AWFUL CONDITIONS.

Another Western Blizzard Killing Off the Range Cattle.

MacLeod, Alta., Feb. 1.—(Special)—The outlook on the range is becoming daily more desperate, and the cattle are dying thick and fast.

It was eighteen below zero on Wednesday night, but Thursday morning a chinook came up and a thaw began.

Unfortunately the hopes of ranchers and others were speedily blasted by the warm wave was displaced by a raging blizzard as suddenly as it came. The storm is one of the worst of the season and the mercury is dropping fast.

The cattle are skin-poor, and if the cold weather continues the majority of them will be food for packs of wolves, and coyotes now eagerly consuming the half famished and tired out herds. The great drove of cattle which invaded this town this week, came from Little Bow and other northern points.

NEW SOLICITOR GENERAL

Toronto, Feb. 1.—(Special)—A Globe Ottawa special says the appointment of Mr. Jacques Bureau, M. P. for Three Rivers, to be solicitor-general is now regarded as a certainty.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—It has been officially decided that J. Bureau, M. P. for Three Rivers will be appointed solicitor-general, a position that has been vacant since the promotion of Hon. R. Lemieux, to be postmaster-general.

UNWELCOME CALLER.

Carrie Nation Wanted to See Roosevelt, but was Denied Admittance at White House.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(Special)—Carrie Nation started on the war-path yesterday.

She went up to the White House in full to see President Roosevelt, but she walked right in and turned right round and walked right out again, because a big, good-natured policeman blocked the way. She was told she was persona non grata at the executive mansion.

"There isn't any king in this country," shouted the picturesque reformer, "although it begins to look that way. The meanest cigarette fiend in Christendom can walk in these doors, yet I am refused—a gray-haired, honest, virtuous American woman. It is a shame. This building does not belong to Theodore Roosevelt. It belongs to the American people. This door should never be shut in the face of a respectable woman. It is a shame, that's what it is. I want to get in there."

"Nothing doing," grinned the policeman, and Carrie faded away. A year ago she was ejected from the White House because she talked loud in Secretary Loeb's office, and the policeman knew what to expect if she got in again.

Carrie has located permanently in Washington. She says the capital needs cleaning up worse than Oklahoma.

Montreal, Feb. 1.—(Special)—The stock market was feverish today.

A determined effort which was made to rally the market towards the close yesterday, combined with the buying of shrewd traders always ready for such emergencies, had a beneficial effect, and prices were much stronger today, although there is evidently some liquidation to reckon with.

TRIBUTE TO MR. BLAIR.

Pronounced by Rev. Mr. Goucher, Baptist Clergyman of St. Stephen, in His Sermon Last Sunday.

St. Stephen Courier.—By way of introduction to his sermon last Sunday evening at the Union Street Baptist church, the pastor made reference to the sudden death of Hon. Mr. Blair. Among other things he said: We have been touchingly reminded during the past week that death is no respecter of persons, that he summons alike the old and the young, that he knocks impartially at the cottage of poverty and the abode of the rich. In the sudden and almost tragic death of the Hon. A. G. Blair New Brunswick mourns her most gifted son, and Canada one of the ablest men who have appeared in public life since Confederation.

By those qualified to judge, there was a time, when his reputation as an administrator was at its zenith, when he stood only second in political power to the premier of Canada. Granted, he made mistakes—the wonder is that a man with his indomitable energy, remarkable daring and determination should have made so few.

HELLO GIRLS STRIKE.

300 Operators in Toronto Telephone Office Walk Out and Demoralize Service.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—At one o'clock yesterday an order was issued at the central office of the Bell Telephone Co. requiring the operators to sign an agreement to work eight hours a day and to accept the new working basis or to resign. As a result about three hundred operators left their switches and the city service is paralyzed. It is stated that only two operators on the local boards remained on duty, and that those of the long distance operators who have not thrown in their lot with the others are being employed on the local switches.

The company is bringing girls from outside points as far east as Montreal. Mackenzie King, deputy minister of labor, is here trying to settle the difficulty.

TO APPOINT ASSESSORS.

The city council at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening next will be required to appoint a board of assessors for the ensuing year. It is rumored in civic circles that there may possibly be some changes. If the bill prepared by the Tax Commission passes the legislature, it will undoubtedly govern the present year's assessment.

TRURO'S SENSATION.

Dishman, the Negro Candidate for Mayor, Nominated by Whites as Well as Blacks.

Truro, N. S., Feb. 1.—Had Mayor Murray given any consideration whatever to a matter of pique Truro would have for its chief executive a colored man named William Dishman.

This man was nominated by five whites and twenty-four colored citizens, voters on the civic list.

Of the five whites, two are ex-councillors, namely E. C. MacKenzie, of the firm of Mackenzie and Sons, butchers and provision dealers, and the other D. Campbell Black is a wealthy retired farmer. The other whites are not so well known, but have nevertheless taken quite an active interest in the civic elections in past years.

