KILLED IN HOCKEY.

Famous Rover of Cornwallis Died Almost Instantly From Blow Received in Match Against Ottawa Victorias.

His Murderer Arrested and Bail Refused

Cornwall, Ont., March 7.—(Special)—Owen McCourt, better known as "Bud" the famous rover of Cornwallis Hockey Club, died this morning as a result of injuries received in a hockey match last night between the Victorias of Ottawa and the Cornwallis in the Federal League series. The game was a very rough one and McCourt and Throop had exchanged blows and separated. As they came together again, Throop seemed to strike again at McCourt, and as the latter went to retaliate, Charles Masson of Ottawa struck him on the head and he went down like an ox, while Roush cut Throop across the cranium. After being helped off the ice, McCourt returned for a few minutes but soon had to retire, being "all in," as he expressed it. Those were his last words, as he lost consciousness and so continued till he died. An operation revealed a broken blood vessel in the brain. Masson was arrested, and bail was refused. Ottawa, March 7.—C. Masson and Banneran, goal-keeper of the Victorias, Ottawa hockey team, have been arrested in connection with the trouble at Cornwallis last night's game, which caused the death of "Bud" McCourt, one of the Cornwallis players.

LONDON ELECTION.

Mr. Hyman's Resignation May be Reported Illegal as to Form and he Will Have to Execute Another Document.

Ottawa, March 7.—(Special)—There was meeting of the Privileges and Elections committee today to further consider Mr. Hyman's resignation. James Duffield, of London, was expected to be present, but did not turn up. A summons will be sent to the sheriff asking his presence. Mr. Aylesworth moved that a sub-committee of Barker, Northrup, McDonald (Picton) German and Aylesworth be appointed to consider the resignation and report at the next meeting. This was carried. From the opinion expressed the report will be that the resignation was not valid, and therefore Mr. Hyman will have to resign over again. Mr. German said that if Mr. Borden had not reported the matter the committee would have had an election in London long ago.

MANITOBA FIGHT.

Heavy Snowstorm May Reduce Vote-Betting in Favor of Government.

Winnipeg, March 7.—(Special)—The night before the climax in the fiercest political fight in Manitoba has ever experienced, finds a big snow storm sweeping over the province, and it is feared the roads will be blocked for the farmers. This would seriously affect the vote. The result is much in doubt, and with 25,000 new votes in the province neither side can begin to figure it out. The betting is that Roblin will be returned, with a greatly reduced majority.

MUM WAS THE WORD.

Fowler, M. P., Did Not Want to Appear in an Ontario Deal.

Toronto, March 7.—A suit brought against the Bank of Montreal and J. D. Montgomery, solicitor, by Peter Ryan for $50,000 damages, was before Justice Clute in the assize court yesterday. Ryan's allegation is that the bank wrongfully accused him of being in debt and transferred and assigned his account with the collateral held to Montgomery. In the evidence it transpired that the funds which purchased Ryan's account and collateral were furnished by G. W. Fowler, M. P., Montgomery, who is Fowler's representative, negotiated for the account under Fowler's instructions, purchased it with his money and now holds it in trust for him. A number of letters between Montgomery and Fowler were produced and read in court. The judge severely criticized the action of the defence in holding back the letters until this time, saying they should have been produced on the affidavit of production. Montgomery in explanation, said Fowler had been anxious not to appear in the deal. He did not want his name mentioned or disclosed to Ryan. In one letter to J. Shields of the Ashcroft Co. Montgomery says: "Fowler is possibly one of the most unsatisfactory business men I have ever had anything to do with. It's almost impossible to get a reply from him. It's cost me nearly $15 or $20 telegraphing him."

Indian Commissioner Farrell, who has been confined to his home by a severe attack of la grippe, is considerably improved.

LITIGATION PROBABLE.

Disputes Over Rights to Indian Town Wharves.

St. John, March 7.—(Special)—There is trouble over the wharves at Indian town and it is forming food for conversation. The common talk is that litigation will arise between the parties.

