WOULD NOT YIELD.

Citizens Decline to Accept Government As- sistance in Sewerage Case.

Mayor McLeod and representative citizens, held a conference with Premier Pugsley last evening on the sewerage question, but failed to arrive at any agreement. Those present included: the Mayor, Ald. Scott, Messrs. F. B. Edgecombe, T. H. Colter, C. Fred Chestnut, and James F. McMurray.

Mayor McLeod, who acted as spokesman for the delegation, told the Premier that even with the assistance offered by the government the citizens did not feel that they would be warranted in undertaking the installation of septic tanks as the cost would be far too great. He suggested that the government might assist the people of Sunbury out of the difficulty that confronted them by boring artesian wells for their use.

The whole matter was gone over very fully, and the Premier made the suggestion that the bill might be held over for a year to permit of a test being made to see if it was not possible for the river residents of Sunbury to obtain a water supply from some other source besides the river.

The citizens' delegation were not willing to accept this proposal and it was finally decided that the question should be threshed out in the legislature, and a vote taken on the bill introduced by the Premier a few days ago.

MR. HAZEN'S MARE'S NEST.

Restigouche Election Charges Now Being Investigated by a Legislative Committee.

The committee on privileges met this morning and commenced an investigation into the charges preferred by Mr. Hazen of alleged irregularities in connection with the recent bye-election in the county of Restigouche. The committee is composed of Premier Pugsley, Hon. Messrs. Robinson, Sweeney, Hazen and Clark. Miss Gertrude McDonald is the official stenographer and Mr. Diblee is secretary of the committee.

The proceedings at this morning's session were very amusing at times, and seemed to bear out the rumor which has been in circulation for some time, that the story of alleged irregularities is a pipe dream of Mr. W. A. Mott's. It was agreed to dispense with the services of counsel.

The witnesses examined were Mr. J. E. Stewart, defeated opposition candidate in Restigouche, and Messrs. Amable LePage, Joseph LePage, Joseph Tardie and Peter Poirier. They testified that the poll was held in a school house, and that a screen had been erected in one corner, but only one-third of the voters thought it worth while to take advantage of it. Mr. Reid, M. P., stood at the poll in the interests of Mr. Currie, while Mr. Stewart was present in his own behalf, assisted by Mr. Thos.

Mr. Stewart's chief complaint was that the ballots were open at one end, and he also charged that Mr. Arsenau, the deputy returning officer, only instructed the voters to go behind the screen when he (Stewart) protested.

Mr. Stewart was compelled to admit under cross examination that, although he stood close to Mr. Reid, he could not tell from observation how one single elector had voted.

The other witnesses gave the committee to understand that they did not want to go behind the screen as they thought it was only for the use of alien voters. Mr. Joseph LePage admitted under cross examination that he was in the employ of Mr. Reid at the time of the election, but that did not hinder him from voting for the opposition candidate.

The four last named witnesses are of French extraction, and in the case of Peter Poirier, an interpreter had to be called for, Mr. N. A. Landry acting in that capacity. All the members of the committee took a hand at cross examining the witnesses, and the rather abrupt replies to some of the questions created great amusement.

The enquiry will be resumed at 7 o'clock this evening.

"Checkmate."
"Checkmate!" represents "shah mat!"—"the shah is dead." "Shah," in fact, entered our language long ago via Arabic and old French, arriving in the form of "check." "Chess" is really "checks," kings, and the cry of "Check!" means your king is in danger, hence the verb and substantive "check" in all their English meanings—"check," which was originally the counterfoil of a bill that served to "check" fraud; "checked," from the aspect of the chessboard, and "exchequer," from the checkered pattern of the tablecloth on which the king's accounts were kept with counters. All these we owe to the Persian sovereign's title.—London Chronicle.

The Bosnian Roasting Jack.
A curious variety of the old fashioned roasting jack is used by the peasants of Bosnia and Herzegovina when roasting sheep whole, as on the occasion of a wedding ceremony. One often sees near a running stream a long pole having one end revolving freely in a socketted peg, while the other, overhanging the water, is equipped with miniature paddles. This is the Bosnian roasting jack. The sheep to be cooked is impaled on the log, a fire is lit underneath, and while the current spins the paddles and the pole merrily round the big joint is cooked literally to a turn.—Wide World Magazine.

Why She Was Pleased.
Tess—Did Mr. Boreen ever call on you? Jess—Yes; he called last evening. I was quite delighted when the girl brought up his card. Tess—Oh, come now. You weren't really delighted? Jess—Certainly. You see, if she hadn't brought up his card I might have gone down to him, thinking it was some one else.

Suited For Something.
"Your little boy may become president some day."
"I hardly think so. Archibald is too modest and retiring."
"Oh, well, he may get to be vice president."

The largest grasshoppers are found in South America, where some specimens reach a length of five inches, with a spread of wings of ten inches.

Bad Penmanship.
Mr. Youngwood—This dessert is—pardon me—perfectly dreadful. Mrs. Youngwood—I'm sorry, dear, but the fact is the recipe was given me by a friend, and her handwriting is simply atrocious.

Our Own Honesty.
While the Japanese are being lectured on the necessity for commercial honesty it is instructive to read that a line of $2.75 shoes from America was lately landed in Australia of which the Sydney Bulletin says, "The only scrap of real leather about them was a shaving on the soles, the rest consisting of a cloth that looked like kid, some wood, some paper and about eighty stitches."—Springfield Union.

Too Selfish.
Citiman—What's the matter with all you Swamphurst fellows? You don't seem to like my friend Backlotz. Subbubs—No; he's selfish. Citiman—Oh, come now! Subbubs—That's what he is. A barn near him caught fire the other night, and he put it out without waiting for the rest of us members of the Swamphurst Hose to reach the scene.

The Comfortable Fortune.
"What is your idea of a comfortable fortune?" asked the ambitious youth.
"One," answered the man of experience, "that is big enough to buy you everything you want and not big enough to attract the attention of the grand jury."

A Novelty.
Guest—I hear you are going to give up housekeeping. Host—Sh! Not so loud! My wife wants to have the satisfaction of discharging the cook.—Puck.
