HELPS HUSBAND TO WIN A BRIDE.

Americans Figure in Curious Romance in London Which Has Pathetic Side.

London, May 13.—The story of an American wedding that took place here the other day contains material enough for a good French farce, though from one standpoint it is not lacking in the tragic element.

About three years ago an American woman who had been living apart from her husband for several years, making her home on this side, decided that she must have a divorce. The husband was more than willing, apparently, for he readily furnished the cause which in New York resulted in his wife getting a speedy decree.

Still the woman was not pleased, for the case had not been contested, and instead of accepting one of the many suitors which it is said presented themselves, she began to doubt whether she had wanted a divorce after all.

When a few weeks ago the report reached her that her husband had come over here and become engaged to a young American girl she was sure there had been a mistake. Reading over the copy of the decree she found her former husband was prohibited from marrying again in the State of New York, and she went to consult a solicitor to find out whether there was not some way of fortifying the bans.

Now it happened that the former husband and prospective bridegroom had in the meantime run up against the same difficulty that had confronted several divorced persons who have sought to get married in London this spring, which was that the registrar before consenting to perform the ceremony insisted upon seeing a copy of the divorce decree.

The man had no copy, and to send to New York for one even by cable would mean ten days before it could get here. At this crisis what should the former wife do but send to a member of the family who sympathized with the man her own copy of the decree that it might be shown to the bridegroom-to-be.

He wanted nothing better. Arrived at once to the registrar's office, triumphantly showed the paper and was married.

Mother and Grandmother Fight for Possession of a Boy.

Dawson, May 11.—Never before in the history of the Yukon has there been such a strange case as that heard recently in Judge Macaulay's court. Never before, perhaps, was there a case where the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes waved in each other's faces in so strange a manner.

It was in the case of the little Constable boy, son of "May Walker," as she is known on the vaudeville stage, or Mrs. Constable in the environs of domesticity. During the hearing the story developed several pathetic phases. Again there was other phases and in one instance a little rub as to national choice came up.

May Walker, the mother, objected to her mother having charge of the boy on the ground that the grandmother would take the child to Seattle, and there rear him in American schools, and make a young Yankee of him. Day contended that since she has lived in Canada she has become proud of Canada and Canadian institutions, and wants her boy to become a Canadian. The boy was born in the States.

The grandmother seemed to think it would do no harm for the boy to be an American. The grandmother wants the custody of the boy because she holds the mother is not a suitable person to rear the little fellow.

As to the question of whether the boy should become an American or a Canadian, the judge had nothing to say other than he believed there are good schools in both countries. The question of the lad's future nationality seemed not to be the prime question at issue.

The matter is being considered by the counsel for the two sides, and it may be that an agreement will be arrived at outside the court. The grandmother, who is applying for the permanent custody of the boy, is Mrs. Macrae.

GOOD REASONS FOR ITS SUCCESS.

The majority of catarrh remedies are useless. But one that does cure is "Catarrhine." It clears the head of all mucous discharge. Putrid matter in the nostrils, phlegm in the throat, and disease germs are completely swept away. The cause of the disease is destroyed, it's results are destroyed, and the system so thoroughly cleansed of catarrhal poison that cure is permanent. All types of catarrh, throat and bronchial trouble, colds and coughs are more certainly cured by Catarrhine than any other thing else. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00 at all dealers.

WILD CAT AND MINK FOUGHT TO THE DEATH.

Trapper Watched the Encounter and Finally Shot the Victor.

Port Arthur, Ont., May 11.—One of the largest wildcats ever taken in Rutland county was brought in here a few days ago by Linn Sargent, of Chittenden. Sargent, a sportsman, spent his spare time catching mink, a good skin of which brings $8, and caught the cat while attending to his traps. Some of these had been set along the edge of a brook, and when argent approached one day late in the afternoon to rebait it he heard squeals and low mutterings of two animals.

The trapper had never seen a wildcat or a lynx in the vicinity and he was unprepared for the sight that met his eyes when he peered through the bushes to ascertain the cause of the unusual disturbance. He first observed the cat lying on its stomach over the trap tearing at some object under him. This object was putting up a strong fight, and when Sargent got a little closer he was aware that the feline was battling with a big mink.

The mink had been caught by one foot, but even thus handicapped he was giving the cat all the trouble it wanted. The trapper was so interested in the battle that he forgot all about shooting until the cat had killed the mink and set about eating it. He then cocked his rifle and put a ball through the marauder's head.