Captain Porter owns the Crystal Stream wharf, and a few years ago leased it to D. J. Purdy, M. P. E., for the Crystal Stream.

This year Captain Porter leased it to the Aberdeen, and it is now claimed that there is a provision in the lease which entitles the Crystal Stream to use the wharf.

Other trouble also involves Captain Porter. The latter's lease runs out in May and Mr. Purdy has already purchased the wharf for $3,000.

Captain Porter, last year sub-leased the old Cunard wharf to Curry and Vincent, agents for the Elaine S. S. Company for five years, and has expired.

The situation now is that the Elaine apparently has no place to lie. It is rumored that L. A. Curry has intimated that he intends suing Captain Porter for $10,000 damages.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Today's Prices Showed Some Improvement.

Montreal, March 7.—(Special)—The stock market showed some improvement today, following a better feeling at the close yesterday afternoon, when prices commenced to rally from the lower level of the forenoon.

The process was continued this morning, but after the first hour there was a cessation when prices held within narrow fractional range of the improved level.

Conspicuous in the improvement were: Dom. Steel and Dominion Coal issues. The former rose from 22½ to 23, as compared with 20½ at yesterday's lowest.

Bonds were active at 77. Coal which sold freely at 63 in late trading yesterday, rose to 65½.

N. S. Steel was firm at 74½.

Other features were:

Detroit 76½ to 77.

Can. Pac. 174½ to 175.

Twin City 98.

Montreal Power 89.

A BRUTE SENTENCED.

Three Years in Penitentiary for Unmercifully Beating His Children.

Montreal, March 7.—(Special)—Jas. Allan, who was recently arrested in St. John, where he was endeavoring to take steamer for England, and was brought back to this city on the charges of brutally beating his children, was today sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary.

The story of how he abused his children is one of the most shocking in the annals of Montreal courts.

The little ones were masses of bruises as a result of his brutality, and the shock made one of them blind.

The judge expressed regret that he could not give the prisoner a longer term.

ST. JOHN SMALLPOX.

One Case of Mild Type Has Developed—Victim Had Been Working on Partridge Island.

St. John, March 7.—(Special)—A case of smallpox was discovered this morning.

The victim is Frank Lambert 22 years of age, who was taken to the isolation hospital.

Lambert had been working at Partridge Island, and it is not known where he contracted the disease.

At the isolation hospital the case was said to be a mild one.

Mrs. Travis' boarding house, where Lambert boarded, on Smythe street has been quarantined.

MAN DISAPPEARS.

Prominent in Lacrosse and Hockey Circles and is Said to Have Been Financially Involved.

Montreal, March 7.—(Special)—Thomas S. Potter, a well known restaurateur, is missing and has not been seen by his family for ten days. He is well known in connection with lacrosse and hockey throughout Canada.

There are many unconfirmed rumors as to his alleged shortages, these being placed as high as $15,000.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

Minister of Justice Did Not Interfere With Insurance Commission—Non-Confidence Motion Defeated.

Ottawa, March 7.—In the commons yesterday the prime minister stated in answer to a question by Mr. Foster that at the conference of provincial premiers an agreement had been arrived at with regard to the payment of provincial taxes by commercial travellers. The question of provincial taxes upon companies chartered by the Dominion government had been discussed, but no conclusion arrived at.

The minister of justice replying to a series of questions by Mr. Foster, said that payments on account had been made to Messrs. Shepley and Tilley in respect of work in connection with the insurance commission.

No money had been expended in providing funds to enable Mr. Clifford Gifford or anyone suggested by him to procure information or evidence for possible use before the commission.

Some information, Mr. Aylesworth said, had been received by him from different sources in regard to facts which might on investigation by commission, be established, but such communications were confidential and he had no right to disclose the source of any communication.

Neither the minister of justice nor department had received any written communication from Mr. Shepley from 26th April, 1906, to 3rd May, 1906, following up or further explaining the telegrams sent by him (Mr. Shepley) to the minister of the dates 26th and 27th April and 1st and 3rd May, 1906, from Mr. Shepley or Mr. Tilley.

