

WIFE OF RICH MAN KILLS ARTIST

Mrs. Flora McDonald Shoots W. S. Guerin of Chicago in His Studio.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Fresh tragedy figured in the stormy career of Michael C. McDonald, former king of Chicago gamblers and now a millionaire elevated railway magnate, today when his wife, Flora, shot and instantly killed Webster S. Guerin, an artist and well known man about town.

The tragedy took place in Guerin's studio. Shortly before noon Mrs. McDonald entered. The latter directed his office boy to leave, as a quarrel between Mrs. McDonald and Guerin had already begun.

Within 15 minutes the report of a revolver was heard, and when other occupants of the building rushed to Guerin's office they found it locked, with Mrs. McDonald endeavoring to escape through a hole that she had made with the butt of her revolver in the glass door.

Her face was covered with blood which streamed from a number of small cuts in the lower part of her face inflicted by the glass.

In the lower part of the building, when the shooting occurred, were two police officers, who arrested Mrs. McDonald.

HOPED HE WOULD NOT DIE. In a wildly hysterical confession at the police station, during which the woman alternately prayed that Guerin might live and that she might die, she said that the artist had long maintained a clandestine love affair and that he had been using his power over her to extort large sums of money.

Yesterday her husband questioned her about heavy drawings upon her bank account, and she told him that she would settle in full today. The slaying of Guerin is believed to mean the settlement in full.

Mrs. McDonald's maiden name was Feldman, and she has two brothers active in business and politics here.

Mrs. McDonald was the former wife of Samuel Barkley, at one time a champion ball player attached to the old Brown's team of St. Louis. She has always been a disturbing element in the McDonald home.

McDonald's first wife, a beautiful woman much younger than he, eloped with a handsome young priest and took away a handsome slice of McDonald's fortune. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Barkley secured a divorce from her husband she appeared here in an opera chorus, and McDonald became impressed with her beauty.

Eventually they went up to Milwaukee and were married. The artist, the splendid McDonald mansion was marked by a terrible scene. Guerin, the elder of McDonald's two sons, had a pitched battle with her as soon as she stepped inside the house and was carried out into the street. The boy's father sided with the stepmother and young McDonald left home.

Mrs. McDonald's son, her former marriage, Harold Barkley, aged 10, was adopted by McDonald and will share equally with his two sons in the fortune.

Webster Guerin, the murdered artist, was also known as Louis Fisher, the name signed to some of his work. He was a strikingly handsome man, tall, with blond curls and a presence that attracted attention everywhere.

The attention of Guerin to Mrs. McDonald began to be spoken about three or four years ago. She then lived in the McDonald mansion on the West side, only a short distance from the Guerin home. McDonald himself and other relatives thought Guerin's attentions were directed towards a niece of Mrs. McDonald, who was staying with her at the time.

Another, however, was not deceived and she objected vigorously to her son's attentions to Mrs. McDonald.

For an hour after her arrival at the police station the police were unable to learn Mrs. McDonald's identity. At the station she tried to dash out her brains against the stone walls and bars, but was restrained by force.

She called for a lawyer and it was then learned who she was. Her husband arrived later and said that he would stand by her and her act, saying he felt certain it was justified.

CHOIR NEAR ASPHYXIATION.

Members Laid Low During a Rehearsal in Columbus by Defective Flue.

Columbus, O., Feb. 23.—When the 22 members of the choir of the Glenwood M. E. Church, Highland Avenue, stand up Sunday to sing it will be with very thankful hearts that they are alive. They will remember that they narrowly escaped death in that very place by asphyxiation while rehearsing. Escaping gas filled the church in such volume as to threaten their lives.

When the choir rehearsed each member felt great stupidity and languor. Headaches and flushed faces signified that something was wrong, but no one could trace the cause. The members finally concluded that they had been attacked bodily by the dreaded gripe.

Director Todd, treasurer of the Y. M. C. A., and son of the pastor, the Rev. W. L. Todd, announced at the end of the rehearsal that he desired the committee on entertainment and the committee on social calls to stay together with the president and secretary of the choir, that some arrangements might be made for a masquerade social. The committee, consisting of President L. R. Kaufman of the choir, Mrs. Kaufman, Evelyn Todd, sister of the director and daughter of the pastor, Mr. Strickland, assistant director, Wilbur Crago, Tine Hartsook and Kathryn Barnes, remained.

Soon everyone noticed that the others were looking and acting in a peculiar manner. Faces became flushed, a deep crimson and then a dull red. Eyes began to look bloodshot and glassy. Splitting headaches were noticed, and, after a brief session, the committees dispersed, each complaining of feeling weak and fatigued.

