TO CURE A COUGH.

A noted authority on lung trouble advises that as soon as a cold is contracted the following simple treatment should be given. The ingredients can be purchased from any prescription druggist at small cost and easily prepared in your own home. It is said to be so effective that it will break up a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable. Take a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of Glycerine, and eight ounces of good Whiskey. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours. Be sure that the Virgin Oil (Pure) is in the original half-ounce vials, which are put up expressly for druggists to dispense. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case with engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario, plainly printed thereon. Only the adulterated oils are sold in bulk; these create nausea and never effect the desired results.

New Atlantic Record Breakers.
It will be a twelvemonth before the Mauretania is ready for sea, and somewhat less before the Lusitania makes her initial voyage. When, however, these vessels get to work, the Atlantic passage ought to be cut down to five days, for under the agreement with the British Government they are to be capable of maintaining a minimum average speed of from 24 to 25 knots per hour in moderate weather. They should thus be a knot or a knot and a half faster than the Kaiser Wilhelm II. of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd Co., which now stands in the first rank. What the further reduction of the Atlantic passage implies to the British Empire is as yet perhaps imperfectly understood. It may mean that we shall see a further substantial cutting down of the Canadian route to the Far East, thanks to the adoption of the turbine both on the Atlantic and on the Pacific, and that people may presently be able to travel round the world by way of the Dominion, Japan and the Trans-Siberian Railway within the compass of a holiday of quite reasonable length.—Daily

THE FRENCH HUSBAND.

Always, as a Rule, Anxious to Do the Agreeable Thing.

The French husband has a faculty that amounts almost to a genius for bestowing the delicate attentions which cost little except the exercise of a modicum of tact and thoughtfulness, but which carry joy to every true woman's heart. He not only thinks to take home to her often (in the absence of the means to make a larger offering) a ten cent bunch of violets, pinks or roses from the flower market or the itinerant flower vender's barrow on his route, but he presents them gallantly with the compliment and the caress the occasion calls for, and thus makes them confer a pleasure out of all proportion to their intrinsic worth.

He remembers her birthday or fête day with a potted plant, a bit of game, a box of bonbons, a cake from the pastry cook's or a bottle of good wine. He is marvelously fertile in expedients for making the time pass quickly and agreeably for her. He has a thousand amusing and successful devices for helping her to renew her youth. He projects unique and joyous Sunday and holiday excursions. He improvises dainty little banquets. He is a past master especially in the art of conjuring up amiable mysteries and preparing charming little surprises. And in all these trivial enterprises he vindicates the old French theory that true courtesy consists in taking a certain amount of pains to order our words and our manners that others "be content with us and with themselves."

The American husband is particularly solicitous to do the proper thing; the French husband to do the agreeable thing.—Independent.

ROMANCE OF ALABAMA IRON.

Pioneer of Country Took $2,500,000 For Properties and Then Lost It.

The Christopher Columbus of Birmingham, Ala., iron region is a man who is still alive, active and opening up new treasure fields—Henry F. DeBardeleben. He has been the most successful and the most unfortunate of Alabama pioneers. Like the blind men which dug up worms only to have them snatched away by her lazy barn-yard companions, he has been laboring for twenty-seven years to enrich others who lacked his enterprise and hardihood. He is the millionaire maker of the south. He earns and loses fortunes with the indifference of a stoic. If he had been as able to hold as he is to acquire he might now be the Andrew Carnegie of Alabama.

THE CREATOR OF BESSEMER.

DeBardeleben was at one time the owner of the greater part of Red Mountain, in which lies scores of buried millions. He was the creator of Bessemer, the Marvel City of the South. In 1892 he was probably the wealthiest man in the district, owning the pick of the ore and coal lands near Birmingham, and also furnaces, coke ovens, and the like. The unusual sight of a pioneer in control of millions attracted the attention of a syndicate of New York capitalists. They approached DeBardeleben diplomatically, and led him on to accept $2,500,000 for all his possessions. This was a low price, but the property was rated at three times as much a few years later; but it was a good reward for a dozen years of work, and DeBardeleben contented to retire.

