

ODD FELLOWS' ENTERTAINMENT.

Great activity and interest are just now being made manifest by Victoria Lodge, I. O. O. F., who have engaged Mr. Newton Beers, the popular dramatic impersonator, who will appear under their auspices at the opera house, on Wednesday, May 29th. Everything indicates that his stirring recital of his intensely interesting play "David and Jonathan" will be a complete success. Admission 25c. Reserved seats 35c. Tickets on sale at McMurray's book store. Mr. Beers has for the last four years been filling dates continuously in Boston, New York and Chicago in his varied repertoire as an impersonator of plays in monologue he stands pre-eminent. Mr. Beers' portrayal of character is unquestionably fine and true to life.—Kansas City Journal.

His Perseverance.
Henry Arthur Jones, the noted English playwright, was giving the students of Yale an address on the drama. "Your American vernacular is picturesque," he said, "and it should help your playwrights to build strong, racy plays. But neither vernacular nor anything else is of moment if perseverance is lacking. No playwright can succeed who is like a man I know. I said to this man one New Year's day, 'Do you keep a diary, Philip?' 'Yes,' he answered. 'I've kept one for the last two weeks in January for the first seven years.'"
