SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1907.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

The citizens of Fredericton will be very much disappointed with the decision of the government upholding the provincial board of health's refusal to permit Fredericton emptying its sewerage into the St. John river. We are not without hope however, that way will be found out of the difficulty, and that the sewerage system now so near completion may be carried to a final issue under the plan as originally contemplated.

There is a possibility of an appeal to the legislature which has in its hands the power to give this city the authority it seeks and it may be that the government contemplates resting the responsibility on the former body.

MR. HYMAN.

It is very gratifying to the Liberals of Canada and to very many others not associated with that party, to learn that Hon. C. S. Hyman, is recovering his health and will retain his seat in the cabinet and his portfolio of public works.

Mr. Hyman, however, has resigned his seat in London, on account of the disclosures in the recent investigation into the corruption of the last campaign and will make a new appeal to his constituents with every prospect of success.

For the carnival of corruption that prevailed in the last London election, Mr. Hyman was not responsible, and there is not a whisper that he had any connection with it. His friends, however, confronted with the political methods of the Tories in that constituency, resolved to "fight the devil with fire," and the contest on both sides was notoriously corrupt.

Mr. Hyman is taking the manly and proper course in resigning his seat in the house, under the circumstances, and he deserves a renewal of the confidence the electors of London have reposed in him for some years.

He is an able administrator of his department, a strong man in parliament, popular on both sides of the house, and his permanent withdrawal from political life, would have been a serious loss to his party and to the country.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES.

There is much force in the remark of a prominent gentleman at the recent meeting to form a citizen's league organized to take a hand in the civic elections, that the committee appointed to procure candidates should have in mind other qualifications in prospective nominees beside their determination to enforce the Scott Act.

It should be presumed that an man seeking the position of alderman proposes to do what he can to see that all laws and regulations made for the good government of the city are properly enforced, whether relating to temperance or otherwise and the mere self-seeker, the candidate who is in the field to serve his own purposes, who cares little and knows less of the real business of the council should be discouraged from seeking seat at the board.

There are business problems to be solved at the council—questions requiring the exercise of intelligent judgment and common sense and the candidates selected by the citizens' league or any other body, should be men with these characteristics, as well as possessing a determination to enforce the laws.

There is always difficulty in securing the right stamp of candidates for the council, and when men of character and substantial stake in the community have offered their services to the city, they have been frequently turned down, and comparatively useless persons chosen in their stead.

If the citizens' league can improve the character of the council they will be entitled to the gratitude of the community, but in the selection of their candidates they should not lose sight of the general qualifications required in those who would aspire to the government of the city.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The prospects for increased emigration to Canada during the present year are excellent. Over 100,000 new settlers are expected from Britain alone and the American invasion will also be on a large scale.

A Montreal report that the Central route for the Transcontinental railway through New Brunswick has been selected, is authoritatively contradicted by the commissioners, who declare they have not yet reached a decision in the matter.

The association of rowdism with any sport will soon kill it with a self-respecting public. The scene witnessed last night at the Marysville rink was disgraceful to those who participated in it and the offenders should be punished. The good name of the town is involved.

A Liberal convention is to be held next week at Edmundston to nominate a candidate for the seat in the House of Commons for Victoria-Madawaska, vacated by the appointment of the Hon. John Costigan to the senate and the Woodstock Sentinel hears that Pius Michaud, barrister, may be the choice.

It is expected that the Canadian parliament will be through with its business by the end of March, so that the premier and some of his colleagues will be able to depart for the Colonial Conference in London. Sir Wilfrid will likely be accompanied by Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Hon. Mr. Paterson and Hon. Mr. Brodeur.

Mr. Borden says he has heard that Mr. Hyman is having a good time in Southern California, where he has been recruiting his health. Well, would the Tory leader begrudge the minister of public works a good time after recovering from a serious illness? The inference Mr. Borden intended from his observation in parliament is unworthy of that gentleman.

The McLellan cup, in competition among the curlers of the maritime provinces, has taken a slide back to Nova Scotia, New Glasgow having captured it from Chatham, which a few weeks ago captured it from Truro. The doughty St. John Thistles will be after it next, and then Fredericton will take a hand in the game. Our curlers, however, do not expect to travel to New Glasgow to capture the cup.

Mr. John J. McGee, who is retiring from the position of clerk of the privy council at Ottawa, has held that office since 1882. He is a brother of the late Hon. Thos. D'Arcy McGee, M. P., who was assassinated at Ottawa in the early confederation days by one Whelan, who suffered execution for the crime, and is 62 years old. Mr. McGee visited Fredericton to swear in the late Governor Fraser, and also was here to administer the oaths of office to Governor Snowball. His successor as clerk of the privy council is Mr. of the Hon. John Costigan to the premier.

