YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO FEEL "DOPEY"

—to have headaches—an easily-tired body—a stuffy-feeling brain—even for part of the time. There are too many keen alert men and women, always at their best, to give much chance of success to one thus handicapped.

These things are the direct results of a sluggish liver—constipated bowels—dry skin — overworked kidneys — in short, of a body whose sewers are clogged.

Nothing opens up these outlets of the waste, and clears the system of poison so gently, yet so effectively, as "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes combined—by a process that greatly increases their medicinal value—with valuable tonics and internal antiseptics, and made into tablets.

Take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night, eat plenty of ripe fruit, and see how quickly your brain clears and headaches leave you. 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Trial size 25c. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"Chuck It, Duke!"

While the Duke of Connaught was in Cairo he went for a stroll one morning, and on his way back to his quarters he came face to face with an old Englishman wearing the ribbon of the Indian mutiny on his breast. The duke stopped and spoke to the man about his military service for some little time. Presently the man said, not knowing, of course, to whom he was speaking, "Are you in the army yourself, then, sir?" The duke smiled and admitted that he was. "Getting on all right?" was the next question. The duke smiled again and said that he had not very much to grumble at, on the whole, though perhaps he was not doing quite so well as he could wish. "No, and you never will, my boy," was the surprising retort of the veteran. "What you want in the army today is either brains or a tremendous amount of influence behind you. You may take my tip, old chap, and chuck it!"—London T P O

Recently a French publication printed a picture of some American girls fencing with umbrellas and stated that they were trying to acquire thus the necessary skill and assurance to parry, with a simple gesture, an attack of Apaches.

It also stated that this sport was not born in America; that for several years in France a noted fencing mistress, Mme. Guillemot, at the same time that she taught fencing with the sword for hygienic reasons and for personal defense, also taught her pupils to "play" with the umbrella.

The article finishes by saying that it is certainly "piquant" that this modern application of an ancient sport was taught by a Parisienne long before America claimed the original idea.

Spirit of the Open Life.

The great charm of scenery and the country life is the moral feeling that seems to pervade it. This has prevailed through all English literature from Chaucer to Wordsworth and down to our own times. It has cast its spell over almost all of our Canadian poets, who have wooed nature in her most secret haunts and studied her minutest caprices.—Montreal Witness.

TORE THE SKIN OFF FOSTER

Editor of Toronto Globe Returns to Attack on the Celebrated Land Dealer

Te'ltale Letters that Cast Bad Light on a Tory Grafter—His Rake-off in Land Speculations With Foresters' Funds.

Speaking at North Toronto Saturday night, Rev. J. A. MacDonald, editor of the Globe, answering Mr. Foster, said:

"It was not my intention to return to the personal accusations made against me by Mr. Foster. My answer on Tuesday night to his charge that I 'lied' stands unweakened by anything said by him in his reply on Thursday night. Indeed I would not be speaking here tonight, nor would I take much active part in the campaign in this constituency, had it not been that Mr. Foster on Thursday night challenged the genuineness of certain letters to which I made reference, and described as 'false' the allegation that he had taken a private commission, a very large rake-off, in land transactions, which he conducted as manager of the Union Trust Company. His challenge on these two points is my reason for speaking here tonight.

THOSE TELL-TALE LETTERS.

"I turn now to the two points of public interest in Mr. Foster's speech. First as to the letters written by him to the late Dr. Oronhyatekha, asking that the reserve funds of the Independent Order of Foresters be drawn upon to relieve the financial distress of the Union Trust Company, under Mr. Foster's management.

"Mr. Foster tried to cast doubt on the fact and motive of those letters. He said they were not perfect. He asked for the dates. He wanted to examine the signatures. But, sir—and this is significant—he did not deny having written such letters. He did not deny having made such demands for reserve funds of the Foresters to be used in meeting pressing payments on speculative land transactions unauthorized by the Canadian law governing the investment of trust funds. He dared

"And Mr. Foster need not vex his righteous soul about those letters. They are not lost. Their contents are not forgotten by others. He need not pretend to have forgotten them himself. Let me refresh his memory. Let me recall the letter he wrote to "Dear Dr. Oronhyatekha" from the Adelkhi hotel, London, England—he remembers the date—in which he discussed the critical condition of the Union Trust Company, how needful it was that relief be found; how before leaving Toronto he had urged upon Supreme Chief Secretary MacGillivray the using of the I. O. F. reserves, and had left a memorandum giving his views. He remembers that. Let me remind him of the series of letters he wrote to the Supreme Chief Ranger on his return to Canada, urging with insistent emphasis the need for more money to meet payments which he said were 'coming due every day.' Does he not remember one long and careful letter in which he set forth a list of the largest of those payments, running far up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, most of them in Great West and other, specklativemnn Great West and other speculative land investments? Those payments the Union Trust Company, under his able to meet, and upon the securities management, was at that date unhe confessed he could not borrow another dollar from the banks.

THE WHEELS NEEDED OIL.

"Now, sir, it was when facing that crisis, a crisis which in his opinion might eventuate in a catastrophe within three months, Mr. Foster again wrote to Dr. Oronhyatekha another urgent demand in which occur these significant words, these very words: 'The wheel of the Union Trust are in need of oil. Turn on the tap.'

"It need not concern Mr. Foster, and it does not interest the public, to be told how I know the contents of those letters, their demands, and the serious facts which made their demands urgent. I know more of Mr. Foster's record in mismanaging the Union Trust Company, and as director of a variety of speculative concerns, wildcat mining and otherwise, than has ever yet been told.

THE PRIVATE RAKE-OFF.

