

YORK COUNTY COUNCIL

Ferryman will be Obligated to Give Bonds in Future.

The York Municipal Council met at eleven o'clock on Wednesday morning with the Warden in the chair and all the members present. Among the spectators in attendance were Mr. C. S. Cropley, Mr. Rev. J. J. Colter, John A. Young and James R. Pinder king of New Brunswick.

On motion of Coun. Brooks, seconded by Coun. Masten, L. W. Miller was appointed pound keeper for Southampton in place of A. E. Cron- lile resigned.

Coun. Seena said that there had been trouble in Meadham collecting taxes from foreigners who came there to work. He wanted to know if a bye-law could not be passed compelling these wayfarers to pay a license as soon as they commenced work.

Mr. Bliss promised to look into the matter and report later.

AFTER THE FERRYMEN.

Coun. Grosvenor reported for the committee to amend the ferry by-laws. He recommended that in future all persons operating ferries be compelled to take out an annual license on payment of $1. and forthwith a bond for $100, with two securities, to be approved of by one councillor for the district. He recommended that the bye-laws be amended in that respect.

COUN. SCOTT

said that there were ferryman on the river who had taken out a license for ten years but had only paid the fee one year. He thought they should be compelled to pay annually. Mr. Bliss said that no complaints had ever been made to him under the bye-law. He was ready to act whenever such complaints were made.

Coun. Scott wanted to know whose duty it was to collect the license fee. Mr. Bliss said that if any council for complained to him about a ferryman he would take action. It would be his place to collect a fee if his attention was called to the matter by a councillor.

Coun. Grosvenor said that he thought it was useless to try and enforce a ten years' license against ferryman. He thought that an annual license fee was preferable.

Councillor Timmons complained that a number of the ferry boats on the St. John River were hardly fit to carry a team on. He thought there should be a bye-law, compelling ferryman to give a satisfactory service, and if necessary they should be empowered to increase the fees. He heard of one boat that broke away this season.

Coun. Grosvenor pointed out that the existing bye-law covered the matter complained of by Coun. Timmons. The question of a license was the most important to be considered. In regard to fees the ferryman had authority to charge 20 cents for a single team and thirty cents for a double team.

Coun. Scott again wanted to know whose duty it was to collect the annual fees. In his opinion this was the weak point in the whole matter. They did not want to be hard on the ferryman now when so many bridges were being built.

Coun. Thompson said that the argument used in favor of a ten years' license was that it would induce ferryman to give a better service.

Coun. Brewer thought if ferryman were required to give bonds they should be given some protection. A man who ferried without a license should be subjected to a penalty.

Coun. Grosvenor said that a penalty of $20 was provided in case where unlicensed ferries were operated within three miles of a licensed ferry.

LABOR FOR PRISONERS.

Mr. Bliss read a letter from Judge Wilson suggesting that some provision be made for providing hard labor for youthful offenders sent to the county jail. He pointed that only boys under sixteen years of age could be sent to the reformatory, but when over that age, they either had to be sent to the penitentiary or county jail. His idea was that the lot of land in the rear of the jail be enclosed so that boys sent there could be set to work breaking stone or cutting wood for part of the day.

Warden McFarlane approved heartily of the suggestion and expressed the hope that the council act upon it. He referred to the county jail as a palace.

Coun. Masten thought that it ruined a young man to send him to penitentiary then the law should be changed that he could not be sent there.

Coun. Goodspeed moved that the matter be referred to a committee to investigate and report at the January session.

Coun. Brooks said that he had made a similar suggestion several years ago, but no action had been taken in regard to it. It looked as if a suggestion of that kind had to come from a judge before it could be acted upon.

Coun. Cropley said that Judge Wilson had made a similar suggestion when he was secretary treasurer of the county, but it had never been acted upon. He (Cropley) was always in favor of it.

Coun. Thompson said that the plan was followed for a short time, but a prisoner got away and the jailer had not repeated the experiment. The motion was carried and the council adjourned.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

Handy Little Conveniences That Oil the Domestic Machinery.

One of the greatest conveniences of the kitchen sink is a piece of pumice stone. It may be bought wherever painters' supplies are sold or usually in a drug store, a large piece costing only a few cents. Get the irregular rough stone, not the polished down roll variety.