BITS OF NEWS.

The Monarch Bank of Canada is opening a branch at Halifax.

Senator G. G. King, of Chipman, and his son, G. H. King, passed through St. John yesterday on their way to Cranbrook, B. C., where E. L. King another son of the senator is quite ill. Word has been received that Mr. King is recovering.

Mr. James F. McEllinney for the past thirty years baggage master of the I. C. R. at Truro, and well known to travellers who visit that town, died very suddenly at his home Thursday evening. He was 68 years old and a courteous and obliging official.

At a meeting of the shareholders of the Starr Manufacturing Company at Halifax Friday it was decided to amalgamate with the Dartmouth Rolling Mills Company. It was decided to increase the authorized capital stock of the Starr Company to $1,000,000. At present the capital is about $100,000 and the capital of the rolling mills is not as much.

BABY SLEEPS SOUNDLY.

Babies who are given an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets always sleep soundly at night, and it is not the drugged sleep produced by sleeping drops or "soothing" syrups either—the sleep is natural, healthy and restful, and baby wakes up in the morning bright and cheerful. The Tablets are the best medicine in the world for the cure of all the minor ailments of little ones. Mrs. L. Gagne, Edmundston, N. B., says: "My baby was cross and fretful and I hardly ever got a good night's rest until I began giving Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets removed the cause of the trouble and now baby sleeps well at night." The Tablets are sold by druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THIRTY FEET TALL!

Horses Roamed in Wyoming in Olden Days Now Feasible.

Out in Wyoming a lot of scientific grubbers have unearthed the fossil remains of a horse thirty feet long and more than thirty feet high. The grubbers seem to have placed the horse together without any comment, and they don't offer a word of information concerning either his genealogy or his track record.

A horse thirty feet long would appear to be a lot of horse. If he belonged to the cave man the latter certainly had his hands full. A horse so tall that a thirty foot ladder became necessary when his bridle was to be put on might well be called the pride of the stable, although no ordinary stable would begin to accommodate him.

If the cave man hadn't any ladder and couldn't borrow one the next best thing was to climb a tree. Then try to imagine him shinning up a tall palm with the heavy bridle on his back, only to find when he attained the right altitude that the horse had moved beyond reach and was peacefully browsing on the tall grass of the jungle! Of course a thirty foot horse could be expected to cover much more ground than the ordinary animal of the same breed, even at a walk. And if he took it into his head to work his way across lots there would appear to be nothing to impede him. Fences would go down before him like stubble, and a merely playful cavort would carry him over raging torrents.

When a thirty foot horse shied at a bit of white paper in the roadway the chances are that he jumped clear over into the next county.

As a war horse the thirty footer must have been a stunner. When he let out a neigh the enemy fled in blind and unreasoning terror. When he stamped his bit and pawed the ground the very hills shuddered. When he switched his tail the hirling foe fell about him like ripened grain. And then think of the nightmare that could be expected to follow the first sight of this prodigious equine! He certainly was a wonder. It is a great pity we know so little about him. Cheyenne News.

A Bright Recruit.

Lieutenant (examining soldier)—What should you do if you met an enemy on the field of battle?
Soldier—Shoot him dead, sir.
Lieutenant—Right. And what should you do if you met a whole battalion of the enemy?

Soldier—Shoot them dead, sir.
Lieutenant—You couldn't by yourself. You should fall back and give warning. What should you do if you met a cow belonging to the enemy?
Soldier—Shoot it dead, sir.
Lieutenant—Wrong.
Soldier—Fall back and give warning, sir.

Lieutenant—Wrong again. You should catch hold of it by the horns and bring it into camp. Now tell me what you should do if you met me in the field.
Soldier—Shoot you dead, sir.
Lieutenant—Rubbish! I'm not an enemy! I wear the same uniform as you do.

Soldier—Fall back and give warning.
Lieutenant—Wrong, stupid! I'm not a battalion of the enemy.
Soldier—Well, then, I'd catch hold of you by the horns and lead you into camp.
Lieutenant—You—
—Lustige Blatter.

Impertinent.

Old Doctor—What are those white objects I see in the distance, my dear?
Miss Pert—Those are signs advertising your profession, sir. Old Doctor—Ah, I thought they might be tombstones. Miss Pert—So they are.

Suppose She Had Been Out!
"What day was I born on, mother?"
"Thursday, child."
"Wasn't that fortunate? It's your day 'at home.'"