"I turn now to the matter of the commission, the private rake-off taken by Mr. Foster in land transactions as manager of the funds of the I. O. F., entrusted to his care in the Union Trust Company. There was a variety of them. He had little syndicates investing trust moneys in large land sperulations, and pocketing the profits. He had on commission all his own. It was $2,480. He asked for it. He got it. It was a rake-off."

A voice—What has this to do with this election?

Mr. MacDonald—"It has everything to do with this election. It involves the honor, the business integrity, of the man who asks the men of North Toronto to elect him again as our representative in the parliament of Canada. We did not know it when he was elected four years ago. We must know it now.

"An offer was made to Mr. Foster of a large tract of land in the Swan River district. The offer was made by Mr. A. W. Pritchard for Premier Roblin of Manitoba, who obtained the lands from the Canadian Northern railway. In reply to that offer Mr. Foster wrote a letter making this proposal:

" 'If the following is of any use to you I will on receipt of answer go into it further and give you an early decision, to wit: $5.25 per acre as commission, thus netting you $5 per acre.' "

A voice—Is that letter signed?

Mr. MacDonald—"It is signed 'Geo E. Foster,' and dated December 23, 1906."

"Where is that letter?

Mr. MacDonald—"It was filed before the Insurance Commission as 'exhibit No. 605.'

"That proposal was accepted. Then followed a telegram from Mr. Foster saying that 'the Union Trust Company, Limited, in trust is purchaser.' Then came a letter from the firm of Winnipeg solicitors, who represented the vendors of the land, saying: 'We are preparing agreements of sale in accordance with the terms of the agreement already arrived at. There are 9,920 acres all told. If you have any suggestions to make as to the methods of closing the sale we will be glad to hear from you.'

WILL MR. FOSTER DENY THIS?

"Mr. Foster made his suggestions, told how he would pay for the lands, and directed how his rake-off should be paid. His letter is specific and most incriminating. Here it is in full:

" 'Toronto, Jan. 5, 1904.

" 'Yours of January 2 duly received re Pritchard's sale of Swan River district lands. The contracts will be with the Union Trust Company in trust, and cash payment will be made to credit of vendors in Standard Bank of Toronto, on receipt and signing of satisfactory documents of agreement. Twenty-five cents per acre is to be paid as commission on sale. This can either be deducted from the cash payment, or, better, you can send a cheque therefor signed by the vendors in favor of myself. I will then deposit to credit of vendors the whole cash payment and present cheque, which will be paid therefrom. Kindly see that purchasers are allowed to pay up whole amount due on lands at any time without notice or bonus.

Yours truly,

" 'GEORGE R. FOSTER.'

"And that commission of $2,480 so asked for, the payment of which was so directed, was received by the Hon Geo. E. Foster, as the records in the case absolutely show.

"Now, sir, what audacity, what nerve, that gentleman must have to make the pretence and to put up the bluff he indulged in on Thursday night. What moral obliquity to be insensible to the dishonor of that transaction. What an insult to the electors for him to ask as intelligent a constituency as is in Canada to take him again as its representative of business integrity and moral character."

A voice—The money was not lost.

Mr. MacDonald—"Why was it not lost? Not because of anything done by Mr. Foster, but only because the development of the West under the immigration policy of the Laurier government made those years a time of great expansion. But had a check come in 1904, had the financial stringency come a year or two earlier, what would have happened to the hard-pressed manager of the Union Trust? The company escaped, and is now strong because it got rid of the man who imperilled its trust funds.

WHO THE MONEY BELONGED TO.

"But the company did lose, and the Foresters lost. They lost the commission which the manager took on all those speculative investments. He was paid, highly paid, for his services as manager. He had no right to that rake-off. It should have gone to the funds of the company. It really belonged to the widows and orphans of the I. O. F., whose savings were imperilled in his speculations. In England the servant, the porter, the employee, the official who takes a private commission is a criminal before the law, and subject to fine or imprisonment. Shall we send the man whose private commissions ran up into the thousands to speak for us in our national parliament?

THE REAL ISSUE.

"This is quite the most serious issue before the electors of this constituency. It is not politics. Theories of public finance, policies of immigration and of trade, rates of customs tariff, and all the other questions of political controversy are secondary alike for us and for Canada when compared with the essential moral issue which we must face in this election. The real issue is moral, not political. It is but vanity and impertinent trifling to denounce corruption and malfeasance in other constituencies and in other provinces if we give our own votes to a man who has betrayed the most sacred trust, and who is not only but who seems utterly incapable of unrepentent for what he has done, making the most obvious moral distinctions. Liberals, Conservatives, Independents, this is not a matter of mere party politics. It touches the very honor of our constituency. It involves the fundamental standards of our public life. Trifle with it, and you loosen the bolts that hold society together. Stand for fidelity to trust and the moral obligations of life, and your vote will tell for the things that make a nation great."

Conservative Who Nearly Captured Captured His Party's Nomination—Kent is out for LeBlanc

(Richibucto Review.)

Mr. Theodore Langis, whose name went before the Kent Conservative Convention and who was supported by nearly half the number of delegates present is giving a splendid support to Hon. O. J. LeBlanc in this contest. On Tuesday evening he attended a Conservative meeting and took the platform to expose some of Dr. Landry's misrepresentations. So well did he acquit himself that he carried the audience with him and the meeting broke up with cheers for LeBlanc and the government.

Mr. Kipling told a story about a smart man. "This man," he said, "owned a dry goods store, and one day, to his great disgust, he heard a new clerk say to a woman:

" 'No, madam, we have not had any for a long time.'

"With a fierce glance at the clerk the smart employer rushed up to the woman and said:

" 'We have plenty in reserve, ma'am plenty upstairs.'

"Lady and clerk looked dazed, and afterward the smart proprietor learned that the clerk's remarks had been made in answer to the woman's 'We haven't had any rain lately.' "—New York Tribune.
