RUSSIA STOLE ALASKA

Alleged Documents Unearthed Having Important Bearing for Canada on the Boundary Question Now in Governor General's Hands

MAN WHO MADE THE FIND IS NOW IN WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13.—(Special)—Leo Nabokoff, a friend of Count Leo Tolstoi, who is armed with a mission from his chief to the wandering Doukhobors, is in Winnipeg, and has opened an office at 90 Main street.

Nabokoff has unearthed some ancient Russian documents in Alaska, which materially affect Canada's position in the Alaska boundary question, showing how Russia forged evidence of early occupation of the Pacific Coast.

Nabokoff formerly resided at Sitka, Alaska, where he was at the time of the transfer of that territory from Russia to the United States.

Later he was sent by his government to Sitka to put in order the archives kept by the Russian authorities who had not taken the trouble to receive them. In doing this he found documents, kept in old Russian, which is not generally understood by those who know the modern language but which Nabokoff had studied.

The report of the records is that Russia stole the whole of the Pacific Coast. The document referred to as translated by Nabokoff, and of which a copy was forwarded to the governor general of Canada is dated at St. Petersburg in 1836, and is marked "Strictly Private".

The translation reads as follows:—"To the Governor of Russian American territory, Sitka (New Archangel). We are sending you ten tablets representing the Russian coat of arms, securely packed, which packages you are to open privately."

Next summer you are to organize an expedition of several men under a navy officer so secretly that neither Russians nor Indians will see them start to cross the continent, taking with them those tablets, and marching as far as possible in a southeasterly direction, without danger of being observed, even by the natives. Then these tablets will have to be buried, separately at a considerable distance, one from the other, in holes about an arshap and a half deep due north by south.

These places of concealment must be marked on map (astronomically) and so accurately and locally described that there should be no difficulty in finding them long afterwards in case a dispute on priority of occupation should arise between Russia and Canada.

The same great caution must be observed in marching back to New Archangel and officers, and men who take part in above transaction must be taken on board immediately and sent to Russia.

Please see that this is done as directed."

Earl Grey has referred the documents to his ministers for consideration.

BROKE THE RECORD

New Cunarder Lusitania Crossed Atlantic Over Five Hours Better than all Previous Efforts.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—(Special)—A new steamship record between a European port and New York was made by the Cunard liner, the new giant Turbine ship, Lusitania, which arrived here today.

Lusitania left Queenstown, the nearest transatlantic port to New York at 12.10 p.m. Sunday and arrived off Sandy Hook Lightship at 8.43 a. m. (estimated today) making the time for the trip five days, 1 hour 33 minutes.

This is five hours and fifty minutes better than the previous Queenstown-New York record of five days, 7 hours, 23 minutes held by the Lusitania of the same line.

While the Lusitania has made a new record for the time a passenger is actually on board ship, she has not beaten the average speed per hour record, as both the Kaiser Wilhelm II, which has made 23.58 knots per hour from New York to Plymouth and the Deutschland with a record of 23.51 knots per hour to Plymouth, have made better time.

Lusitania's time per hour on her maiden voyage is estimated at 22.87 knots.

THE BIG SHOW.

Arrangements for the Opening Saturday Evening Nearing Completion.

What promises to be the biggest and best exhibition ever held in New Brunswick will be formally opened by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Tweedie at eight o'clock tomorrow evening. The public opening will take place at six o'clock, to give people an opportunity to look over the exhibits before His Honor and party arrive. The speech making will take place from the stage of the amusement hall, and will no doubt attract a good sized crowd. The members of the executive government, members of the city council and officers of the Agricultural Society will occupy seats on the platform.

After the exhibition has been formally opened His Honor will be shown over the buildings and grounds by President Campbell and officers of the Society.

A large force of men have been working about the buildings and grounds for several weeks and many improvements have been made which will be appreciated by both exhibitors and spectators. The stalls for horses and cattle, have been fumigated and whitewashed and present a spick and span appearance. A large number of new cattle stalls have been added to the already large list and the chances are that there will be need for them all, as the number of exhibits in the live stock department promises to be a record breaker.

The interior of the main building has been beautifully decorated with flags and bunting, and the many attractive booths now being fitted up will give it a very swell appearance. Many local concerns including the F. B. Edgcombe Company, Limited, the Murray Company, Limited, and Mr. James S. Neill, will have attractive exhibits on the ground floor. The dairy depot exhibit will as usual occupy the space at the rear of the main building.

The sanitary arrangements of the main building have been greatly improved by the installation of modern lavatories for ladies and gentlemen, and connection has been made with the city sewerage system. The lavatories are located in rear of the steps leading to the gallery at the front of the building.

Expert judges. The services of a number of expert judges have been secured and during their stay in the city they will be domiciled at Windsor Hall as the guests of the Society.

Dr. Standish, and Messrs R. Stevenson and Duncan Anderson of Ontario, well known in connection with Farmers' Institute work, will judge the horses, cattle, sheep and pigs.

Mr. George H. Barr, of Montreal, Dominion dairy referee, who has no superior in Canada in his line of work, will act as judge of dairy products.

Mr. Joseph Landry of the Truro experimental farm will judge the poultry and pet stock.

Messrs. H. S. Alward of Havelock and C. S. Moore of the Nova Scotia experimental farm, will act as judges of agricultural products.

Mr. G. H. Starr of Wolfville, N. S. and Mr. E. H. Gould of Sussex will judge horticulture and floriculture respectively.

Mr. George Y. Dibblee, the energetic judge of the show, will be in charge of the exhibition.

The official program for Saturday evening is as follows:

6 p. m.—Exhibition opens to the public.
8 p. m.—Formal opening by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor.
8.30 to 10 p. m.—Band Concert by 71st Regiment Band.

ahead of the high standard of excellence. While provision is made for all sorts and conditions of preferences, a picture which will combine the marvelous and the humorous is that of "Little Tiche" the small man who gives a variety of stage delineations. This alone is worth the price of admission and added to it is the perilous and ludicrous adventures of the man with the sign, the pranks of Willie Goodchild and five others, making a total to beat in length any provincial exhibit.

Mr. Tabor will sing the illustrated song, "Where the Swanee River Winds its Silvery Way."

HIS FATHER DEAD.
Principal John E. Page of the Model school received a telegram this morning notifying him of the death of his father, John Page, a well known farmer of Tracey Mills, Carleton County. He had been ailing only a few days and the end came quite suddenly and unexpectedly. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of his death. Mr. Page had no previous information of his father's illness and the news of his death was therefore a great shock to him. The deceased was 78 years of age and leaves a family of four sons and three daughters. One of the latter is Mrs. Perry, wife of Mr. H. G. Perry late of the Charlotte street school, now of Hampton. Mr. Page will leave tomorrow for Carleton County to attend the funeral.