There was nothing on file in the department, nor had he ever heard of any written communication with Mr. Shepley.

No suggestion, instructions, nor advice with regard to the conduct of the inquiry by the commission had been made by him to Mr. Shepley or W. Tilley in any official capacity.

No instructions or advice had been given to those gentlemen, or any suggestions beyond the communication to them of the facts pertinent to the inquiry above referred to.

Mr. Boyce moved in amendment to the motion to go into committee of ways and means to deal with the tariff: "That the government ought not to continue in office public servants who in violation of their duties make use of their official positions to advance their private interests."

The motion was voted down 94 to 54.

UNION IMPROBABLE.

Ballington Booth and His Father, the General, Still Estranged.

New York, March 7.—(Special)—Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, declared there could be no amalgamation of the volunteers and the Salvation army as long as he lives. He had not heard of the arrival of General Booth, his father, until he saw it in the newspapers.

Other features were: "The principles upon which the two organizations are founded are so different that union is impossible. The heads of the Salvation army are autocrats, and the leaders of the Volunteers of America are democrats."

ed to enter the matrimonial condition at an early date. The future Mrs. King is a much esteemed resident of Sussex, Miss Connolly, daughter of Mr. Robert Connolly, the well known lumber operator. The date of the wedding has not been fixed, but it would not be surprising if it occurred before Mr. King makes his next appeal to the yeomanry of Kings for re-election to the legislature.

Mr. King is receiving many hearty congratulations on the step he has decided to take, and everybody who knows the genial gentleman will unite with the Herald in good wishes for the future prosperity of himself and his prospective bride.

THE CRISIS.

The Powerful Drama Put on at the Opera House Last Evening.

That the citizens of Fredericton know how to appreciate a good thing in the theatrical line, was amply attested by the very liberal patronage extended to the W. S. Harkins' Co., which closed a three night's engagement at the Opera house last evening. The Crisis, a dramatization of Winston Churchill's great historic novel, was the bill, and it was interpreted in a manner most creditable to Mr. Harkins and his talented company. It was in fact one of the best plays seen in this city for years, and held the closest attention of the large audience from start to finish.

The noble characteristics of Stephen Brice, the young man from Boston, were well exemplified by Mr. Harry English, while Miss Vanduser, a Virginia Carvell, acquitted herself in a most pleasing manner. Mr. Boker as Judge Whipple, Mr. N. Smith as Elphalett Hopper and Mr. Breston as Clarence Colfax, all acted their parts exceedingly well.

The vocal selections by Mr. Griffin and Miss Powers were much enjoyed, the latter being given a triple encore.

Mr. Harkins and his company left this morning for Nova Scotia, where they have a number of engagements to fill before proceeding to the West Indies.

BOMB THROWER.

Warsaw, Russia, March 7.—(Special)—A bomb was thrown at noon today, into a flat occupied by Prince Arturyski, director of the government High School.

The prince was not injured. The bomb thrower, a youth, succeeded in making his escape.

VACANCIES FILLED.

The vacancies on the public accounts committee of the legislature, caused by the retirement of Governor Tweedie and Speaker Osman, have been filled by the appointment of Hon. C. W. Robinson and Mr. Murray.

HOCKEY MATCH.

The St. John Marathons are to play at the Marysville rink on Friday evening. It will likely be the last important game of the season in this locality.

A man wanted his barn whitewashed and he sent for a colored man, and the following conversation took place:—

"Uncle Rastus, what will you charge to whitewash my barn?"

"Two dollars and a half a day."

"I mean what will you do the job for?"

"Well, I'll jest tell you how it am. You see, when you has figgered out de cost of de whitewash and de pails an' de wear and tear on de brushes, sah, you'll find dere is no money in it by de job."

SNARED AT LAST.

Popular Bachelor Member of the Legislature Will Soon Enter the Married State.

From Sussex is wafted to the Herald a pleasant bit of news, respecting one of the good looking and popular members of the legislature.

It is told in that progressive town that Mr. Ora P. King, M. P. P., tiring of single wretchedness, has resolved