Mrs. Kaufman stepped into her home next door north from the church, expecting her husband to follow her in a few minutes. Time passed and he did not come and she became uneasy.

Although feeling very weak and languid herself she went to look for him. She found him lying against the fence outside the church and their home, unconscious. Securing help, she got him in the house and sent for Dr. Whitehead, a few doors distant.

In the meantime, Dr. Whitehead had been summoned to the residence of the pastor, where Miss Evelyn Todd who suffers from a weak heart, had swooned away immediately upon reaching home. Inquiry was then sent out on foot to see what was the trouble, and to what extent the other members had suffered. Those who had retired earlier were comparatively well over their trouble, but several had still suffered severely.

It was discovered that one of the chimneys had been stopped up by ice and snow, and the fumes of the burnt gas was forced back into the church, it is presumed, and thus the trouble was caused.

Bright's Disease—Insidious! Deception! A neatly-dressed young woman walked timidly into a certain hotel in New York some time ago while the proprietor happened to be in the lobby. He saw the young woman was shy and spoke to her.

"Good morning, sir."

"Do you intend to stop here?"

"Yes, sir, I think so."

"Al," exclaimed the proprietor with his courtliest bow, "just step over here and sign your name in the register."

The young woman walked across and signed her name, "Mary McGann Hoboken."

"Have you a trunk Miss McGann?"

"Yes, sir, a man's bringing it now."

"Do you intend to stay long?"

"I hope so, sir. You see, I've just got a job in the linen room and I wouldn't like to lose it."

"I got a shock from an electric battery yesterday," said the first boy.

"Gee! It's a funny kind of a feelin', feelin' just like takin' a bath."

"Oh," exclaimed the other one, "you must have a great memory."

He was a quiet, and unobtrusive young man, and he had called upon the same girl regularly for five or six months without in any way divulging his future plan of campaign. Not unnaturally, the damsel had grown weary of this, and to clear the air she at last decided that Henry must be firmly dealt with. So one evening, when they were cozily seated on the couch, she said, without any advance on the young man's part:

"No, no, Mr. Bottlewash, I cannot marry you; so it is useless for you to call upon me any more."

"Alas!" murmured the youth.

"What shall I do? What shall I do?"

"Oh, do not take it so hard Henry I will reconsider—"

"It isn't that," interrupted the man; "but what shall I do for a place to go to during the long evenings of the winter?"—Tit-Bits.

DON'T USE GREASY LINIMENTS. A century ago they were popular. Today people want something easy to apply, certain in results, and above all a clean liniment. When Nerviline is applied aches and pains disappear, more powerful in destroying pain than any oily liniment. Don't fail to get a large 25c. bottle.

A VERY SMART JACKET.

Vests are very fashionable this year and a novel effect gained by the lap of pointed vests is seen in the coat shown. The coat is partially fitted and so of excellent style for woman of stout or slender lines. The front closes at the throat in trim military fashion, opening gradually to the lower edge and disclosing a most fetching little-vest of embroidery. The side front and side back seams are left free below the waist and bound with soutache, as are the other edges. For its making any of the seasonable cloths, worsteds or p. n. m. s. might serve, the medium size calling for 1 1/2 yards of 54 inch material.

To put the brake on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded wagon going up hill? If he did, his senses, his horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill with the brake set against him. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments. Problems seem presented to his mind "wrong end to." This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It puts the stomach and digestive and nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clean brain, a steady hand and a light step to the day's duties. Dr. Pierce's medicines do not contain alcohol or other injurious ingredients; they are not "patent medicines" because their ingredients are printed on the label of each bottle.

Lawyer, (cross examining witness)—Are you sure you didn't dream that Mr. Ruggles? By the way, do you believe in dreams?

Witness—Not as a general thing, but I know that they come true sometimes.

Lawyer—Oh, they do, do they? Can you mention a specific instance?

Witness—Yes, sir. You remember, Mr. Ketchum, you paid me $5 the other day that you had been owing me for a year. Well, I had dreamed the night before that you met me on the street and paid it. I was so strongly impressed with that dream that I hunted you up the next day, you recollect, and dunned you for it.

BE A STRONG MAN.

Increase your vitality and nerve energy, restore vim and force to your overworked body. Ferrozone will do this as it did for Walter Wood of Beauport, N. B., who writes: "I can say Ferrozone has given me a new lease of life. A year ago I suffered so from nervous exhaustion I was scarcely able to drag myself around. My appetite was gone—I had no color or ambition and felt used up. One box of Ferrozone started me back to health. I took a number of boxes and my health was completely restored." For men who are tired, pale, nervous and thin-blooded nothing compares with Ferrozone, 50c. per box at all dealers.
