Counting a Billion.

Suppose you undertook to count a billion. How long do you think it would take you to do it? A billion, according to the French notation, which we follow, is a thousand millions. If you had before you a pile of silver dollars containing a million and could count one very second for eight hours every day it would take you thirty-five days to complete the task. But suppose you undertook to count a thousand of these million dollar piles. You would be at work eight hours a day for 35,000 days, or about 100 years.

He Knew.

It was afternoon, and thus spoke the teacher of the village school: "Now boys, the word 'stan' at the end of a word means 'place of.' Thus we have Afghanistan, the place of the Afghans; also Hindustan, the place of the Hindoos. Now, can any one give me another instance?" "Yes, sir," said the smallest boy proudly. "I can—umbrellastan, the place for umbrellas!"

CANADA'S NORTHLAND.

Some Natural Beauties of This Little Known District.

Mr. J. K. Cornwall of Lesser Slave Lake, Alberta, recently wrote this compact and incisive article on some little known features of Canada's big northland:

In latitude 53 north, longitude 119 west, nature has cut through the very heart of the Rockies a gash 9,000 feet deep. This cut is known as the "Yellow Head." In this Pass, high up in perpetual snow, the Athabasca, the most southerly of the rivers that go to make up the Mackenzie Basin, the second largest watershed in North America, has its source. From its head it flows easterly and northerly, collecting in its course the waters of the Baptiste, Macleod, Freeman, Pembina, Lesser Slave, The Twatnau, Calling, LaBiche, Pelican, Buffalo, Clearwater and Red Deer. Where it empties itself into the Athabasca (or Lake of the Hills), it is one mile wide and eleven hundred miles from the trickling streams high up above the timber line of the Rockies, its source.

Out of Athabasca lake, the reservoir of "the Southern North," the Rock river takes its source. Forty miles on its way it is joined by that famed river of the north, the Peace, an immense river formed by the junction of the Finlay and Parsnip, in the very centre of northern British Columbia, 1,000 miles to the west. This splendid stream has drained that immense region served by the Halfway, the North and South Pine, Clear Sky, Cut Bank, the Bear and Montana, the two Burnts (the North and South), the Big Smoky, with its hundreds of tributaries, the White Mud, Cadott, the Battle, Carajon, the Keg and Paddle, the Owl and Elk rivers. A tremendous volume of water, in conjunction with the Athabasca brought down by the Rock river, form the Great Slave river, three hundred miles in length, flowing into the Great Slave lake, an immense inland sea in the centre of the north that washes the shores of the "Barren Land," so called because of the fact that although it has as good soil as the western prairies, it is barren of trees.

Then on, still further north, at the western end of the lake, the mighty Mackenzie has its starting point. This is one of the eight largest rivers in the known world. In its course to its mouth in the Arctic ocean in latitude 70, it is joined by the Liard river, that has flown from beyond the Rockies, collecting the waters of the North Cassiar and Caribou and southern Yukon countries.

Then on, by the forts of the Hudson Bay Co. and Free Traders, missions, and Indian camps that occur at intervals of hundreds of miles, joining on its way at a point about latitude 65 by the Great Bear river, that brings down the waters from the lake of the same name, is found one of the largest fresh water lakes in the world. This lake has on its easterly and southerly boundary the edge of the barren ground, with its bands of musk-ox, and millions of northern caribou; the land that is the source of the Copper Mine and the Great Fish rivers; the country of the roving Eskimos and the land of copper, the largest tract of unexplored land on this continent.

Then on, passing through a spur of the Rockies at the Ramparts, one of the beauty spots of the world, a two hours' paddle of the Arctic Circle, Fort Good Hope is reached, where the traveler can go ashore and get potatoes and vegetables. Further on the Gravel, the Arctic, Red and Peel rivers join their forces. At the junction of the Peel the river widens and is divided by numerous islands, two of which—in fact, either one of them—is as large as the province of Prince Edward Island. Its delta finally makes the Arctic shore in Mackenzie Bay, 2,400 miles from the basin source in Central Alberta, draining one million miles there are drained by the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river. This is the northland!