LOST $2,500,000 IN SIX WEEKS.

The members of the syndicate, however, had other plans for his future. Several of them brought the unsophisticated prospector to New York, and taught him the royal art of spending. He plunged into the Wall Street wilderness with his usual daring and self-confidence, but soon learned that it was unlike the Alabama wilderness in which he had found his money. In six weeks he had lost every dollar of his $2,500,000.

BACK TO WORK FOR $25 A WEEK.

Finding his way back to Birmingham, he appeared, penniless, in the office of the New York corporation, asking for any kind of employment. He was taken on at a salary of $25 a week—less than he had been able to spend every moment of his incredible six weeks. After a time he was discharged, and walking the streets a workless, penniless, moneyless man, deprived by magic, as it seemed to him, of the enormous wealth he had created. But those who imagined that his career was ended knew little of the recuperative power of DeBardeleben.

Striking into the depths of the mountains once more, he took up the work of pioneering, in which he was a master, and with his usual success located new beds of coal and ore.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.

Fourteenth Annual Exhibition in Madison Square Garden, New York, March 1-9.

The 14th annual Sportsman's Show will be held in Madison Square Garden beginning Friday, March 1, and closing Saturday night, March 9. It will be under the auspices of the National Sportsmen's Association and under the personal direction of Capt. J. A. H. Dressel, the man who has made previous Sportsman's Shows in New York complete successes and the most important sporting events of the entire year to hundreds of thousands of men and women.

The coming Sportsman's Show will be the greatest ever held and will be strictly a show for sportsmen with the side attractions eliminated. The general plan of the show will be the same as that of last year. It cannot not be improved because it is not only the result of the vast experience of Capt. Dressel, but also the result of the combined suggestions of scores of the most noted sportsmen of the country who know possibly nothing about virtually all but who know all about sports and the features that most interested sportsmen. Special features will be added and new faces from newly developed hunting sections will be seen, but the standard features will be the camps and guides, trophies and exhibits from every known hunting and sporting section of the United States, Canada and Labrador.

Each camp will be built in the great Madison Square Garden, each as it is in its native field and the guides at each camp will be the famous guides whom hunters meet each year in these particular sections, and who are perfect mines of information about their own country. This knowledge of the guides and their willingness to impart it cheerfully to visitors is an interesting and important feature, at it enables visitors to the Sportsman's Show to gain an accurate knowledge of virtually all parts of the country that could not be gained otherwise except through a personal visit. This also makes sportsmen.

Canada, Wyoming, Nova Scotia, Texas, Maine, California, Kentucky and Labrador will be among the sections represented by white and red men. The railroads that tap the hunting sections of the country will send interesting exhibits and the loan collections of trophies and firearms will be of particular interest to visitors. Live game from many sections will give the Garden and out-of-door atmosphere that will be pleasing. The great Garden will be transformed from a commonplace exhibition hall to a veritable panorama of sporting life with its decorations of balsam firs, its log cabins, tents, Indian fires and camp fires. Besides the live game there will be a wonderful exhibit of tarpon and a tank filled with the treasures of the New York Aquarium and exhibits from the New York Zoological Gardens.

THE CHINOOK IN ALBERTA.

Ladies Appear on the Streets of Macleod Without Hats.

Macleod, Alta., Feb. 7.—A chinook wind set in yesterday morning, and the snow went fast. It was so warm that ladies were seen on the streets without head-covering. Range cattle, so numerous during the cold spell, have been driven out of town. The town has been put to considerable expense having the dead animals hauled away from the streets where they had died. On a river bottom not far from Macleod nearly seven thousand range cattle have been bunched up during the storm. Of this number, more than half, it is said, will perish. So sudden a change of the weather may do more harm than the intense cold. The animals have injured themselves by drinking too much snow water.

