GOODSPEED FREE.

Accessory in the Murder of Willie Doherty at St. John, has Completed His Prison Term and Left for the United States.

A SENSATIONAL TRAGEDY RECALLED.

St. John, May 20.—(Special)—Fred Goodspeed, who was an accessory in the murder of Willie Doherty four years ago, and has been serving a term in Dorchester penitentiary, is at liberty. He was in the city last week, and left Saturday to begin life over again in a New England town. It will be remembered that on Aug. 1, 1902, Willie Doherty was murdered, and some days later his body was discovered in Rockwood park by a man in the employ of the Horticulture association, who informed the police of the matter. In the course of an investigation the then famous Tan-yard gang were suspected of some connection with the tragedy, and two of the members, Frank Higgins and Fred Goodspeed, were suspected and placed under arrest. Chief Clark managed to weave quite a chain of evidence against the lads, who were placed on trial Sept. 16, 1902. Higgins on the charge of murder, and Goodspeed as accessory. Goodspeed told the story of the tragedy, and accused Higgins of the crime. Higgins also swore to the same story, only he declared that Goodspeed committed the murder. The trial was a lengthy one, and proved one of the biggest sensations in the annals of the criminal history of this province. Higgins was adjudged guilty, and sentenced by Judge Landry to death, but the sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment, and he was sent to Dorchester. Goodspeed was sentenced to five years and three months in the reformatory, and after having been there for a time, struck a guard with an iron bar, in an attempt to escape. Later he was sent to Dorchester. He was liberated Monday and reached here Thursday, and left Saturday to recommence life in the neighboring republic.

Amherst, N. S., May 20.—(Special)—The very sudden death of Millidge Chapman took place at Fort Lawrence, yesterday. Deceased, who was 57 years of age, was taken sick on Saturday afternoon, but yesterday morning remarked that he felt much better, and wanted to get up, but before ten o'clock was dead. He was postmaster at Fort Lawrence for many years, and was a member of one of the oldest families in the county, his father being one of the first settlers at Fort Lawrence. Rev. Douglas Chapman, D. D., the well known Methodist divine, is a brother, another brother, Martin, lives on the homestead at Fort Lawrence, and his wife and one son, Robert C., of California, survive him. He was a man highly respected.

CHARLOTTE SUICIDE.

Well-to-do Farmer in Fit of Despondency Shot Himself Dead.

St. Stephen, May 20.—(Special)—The farming district of Little Ridge in Charlotte County, was startled Sunday to learn that one of the neighbors had committed suicide. The victim, Benjamin Anderson, who was a well-to-do Danish farmer, told his only son yesterday morning that he intended to kill himself, but after conversation with the son who urged his father to go to Mill town and reside with him, the father shooting.

BORDEN DISAPPOINTED.

Tory Delegates in Session at Montreal Out of Harmony and Meeting was a Failure.

Montreal, May 20.—About fifty Conservative members of the House of Commons and senators together with party candidates met by appointment at the Windsor Hotel last week. The meeting was for the purpose of reaching some understanding as to a plan of campaign to be adopted during the coming season. Mr. Borden returned to Ottawa after the meeting very much discouraged before it became evident that it was impossible to reach common meeting.

THE GIBSON ROAD.

Provincial Government Not Responsible for Its Wretched Condition.

Mr. Fowler's newspaper is quite justified, no doubt, in calling public attention to the disgraceful condition of the highway road running through St. Mary's and Gibson, but when it undertakes to lay the blame upon the provincial government and the highway act, it goes quite beyond the bounds of fairness as well as truthfulness. The Herald has taken the trouble to make some enquiries in the public interest, and has learned that the road complained of does not come within the scope of the highway act, neither is it under the control of the provincial government, therefore the blame will have to rest upon other shoulders. The road from the Douglas parish line to the boundary of the town of Marysville is solely under the control of the people of the villages of St. Mary's and Gibson. They assess themselves for the care of this road, and appoint their road-master, under whose direction the money is expended. The fact that it is at the present time the worst piece of road in York county, would seem to be a strong argument in favor of the highway act, which applies to all the other roads of the county, except those in the city of Fredericton and town of Marysville. In regard to the withdrawal of the Peterson busses it may, as the organ says, cause inconvenience to some people, but as the road is certain to be repaired in the course of a few weeks, the buss service, is it a paying one, will no doubt then be restored.

The machine was deposited in the bureau just before it exploded by two men and a girl. The police pursued, wounded and captured the men, but the girl escaped. The leader of the trio turned out to be a Terrorist, named Tcherikoff.

After the ceremony Captain and Mrs. Fielden left for Boston and New York, and will live for the summer at Irvington, on the Hudson. THE RIVER RISING.