BADGERING A PREMIER.

How the Suffragettes Tormented Mr. Asquith.

Eleven of Them Had to Be Ejected, Shouting and Struggling, from Highbury Athenaeum.

What Mr. Asquith described as "turbulent proceedings" took place on my friends of Union Chapel, for, as you know I used to worship there years ago. I—

Third Suffragette: Is it consistent with justice that—(Commotion, hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith: I wish you all possible success in the efforts you are making to extend the beneficent work of Fourth Suffragette: How dare you call yourself a Liberal! You—(Commotion, hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith: Your church, founded it has in many respects a peculiar and unique history. It is not necessary for me to remind you that—

Fifth Suffragette: Will you define your Liberal principles? (Commotion hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith: Your church, founded as it was at the beginning of the last century, in the early days of evangelical nominal was a centre of religious work and the meeting round—

Sixth Suffragette: Down with all hypocrites and tyranny. (Commotion, hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith: In course of time, under the process of ecclesiastical crystallization, it became definitely Non-conformist, but never lost the comprehensive spirit breathed into it by—

Seventh Suffragette (in the gallery): Why is that Pank girl kept in prison? (Commotion, hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith: During the best part of a hundred years, Union Chapel was served by but two ministers. Dr. Henry Allen—

Eighth Suffragette: Votes for women! Votes for women! (Commotion hisses, ejection, loud cheers.)

After this the Prime Minister was allowed to proceed without interruption for a time, until towards the end of his speech three more women had to be turned out, shouting and struggling.

Mr. Asquith: It is a great pleasure

DROWNED IN TWO FEET OF WATER

Friends Tried to Save Skater But Their Efforts Were Too Late

SASKATOON, Sask., Nov. 16.—While skating with a party of friends Wednesday night on Hudson Bay Slough, Alfred W. Harvey fell heavily on his head near an air hole, breaking through the ice and skidding for some distance beneath. Not knowing the depth of the water, which subsequently proved to be only two feet, his friends formed a chain and after some ten minutes distressing work succeeded in getting the unfortunate man to the bank, by which time, however, it was too late. Deceased was about twenty-four years ago from London, England.

The cheapest tea to use is not the lowest priced. You can buy tea a few cents a pound cheaper that will make a drink, but if you want an absolute pure, healthful, cleanly prepared tea, use "Salada." It is infinitely more delicious and decidedly more economical than other teas, because it goes farther.

WOMEN DRIVEN INSANE

By Horrors of Westphalian Mine Explosion

HAMM, WESTPHALIA, GERMANY, Nov. 16.—Thirty more dead bodies were brought up this morning from the shaft of the Radbod mine, where an explosion of fire damp yesterday resulted in great loss of life. The authorities estimate that there are still 330 miners below ground, but there is no hope that any of them can be saved.

The police still keep the public away from the immediate vicinity of the shaft head. The scenes witnessed are pitiful. The wives of the imprisoned miners are demanding why the authorities keep their husbands shut below ground, and several of the women have become insane and have been taken to an asylum.

There is danger of further explosions in the mine from extensive stores of dynamite at the bottom of the pit.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—Prince Eitel Frederick, representing his father, the Emperor has left here for Hamm. Subscriptions for the families of the men who have lost their lives in the disaster have been opened in Berlin, Cologne, Frankfurt and other big cities.

MANY RELIEVED.

Tremendous popularity of the famous "Vegetable prescription."

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It cannot be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first class drugstore will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

I never hear Brown enthuse about his summer cottage before. Now's he's praising it all the time.

Yes, you know he's trying to rent the place this summer.

Let me illustrate the difference between capital and labor, said the rich uncle to the impecunious nephew.

Suppose I give you $500—

That's capital, replied the nephew, extending his hand for the money.