There are about one hundred and twenty colored voters in Truro, and if all these vote for their compatriot with the floating vote, which is even free and easy, may show surprising results on election day, especially if the opposition to Mayor Murray is taken at all as seriously as some of his opponents allege.

MR. ROWLEY HEARD FROM.

Bank Agent at Kingston, Jamaica, Writes to Relatives About the Earthquake.

Mr. Alfred Rowley of Marysville today received a letter from his son, Mr. A. H. Rowley, manager of the bank of Nova Scotia at Kingston, Jamaica, giving some details of the terrible earthquake, which destroyed that city a short time ago. He says that the shock came in the afternoon during his absence from the bank.

The other members of the staff, however, were at work and had a pretty close call of it. They were greatly alarmed and would have made a dash for the street, but for the coolness and presence of mind of Assistant Manager Murray. He induced the clerks to remain at their post, and they succeeded in getting all the money and papers safely stored away in the vault. Before they had finished the job the whole front of the building collapsed. Fire afterwards broke out and levelled what remained of the structure to the ground.

The vault of the bank was opened by a charge of dynamite a few days later, when it was found that the money and papers remained intact, thanks to the foresight of the assistant manager.

The bank has reopened business in temporary quarters, and everything is being done to restore public confidence.

Mr. Rowley states that his residence situated some distance from the bank was destroyed by the earthquake but his wife and children escaped injury. They sought refuge at the home of a neighbor, and they have since been living part of the time out of doors.

QUEBEC FINANCES.

Treasurer Tessier Announces a Surplus—Commercial Tax to be Abolished.

Quebec, Feb. 1.—Hon. Mr. Tessier, the new treasurer of the province, made his first budget speech yesterday, showing that the receipts and expenditures had been as follows: Ordinary receipts, $5,340,180. Ordinary expenditure, $5,012,417. The extraordinary expenditure paid out of ordinary revenue had been $157,349. Thus the excess of the ordinary receipts over both ordinary and extraordinary expenditure had been $160,349. His predecessor had properly included in the ordinary receipts the amounts derived from the sales of timber limits. Nevertheless he had found that by deducting from the ordinary receipts the proceeds of the sales effected during the year there would still remain an excess of $74,204 ordinary receipts over ordinary expenditure.

The treasurer estimated that the revenue for the next fiscal year would be $4,790,140 and the expenditure $4,636,820, leaving a surplus of $153,320.

Announcement was made that the tax on commercial travellers had been abolished and that the taxes on railways and other large corporations would be increased.

FROM THE TOBIQUE.

Mr. Donald Fraser, Jr., who has charge of his concern's mills at Plaster Rock, is among the visitors to the city today. Speaking to a Herald representative he said that the present winter had been a very favorable one for lumber operators on the Tobique and satisfactory progress was being made. He thought the total cut would be about equal to that of last year. His firm at the present time are only operating two of their three mills at Plaster Rock, and are manufacturing crate lumber, box shooks, flooring etc. The firm have been obliged to quit sawing laths owing to the unsatisfactory state of the American market. Mr. Fraser said that no decision had yet been reached in regard to rebuilding the Aberdeen mill.

Dr. C. Todd, a son of Rev. F. D. Todd and formerly of Milltown, Me., has been elected president of the Oklahoma Medical Association. Dr. Todd, who is a graduate of Acadia with the class of '99, is now practising his profession in Oklahoma.

HORSEWHIPPED BY JUDGE.

Meridian, Miss., Feb. 1.—Judge Robert J. Cochran horsewhipped H. T. Jenkins, a travelling man, in the lobby of the Grand Avenue Hotel here in the presence of a large crowd, many of whom were women.

U. R. L. Murray, a friend of the judge, held Jenkins up with a revolver while the rawhide was laid on his back. At the outset Jenkins sparred with the judge, striking him a severe blow on the jaw and laying him flat on his back. Immediately Murray drew his revolver. Cochran and Murphy were arrested and released on bond. No attempt was made to arrest Jenkins.

The trouble between the two, which created a great sensation in the community, grew out of fines imposed by Judge Cochran on Jenkins for whipping a negro, and for another case in which the judge had him indicted.

The marriage of Everett Andrew Murchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. M. Murchie formerly of St. Stephen, and Miss Shumaker took place at Kansas City Jan. 13.

Two barristers of the names of Doyle and Yelverton were constantly quarrelling before the Bench. One day the dispute arose so high that the incensed Doyle knocked down his adversary, exclaiming vehemently:

"You scoundrel! I'll make you behave like a gentleman!"

The other, smarting under the blow as he lay on the ground, energetically replied:

"No, never! I defy you! You cannot do it, sir!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.
