THE FIRST INDUSTRY.

Problems of the Farm Curiously Ignored by the Ancients.

Why agriculture, the first industry to be learned and so obviously the most fundamental, was the last to be developed is one of the most baffling mysteries of history. One marvels at it afresh as one stands before a certain glass case in the Egyptian quarter of the British museum, wherein is a little group of farm utensils—a fractured wooden plow, a rusted sickle, two sticks tied together with a leathern thong and several tassels that had hung on the horns of oxen. To be sure, these implements were used 3,000 years ago—they were found in the tomb of Seti I.—but one remembers that when Egypt was using these bread tools, no better than those of the barbarians about her, she had a most elaborate government, an army and navy and art and literature.

The records and relics of other nations down through history show the same strange incongruity. For thousands of years the wise men of the world absolutely ignored the problems of the farm. A farmer remained either a serf or a tenant. He was a stolid drudge—"brother to the ox." Even the masterful old pilgrim fathers had no plows at all—nothing but hoes and sharp sticks—for the first twelve years of their pioneering.

And therefore for thousands of years there was hunger.—Everybody's Magazine.

Medicine in the Spring Needed by Everyone.

Winter Weakens the System, Saps the Blood, Leaves us Tired and Thin.

Great epidemics break out in spring, such as fevers, pestilences, and infectious skin diseases.

Winter shuts us in from air and only the most robust get even a little sunshine. As a consequence of this unnatural mode of life, the blood becomes polluted, thin, colorless. Then we grow listless, dull, easily tired, have headaches and find our work a burden.

Reduced to this condition we become an easy prey to disease and fill hospitals and churchyards.

To rapidly form rich blood, to expel the accumulated humors that winter has stored up in the system, to call back the energy, endurance and vim that will make life joyous, just take Ferrozone, a spring cleanser, unequalled in medicine.

Ferrozone purifies by rebuilding nerve tissue and vitalizing the blood. The entire system soon feels the beneficent action of new rich blood; slow organs are stimulated to normal activity, expel poisons and wastes from the body, and the result is the beautifully harmonious working of the system. Weak folks are restored and health becomes as natural a consequence as growth from moisture and sunlight.

Men and women fortify your nerves with Ferrozone, renew the blood through its marvelous blood-forming power, regain vigorous and enduring strength by its action upon appetite and digestion. Use Ferrozone if you to be strong.

"I increased my weight seven pounds in one month and regained health that had been lost for two years—did this by using Ferrozone," writes Mrs. C. B. Maybee of Centertown. "Ferrozone brought me restful sleep and good digestion, enabled me to relish my meals and work hard all day. I consider it the finest tonic, the most nourishing medicine I ever used."

Try Ferrozone yourself, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Drink Bill of Canada.

The last issue of the Canada Year Book, issued by the statistics branch of the Department of Agriculture, gives productions of "liquors and beverages" for 1906 as worth $14,394,319. In the same year there were imported "spirits" of the value of $2,192,771, and presumably the sum of these two items would give an approximation to the total drink bill of Canada for the year 1906. The same Year Book gives the capital invested in the "liquors and beverages" industry as $26,639,315. The Statistical Year Book of Canada (a most useful volume whose publication has been discontinued by the Government), gives the per capita consumption for the year ending June 30, 1904, as follows: Spirits, 0.973 gallons; wine, 0.122; beer, 3.231. The consumption of beer in Great Britain and Ireland for the year 1907 was 33,250,654 barrels of 36 gallons to the barrel; the consumption of wine was 39,263,573 gallons. No estimate of the value is given, but figures of the value of the 1906 drink bill of the United Kingdom are given as £164,107,941. The experience of the Scotch Act in the Eastern Provinces where it is in force is that in rural districts it is practically prohibitive; in the urban settlements the act does not operate so successfully.

GREAT DISTRESS IN HER THROAT.

Not an uncommon experience was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmot of Shuler, N. S. Doctors failed, still a quick cure was found in "Catarrhophone." Notice this statement: "I have been a most dreadful sufferer from bronchial trouble and catarrh. On damp days I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicines but didn't get permanent relief till I used Catarrhophone. It has strengthened my throat, cured my cough and made me entirely well." Refuse substitutes for the one reliable bronchial and throat cure. All dealers sell Catarrhophone in 25c and $1.00 sizes. Druggist.

THE FOUR D's.

Charles Spurgeon once said there were three great enemies to man—"dirt, debt and the devil." He might have added one more and included dyspepsia. The evil results of this disease could hardly be exaggerated. It's effects are felt in mind and body and are so far reaching as the effects of the curse that was laid on the Zaccadaw of Rheims which was cursed in "eating and drinking and sleeping, in standing and sitting and lying." The good effects of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are most marked in aggravated and chronic cases of dyspepsia. It enables the stomach glands to secrete the necessary quantity of digestive fluids, and this at once removes that craving or grating sensation so common to certain forms of indigestion. It tones and regulates the stomach, invigorates the torpid liver and gives the blood making glands keen assimilative power. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures ninety-eight per cent of those who use it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are superior to all other laxative medicines when the bowels are obstructed.

Teacher—I have explained to you children, what the fabrics we wear are made of. Now, Johnnie, tell me what your suit is made of? Johnnie—Father's old trousers.

60 Specialists on the Case.—In the ordinary run of medical practice a greater number than this have treated cases of chronic dyspepsia and have failed to cure—but Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets (60 in a box at 35 cents cost) have made the cure, giving relief in one day. These little "specialists" have proven their real merit—72. Sold by A. J. Ryan, Druggist.