Every cooking utensil may be cleaned with it, and its irregular form makes it reach the most inaccessible corners of every dish. In using it you will find that it soon shapes itself, if it is not already quite satisfactory, as the rubbing works it off to fit wherever it is most needed. It does not work as well when new because of its irregular surface, but this soon disappears. Kettles which have been burned black, as they will be sometimes, are restored by pumice stone to their pristine smoothness and polish. No chain dishcloth ever can approach it, and one who tries it will never be without it again. A piece lasts a long time.

When a kettle threatens to boil over grease the rim lightly all around with a bit of butter. The contents will touch this danger line, but will not pass it. Steppans in which vegetables are boiling may be treated in the same way.

To clean dainty table covers or silk and muslin on the soiled spots and put away for a few days. Put plenty on both sides. When wanted for use again brush well, and the spots will be gone.

To wash woolen blankets dissolve soap enough to make a good suds in boiling water and add a tablespoonful of aqua ammonia. When scalding hot turn over your blankets. If convenient use a poulder or any way to work thoroughly through the suds without rubbing on a board. Rinse well in hot water. There is usually soap enough from the first suds to make the second soft. If not add a little soap and ammonia and after being put through a wringer let two persons, standing opposite, pull them into shape. Dry in the sun. White flannels may be washed in the same way without shrinking.

The Original CORN CURE.

That doesn't cure the corn. Just apply the old standby, Putnam's Corn Extractor. It acts like magic. Kills the pain, cures the corn, does it without burn or scar. Get the best—It's "Putnam's."

AN EXCELLENT MODEL FOR UNDERWAIST AND DRAWERS.

A practical underwaist which answers all of the requirements of the undeveloped figure is given as a suggestion for the home sewer. The waists closes in back and is fitted by its underarm and side-back seams. The neck may be round as shown or high if desired. The drawers are of the newest shape and just what every girl needs for general wear. They are easily full at the waistband and flare a little at the lower edge where a few tucks or a ruffle may complete them. The usual materials may serve of which 12 yards 36 inches wide are needed for the underwaist and 14 yards for the drawers in the medium size.

ANOTHER GREAT DISCOVERY.

A well known gentleman in Black Bay, Ont., Mr. John Cowan, has discovered an absolute specific for rheumatism and writes: "I was affected with Sciatica and chronic rheumatism which I contracted years ago. The disease had a great hold in my blood, and it was hard to make any impression on it. Reading of Ferrone's I was convinced of its merit and tried. Why it just drove away the rheumatism. Even stiffened old sufferers will experience quick results. The reason is that Ferrone acts through the blood and thereby destroys the cause of the disease. Price 50c. per box at all dealers."

Rest at Last.

STEEL KNIFE IN THE FLESH.

That's the sensation experienced by Robert Price of Hecaton, Ont. He knew it was sciatica and of course used "Nerviline." As usual it cured and he says: "No liniment can excel Polson's Nerviline. Severe pains made my side lame. It was like a steel knife running through the flesh. I rubbed in lots of Nerviline and completely cured." A regular snap for Nerviline to ease Sciatica and rheumatism. It sinks into the core of the pain, cures it in short order. Large 25c. bottles at all dealers.

A HINT WORTH TAKING.

Skirt Braid Put on in Fifteen Minutes by This Plan.

You can put a skirt braid on in fifteen minutes by this plan. Mark the line where your skirt is to be turned either by basting thread or use the line of chalk already marked if you have measured it by a skirt gauge. Put the bottom of your skirt into the machine, right side of goods up, before crossing the hem.

Lay the braid along on the part that is to be turned under, letting one edge always touch the marked line. Stitch it on the other edge, which you can do simply by holding it as you sew and without basting or pinning. When the hem is turned up the braid is in place and stitched at the top edge.

If liked better to be fastened at both edges stitch twice once near the marked line.

A little more intricate is sewing braid on in a roll. Get a bit of goods and braid and mark the turning line with a pencil for a sample, as it will save the time needed to work it out later on to have both the sample and directions pinned to a blank page in your sewing book. Lay the braid along the marked line just opposite from the way you did before. It will lie up on the skirt this time instead of down. Stitch it along the marked line, slipping it down just a hairbreadth, so that your stitching will come just below the basting thread. When stitched turn the braid down, but not the cloth. You will have to baste it this time, as pressing it over would make it flat instead of in a "roll." Stitch it again at the bottom edge, and when the hem of the dress is turned up it leaves the roll at the bottom.