The water in the river here has risen a foot since Saturday, and is still coming up at about the same rate. The rise is due to the warm weather, which is melting the snow in the woods at the head of the river. There has been a big run of new logs at the booms for several days.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, formerly Miss Nellie Wetmore, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. T. Carleton Allen.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

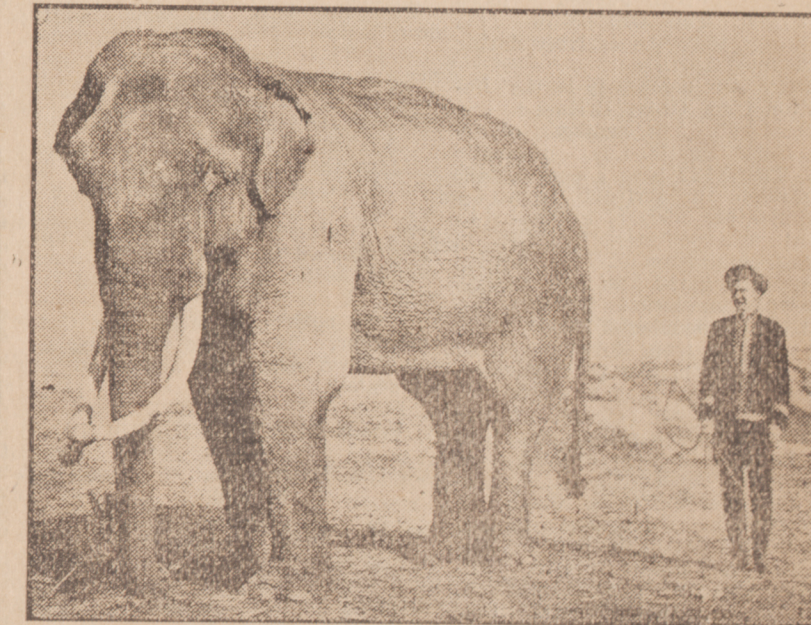

Said that Premier Pugsley Will Resign Next Week---Hon. C. W. Robinson Will be the New Premier.

It is understood that immediately following a meeting of the provincial government, to be held in Fredericton next week, William Pugsley will tender to his honor the lieutenant-governor his resignation as premier. As has already been intimated, the new premier will be Hon. Clifford W. Robinson, the present provincial secretary. The matter is said to have been under consideration at the meeting of the government held in St. John on Saturday and the course mentioned decided on. Among other matters under consideration at the meeting was the correspondence between his excellency the governor-general and the lieutenant-governor, with reference to the former's visit to the province during the summer. Arrangements will be made for a suitable entertainment for the governor-general at Fredericton. This will include a trip on the St. John river. The government appointed N. S. Dow dairy inspector for the counties of Carleton and Victoria. Mr. Dow has had considerable experience in connection with dairy work and teachers' institute lectures. It is understood the appointment is temporary, pending the return of the commissioner of agriculture, and has been rendered necessary by increased activity in the manufacture of creamery butter, the time of the other inspectors in the province being fully occupied. The smallpox accounts for Victoria county and the cities of St. John and Moncton were passed, and ordered paid. The bill for Victoria county amounted to $761.81; for St. John, $1,056.86, and for Moncton, $721.18. On Saturday afternoon the members of the government met as commissioners of the provincial hospital, and had under consideration the improvements in the institution and the fixing of the salary for the medical superintendent to cover rent and living expenses in accordance with the recommendation of the public accounts committee last session. It is understood the matter will be settled at the next meeting.

LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE.

Negotiations to Settle Montreal Trouble Are Off for the Present.

Montreal, May 20.—(Special)—The Longshoremen's labor trouble assumed a new phase today, which culminated in the departure for Ottawa of F. A. Acland, representative of the Federal labor department. On Saturday night the Longshoremen's Union officially took a hand, but were refused consideration by the shipping federation, which then withdrew all its offers. This morning through Mr. Acland's influence, negotiations were reopened, and the federation renewed to the dock laborers, but not to the union the offer of half of their demands with arbitration for the other half. This offer was refused by a general meeting, and the Union withdrew from all connection with the strike. The president of the Union resigning from the position of leadership of strikers. Dock laborers now stand firm for full demands of 4 cents, and the outlook is for an extended contest. Before leaving Mr. Acland informed both parties that he was ready to return as soon as he could be of any service in the negotiations.

In the zoological exhibit of the great Hargreaves' Railroad Shows, which are scheduled to give after noon and evening performances in Fredericton, Tuesday, June 4, may be seen "Jumbo, the Second," positively the largest elephant known to be in existence. A vague idea of the enormous proportions of this phenomenal pachyderm may be gained from the facts that he weighs twelve thousand pounds and towers to a height of twelve feet, two inches in height; but "Jumbo, the Second" must be seen to be fully appreciated. Notwithstanding his giant size, "Jumbo, the Second" is compelled by a mere woman, Miss Mabel Hall, the only woman elephant trainer in all the world, to perform a series of exceedingly clever tricks. Whilst we are talking about elephants, we venture to assert that the following, in this connection, from the book, "The Training of Wild Animals," by that celebrated trainer, Frank C. Bostock, will be read with considerable interest. "Elephants also 'go bad,' and there is even more danger with these huge beasts than with lions and tigers; for they may break out and kill and injure a great number of people besides causing an immense amount of damage by tearing up and destroying property. 'Most people have heard how many valuable elephants have had to be killed owing to their becoming 'rogues.' A rogue elephant is a terrible creature in more ways than one, for his huge bulk and enormous strength make him not only a formidable enemy, but his cunning and viciousness can be appreciated only by those who have come in constant contact with him. 'There appears to be no especial fear for an elephant going bad, but the majority of these animals become dangerous after a certain time in captivity. The most tractable and gentle elephant I ever had suddenly 'went bad' for no conceivable reason and although after much coaxing and soothing he appeared to settle down quietly, there were certain indications soon after that he intended mischief. Finally his small eyes became so red and threatening that I considered it wiser to have him killed, rather than run any risk of his sacrificing human lives.' Bishop Richardson is to leave this evening, for Winnipeg, to attend the convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.