Sargent lost a fine mink skin by not shooting sooner but the sale of the cat's pelt paid him in part for his loss.

WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE.

Mr. T. C. Burpee Declines to Run For Provident Fund Board.

Moncton Transcript.—Mr. T. C. Burpee, Engineer of Maintenance of Ways and Works, who was nominated by general hundred employees of the Intercolonial Railway, embracing every department of the service for the position of a Committeeman on the Provident Fund Board has decided to decline the acceptance of the nomination. Mr. Burpee feels that being an official of the road, that it would be better for him not to be a contestant for office. He is, however, very appreciative of the honor done him by the employees in tendering him the nomination for the position, and in declining their largely signed nomination he wished to thank them all for their confidence in him. The nomination paper asking Mr. Burpee to be a candidate for a position on the Provident Fund Board was very largely signed by laboring men in the service, trackmen, shopmen, clerks, and trainmen, who will regret that Mr. Burpee could not see his way clear to remain in the field.

JIM PAUL, SCOUT.

Sportsmen who Engage Jim Must Make Cash Deposits In Future.

Montreal, May 12.—The C. P. R. guides who were at the Pittsburg Sportsmen's Show, returned Thursday. They include Chief "Jim Paul," the head of the tribe of Mellicite Indians 700 strong, whose headquarters are in St. Mary's, N. B.; "Tom Canadian," "Jim Paul's" son-in-law formerly of Caughnawaga, but now of New Brunswick; Donald Bell, of Deshaire; George Elson, of Missinabi and Godfroi Feuz, a Swiss guide whose headquarters are at Glacier.

"Jim Paul," who acted as the spokesman of the party, said he had booked more engagements for fishing and hunting tours, particularly for big game, than he had ever done in his life before.

"Of course," said "Jim," in his Indian way, "I not sure if they all turn up or not, but if they don't they forfeit their deposits, that's all."

"Do you mean they sometimes break their contracts after they engage,"

"Oh lots," was the reply; "but I gets fly to them. This year I no accept contract without deposit."

"What kind of men have broken their contract?"

"Oh rich American! He promise, promise, and mak engagement, an' for get all about Jim Paul, and I get no money. I say now to them, you pay me deposit, and I mak contract, and when I go home I put money in the bank. If you come the money goes towards the pay for my services as guide. If you no come the money is mine. I found the old way not work. I refused gentlemen, thinking I was engaged, and the parties never turned up."

Jim thinks they will be a great hunting season in the New Brunswick woods, which he considers the choicest hunts of big game in Canada.

THE CANADIAN PARTY.

Premier and Some of His Associates Will Tour the Continent.

Ottawa, May 13.—Hon. L. P. Brodeur, in a letter from London, states that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues have had a very strenuous time in London, and have done important work at the Imperial Conference. They plan a period of rest on the continent of Europe and will leave for Paris this week.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Mr. and Madame Brodeur will remain together in Paris and elsewhere on the continent for a few weeks. As soon as the minister of marine is informed that the Canadian government steamer Stanley has been repaired on Clyde, he will join her and proceed in her to the Baltic, where an investigation will take place as to the Russian methods of fighting ice, in order that a comparison may be made between the Stanley and the Russian ice breakers.

BROWN TAIL MOTH.

Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Threatened With New Pest.

Halifax Chronicle: Fruit growers and farmers everywhere are urged by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to be vigilant in detecting the most serious pest in this Province. The "Brown Tail Moth," which, it is feared, has already made its way into Nova Scotia.

Principal Cumming, of the Agricultural College, who was in the city yesterday, told the Chronicle that Professor Smith and Dominion Fruit Inspector Vroom, who have been conducting investigations in Annapolis County, found the pest fairly widespread. One specimen had also been found at Deep Brook, Digby County. Only two specimens have been identified in Kings County, and the "brown tail" appears to have started in the west and to be coming east. It is believed that it was carried from the New England States to Nova Scotia in a vessel.

The appearance of the "brown tails" is a most serious thing for Nova Scotia fruit-growers, in fact the most serious that ever threatened the industry in this Province. The College staff are holding meetings throughout the fruit belt endeavoring to show the farmers how to recognize the insect and to take steps to destroy it. Principal Cumming thinks the pest can be stopped, if the farmers realize the seriousness of the situation. He urges farmers to examine all trees carefully and to destroy all "brown tails" found. Doubtful specimens should be sent to the Agricultural College, Truro, for identification.
