AFTER LENGTHY ILLNESS.

Dr. A. Dow Coburn Passed Away at His Mother's Home on Westmorland Street.

Dr. A. Dow Coburn, a well known young physician, late of Canterbury, passed away at the home of his mother, Mrs. Benjamin Coburn Westmorland street, at three o'clock this morning, after an illness from lung trouble, extending over a period of one year. He has been gradually sinking for some weeks past, and his death was not a matter of surprise. He retained consciousness right up to the last, and suffered a great deal. The deceased gentleman was a native of Keswick Ridge, being the eldest son of the late Dr. Benjamin Coburn, for some time secretary of the provincial board of health. After a successful course at the Fredericton High school, he entered McGill University, from which he graduated in 1894, with the degree of M. D. He immediately entered upon the practice of his profession at Canterbury, remaining there until last year when he was compelled to give up work, owing to ill health. He was a young man of high character and possessed more than ordinary skill as a physician. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, and was an active worker for his party at election times.

Dr. Coburn married a daughter of Mr. Luke Lawson, customs officer at McAdam, who predeceased him by about three years. Their only child died a few months afterwards. Some years ago the deceased was the victim of an unfortunate accident while out hunting at Canterbury. A shot gun, which he was carrying, was accidentally discharged, the charge entering his right arm near the shoulder. Blood poisoning ensued, and he was under treatment at the Victoria hospital for months. He was at the point of death on several occasions, but a splendid constitution, backed up by plenty of rest and termination, saved his life and the use of his arm as well.

Dr. Coburn had many warm friends throughout the county, who will be sorry to learn of his untimely death. Besides his mother, the deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Burt and Miss Hazel Coburn of this city. Senator King of Chipman, is an uncle. The heartfelt sympathy of the community will be extended to the family in their great bereavement. He was a member of the Orange order, and also of McAdam Lodge of Freemasons. The funeral will take place under the auspices of the latter organization tomorrow afternoon at two thirty. Rev. J. H. MacDonald will conduct services at the house, and interment will be made at the Rural cemetery. Mr. John G. Adams is the officiating undertaker.

THE COLUMBIA DISASTER

Moses Burpee, a Sunbury Boy, was Engineer of the ill Fated Steamer and May Have Been Lost.

Mr. M. E. Asa Burpee, a prominent farmer of Burton, Sunbury County, is anxiously awaiting further details of the disaster to the Steamship Columbia for the reason that his son Mr. Moses Burpee, was the engineer of the ill fated steamer. The Columbia collided with the steam schooner San Pedro on the Pacific coast, 175 miles north of San Francisco on Saturday last and over one hundred lives were lost. Of a total crew of sixty men thirty eight were saved.

Mr. Burpee, who was in the city yesterday has received no word from his son since the accident, and is naturally very anxious about him. Mr. Burpee has been in the west about fourteen years and visited here five years ago on his bridal tour. He has been employed on the Columbia for some time.

According to the Press despatches, before the Columbia went down six of her boats, and two life rafts were launched and these have not since been heard from. The latest advices from San Francisco state that sixteen of the officers and crew are unaccounted for.

A STRANGE CASE.

Mr. Robert Winn, a Hanwell Man, Dead from an Insect Sting.

Mr. Robert Winn, a well known resident of Hanwell, came to his death at that place yesterday morning under sad and peculiar circumstances. He was out working in the field about a fortnight ago, when a winged insect of some kind stung him over the eye. In a very short time the spot became greatly swollen, and Dr. McGrath who was called from the city found him suffering from blood poisoning. An operation was performed last week and everything possible was done to save his life, but to no purpose. After a great deal of suffering he passed away yesterday morning.

The deceased gentleman was fifty two years of age and is survived by a widow and one daughter. The body was brought to the city this morning and interred at the Hermitage, Rev. Father O'Brien conducting the services at St. Dunstan's church.

AGED LADY'S DEATH.

Mrs. Sarah C. Brown, wife of the late Mr. Levi Brown of Nashwaak, died last night at the residence of her icee, Mrs. A. P. Brown, Queen Street.