The grist mill has been finished at last, and will soon be started grinding up our No 1 hard wheat and converting it into flour of the finest quality.

What a lot of things you wouldn't do if you thought your friends would findout them.

Wisdom is the fruit of experience. Look out for things that won't bear looking into.

A kiss on the lips is worth two on the hand.

Heaviness, Lassitude, Drowsy and Dull.

Do You Feel That Way?

How provoking these symptoms are! You sleep well, but when you awaken there is none of the exhilaration that sleep and rest should confer.

Instead of being alert, having quickness of apprehension, there is languor, dullness, a disinclination to do things.

Three causes for this feeling. Lazy liver, lazy kidneys and a mighty lazy stomach which does its work very poorly and compels the other organs to do things they are unequal to for any length of time.

Note the consequence—blood is filled with wastes—poisons weigh down the nervous system—rebuilding processes are absolutely stopped.

You'll note an instant change when you take Ferrozone.

Appetite improves, digestion becomes good as ever—skin grows ruddy and clear, all sense of languor, unrest and depression fades away and finally disappears.

Ferrozone clarifies the brain, supplies tone and vigor, imparts clearness and strength. You feel like a new person, full of life, full of ambition, ready to do things—and able to do them also.

Think it over. Ferrozone is a tonic that uplifts, upbuilds that nourishes and restores the sick by supplying the elements their weakened system need.

It can't help but do you good. For men, women and children, in fact any one seeking strength and health, Ferrozone is invaluable; try it, sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

Strigent Bill Introduced in Parliament by Mr. Templeman.

The Minister of Inland Revenue has introduced a bill in parliament to regulate the sale of patent and proprietary medicines. The bill is the result of an investigation by a house committee last year. Under the act no medicine can be sold until a sample has been sent to the minister with a sworn statement of the amount of alcohol and poisonous matter it contains. All sold must correspond with the sample. An inland revenue stamp must be attached to every package or bottle of medicine offered for sale. If analysis shows the sample does not correspond to the statement accompanying it, or if the minister considers the medicine unfit for use, the compounder and dealer will be notified, and given an opportunity to be heard. If the minister still regards the compound as unsuitable he may prohibit the manufacture, importation or sale of the preparation.

The act will apply not merely to the regular wholesale manufacturer or importer, but to any one who makes or imports proprietary or patent medicines for direct sale to consumers. Distribution from door to door of samples of medicine is prohibited. The presence of Cocaine in a medical patent or proprietary preparation will result in its prohibition. The maximum penalty for violation are a fine of $500 and imprisonment for a year.

HAWAII'S SEA SERPENT.

Fishermen Driven From Their Grounds by the Monster.

Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 11.—Native fishermen have been driven from their favorite grounds through terror of a sea serpent. The monster is described by them as a serpent, but some of the less terror-stricken people think that it is an eel. In any event, the monster is about ten feet in length and is about as big around the body as the neck of an average sized man. It attacked some natives recently, causing them to drop their spears and lights in terror and flee for the shore.

The natives are in the habit of spearing eels at night, but the monster has deprived them of their favorite dish. A reward has been offered for the capture of the big eel. There has been bad weather recently, and it is thought that the eel followed some schools of small fish inside of the reef. Few, if any, natives can be induced to venture into the water in the neighborhood of where the big serpent or eel was last seen.

SHE WAS WILD WITH PAIN.

From Willow Creek, Ont., Miss E. Diegel writes: "A few years ago I was drenched with rain and got lumbago; it was like a steel rod piercing my back. I also had carache and was just wild with pain. I applied bathing soaked with Nerviline to my ear and rubbed on Nerviline for the lumbago. That rubbing relieved and in a few hours I was well. No other liniment could do this." It's the penetrating power of Nerviline that makes it superior to all other liniments. Nothing beats it, 25c. at all dealers.
