

AYLESWORTH HIT HARD.

Minister of Justice Dissected Borden's New Program for the Tory Party.

Speaking at a Liberal meeting at Dundas, Ontario, Tuesday, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, the eloquent Minister of Justice, pointed vigorously into the new Tory platform, and paid his respects to the leader himself, Mr. Foster, and other western land dealers, and said:

Mr. Borden in his tour had been telling the people that he expected to be first minister after the general election, and that when that day came he would be able to present a cabinet that would be worthy of the country. If Mr. Borden meant to suggest that as First Minister he would be superior to Sir Wilfrid Laurier he was only making himself ridiculous.

WHAT ABOUT MR. FOSTER?

The leader of the opposition ought to take the people into his confidence more and say whether Hon. George E. Foster was the man in whose hands he would put the finances of the country. Mr. Aylesworth recalled the circumstances of the debate in the House of Commons on the Insurance Commission report, and pointed out that at that time Mr. Borden gave his impression that he would cut himself adrift from Mr. Foster. But they had seen Mr. Foster appearing on Mr. Borden's platform and making speeches in support of his platform, and consequently he (Mr. Aylesworth) thought it was a question of vital interest to the people whether Mr. Borden proposed to make Mr. Foster Finance Minister or whether he intended to have him in the cabinet at all. Then there was Mr. George W. Fowler and Mr. Rufus Pope. Did Mr. Borden propose to give places to them?

MR. BORDEN'S PLANKS RIDDLED.

Proceeding to criticize some of the planks of Mr. Borden's platform, Mr. Aylesworth described that favoring the "honest appropriation and expenditure of public moneys in the public interest" as the merest political platitude. As for the principle that the appointment of public officials should be upon considerations of public service, and personal character, he invited Mr. Borden to square that plank with the conduct of the Whitney government. After welcoming the leader of the opposition as a convert to the principle of the maintenance of provincial rights, a principle which, he recalled, was opposed by Sir John A. Macdonald, Mr. Aylesworth took up the election purity plank, and showed that not only were the points dealt with by Mr. Borden covered by the present election law, but that it was to the Liberals that that law was due. Personally, he declared he had set his mind upon an amendment of the act whereby no man's honest ballot would be spoiled or set at naught by the act of any official at the polls. (Applause.)

PLAYING A POLITICAL GAME.

He was afraid, however, that Mr. Borden, however high-sounding his phrases were, was not himself adrift from Mr. Foster, above playing a political game, and in view of what had happened in connection with Mr. Hugh Graham's contribution of $30,000 to a campaign fund in consequence he (Mr. Aylesworth) now wished to restrict such contributions to others than contractors and the promoters of companies. Quoting from Mr. Borden's speech on Saturday, he pointed out that it contained an insinuation that Mr. Fielding had connived at corruption in Halifax. "That insinuation," said Mr. Aylesworth, "I hurl back at Mr. Borden's head, and I tell him that neither Mr. Fielding nor any other member of the government is conscious of political corruption to any greater extent than, if as great as, Mr. R. L. Borden himself." (Applause.)

TRURO CURLERS.

Have Made Important Improvements in Their Rink.

Truro Daily News: The Truro Curling Club with customary pluck and enterprise have this summer had expensive improvements made in the curling rink including which is a new addition to the front of the building 25 by 60 feet and two stories high.

It is hoped that a ladies' curling club will be organized here during the coming winter, and with this movement in view, the interior of the new part of the building has been neatly and conveniently fitted up.

On the ground floor are two large rooms with folding doors between, one room being 20 by 17 feet, the other 18 by 17. These rooms have large windows, through which in the winter a full view can be had of the ice and the curlers when at play. One of these fine rooms will be set apart for the ladies' curling club, when organized.

On the second floor, which is reached by a winding stairway, is a well fitted up locker room, containing 60 lockers for safety keeping coats and wraps belonging to the curlers. Here also is the large assembly room, 25 by 35 feet, in which will be held the business meetings of the club, also social gatherings and "at homes", which will be held from time to time.

In connection with the assembly room is a well appointed kitchen and pantry provided with cooking range, sink, water, a supply of dishes etc., so that hot lunches and suppers can be prepared in the building quickly and without expense or trouble.

From this large room on the front a door opens on to a gallery or stand for the band.

All the rooms are fitted with electric light, and at night especially look very comfortable and inviting.

ATTACK OF DIARRHOEA CURED BY ONE DOSE OF CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. "Tommy, when I tell you something is wrong you do not do it?"
"No, sir."
"But when your conscience tells you a thing is wrong you keep right on and do it?"
"Yes, sir."
"But doesn't your conscience hurt you when you do something wrong?"
"Yes, sir; but not in the same way you do."—Houston Post.

A SMART LITTLE COAT FOR A MISS.

Separate jackets are very modish this year and those who count the dollars and cents find them very economical. A chic little coat of unusual style and not difficult for home making is sketched. It may be made of cloth, linen or pongee as well as taffetas and serve for wear with the odd skirt or it may serve as a suit coat and be of the material of the skirt. The front closes with a trig vest and the sleeves are of three-quarter length having tucks at the lower edge and patty turn back cuffs. For the medium size 12 yards of 54 inch material are needed for the coat.

THIS MAN IS MADE OF STEEL.

Charles Donnelly Twice Hit by Locomotive Within a Week and Still Lives.

MERIDAN, CONN., Sept. 12.—Charles Donnelly, of Bristol, was walking on the railroad tracks in that town when he stepped out of the way of one train into the path of another. The engine hurled him thirty feet and he crashed through a board fence. The trainmen were greatly surprised to find that Donnelly was not dead.

Recovering his senses, Donnelly wanted to know if it was the same locomotive that hit him two weeks ago. At that time he was on his way home from work when he was overtaken by an engine, which hit

GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING

Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous Illness and Complete Cure.

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

Miss Margaret Merkley

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read about the experience of Miss Margaret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pains and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to this and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.
