HEARTY RECEPTION.

on behalf of the congregation read the following address:

To the Rev. John J. Ryan,
Parish Priest of St. Anthony's Parish
St. Mary's, New Brunswick.

Reverend Father:—Your people are gathered this evening to rejoice in your home coming, after a few months sojourn in distant lands. Eleven years ago you came to labor in this vast and undeveloped parish. You were then only a few years in the ministry; but you had exceptional administrative abilities and you found here a fit scene for their employment. Today you are known throughout this diocese and beyond its bounds as a priest, who inspired with a noble ambition, filled with hope in the midst of adversities, undaunted by difficulties, pursued with unceasing energy, the end in view, and who by unremitting toil duty, the blending of counsel, comfort and guide, priest, instructor and father, which make the Catholic clergyman revered among their people, have all found their proper place in you. Well may your parishioners apply to you the words of the psalm: "But Christ's love and His Apostles twelve."

He taught, but first he followed it Himself. Worn out by these cares, the time came when you could no longer bear the burden, and you found it necessary to ask for leave of absence from the parish, that amidst other surroundings you might endeavor to obtain a restoration to that health which had failed, and we, your people, are pleased to learn that you are returning completely recovered. The only source of sorrow on this occasion is the necessity of the withdrawal of the Rev. Father McLaughlin. During his stay here he has won the hearts of all by his painstaking labor in their behalf, and we wish that he, too, might remain to assist you in your duties.

Reverend Father, as an expression, but not as a measure, of our esteem and affection, we offer you this purse, subscribed from the scattered sections of your parish. Your parishioners are not endowed with riches, but from an abundance of good will, they extend to you a hearty welcome home again and with united voice they join in expressing the hope that you may long be spared to employ your sacerdotal ministrations amongst them.

Rev. Father Ryan, in reply, said he could not find words to describe his thanks for the expressions of well he had received. He had been away for some months and had travelled a great deal in England and Ireland, and had been well treated by those whom he had met in the old land, but he could assure those present that many times there had come to his mind the words of the old song:

"Mid pleasure and palaces tho' we may roam, be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Regarding the work which they were good enough, to say he had done, he had always been helped by their generous co-operation. When he first came to St. Mary's, the good Bishop Sweeney told him he was coming to a good people who only needed some one to direct them. He had found this to be true, he had been received in a hearty manner and received assistance which had not abated in after years and which none could appreciate better than himself.

He referred at length to the friendly relations existing between his parishioners and himself. He was delighted to be back, but was sorry that the good young priest, Father McLaughlin would have to leave. Continuing, Father Ryan expressed his thanks and appreciation to Father McLaughlin for the hard work and deep interest he had taken in the parish during his absence.

Concluding, the priest again thanked his people from the bottom of his heart for their expressions of kindness and good will and wished them every blessing and happiness. An informal welcome was then given to Father Ryan and his mother, and a pleasant half hour was spent in social conversation.

Father Ryan has recovered his health and is looking remarkably well after his sojourn in the old land. It has not yet been decided where Father McLaughlin will locate, but seems as if some magic power had wrought the transformation. But this is only the material aspect of your work.

Over and above all has been an uninterrupted labor for the spiritual uplifting of your people. The constant care, the unflinching devotion to duty, the blending of counsel, comfort and guide, priest, instructor and father, which make the Catholic clergyman revered among their people, have all found their proper place in you. Well may your parishioners apply to you the words of the psalm: "But Christ's love and His Apostles twelve."

Could Have Saved His Wood. A number of years ago a village in the eastern part of the town of Middleboro was very much wrought up over the introduction of a musical instrument in its church service. At the final meeting when the matter was to be settled excitement ran high. One man whose reputation for honest dealings was not always above suspicion made a fiery speech in opposition. A neighbor whose back yard joined the speaker's could hardly wait for the close of the remarks. Then, jumping to his feet, without waiting to address the chairman, he said: "Gosh, sir, if I had known the gentleman was so afraid of an organ I should have had one hung on my wood pile years ago."
