

Dr. William's Pink Pills Cures Anaemia

Pale Faces, Dizzy Spells, Palpitating Heart, Headaches and Shortness of Breath are Symptoms of Anaemia

Watery blood is an open invitation to disease to take possession of your system. Watery blood is responsible for nearly all the headaches and backaches and sideaches that afflict womankind. Watery blood is responsible for the dull eyes, sallow cheeks and the listless, dragged out feeling that is found in so many growing girls. Good blood means good health, and good blood actually comes through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Weak, ailing, despondent women who use this medicine are made active and strong; listless pale-faced girls are given new health, rosy cheeks, bright eyes and a new sense of happiness and security. Mrs. E. S. Nightingale, Chesley, Ont., says:

"My daughter was ill for a long time with anaemia and would often be confined to bed for three or four days at a time, and we feared she was going into a decline. A lady friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a half dozen boxes. By the time these were used there was a marked improvement, and I got a further supply for her. The change these pills have wrought in her condition is so great that you would not think that she was the same girl. I will always have a kindly feeling for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE BARS MUST GO BUT NOT THE BOOZE.

Dean Farthing, Outlining Temperance Policy, Suggests that Government Sell the Liquor.

KINGSTON, Jan. 10.—In an interesting letter on the liquor question, Dean Farthing of St. George's Cathedral declares that excellent results would accrue if the moral and social reform council could unify the religious bodies on a temperance policy.

"We are at the beginning of a great struggle with the liquor interests," the Dean points out, "and if the moral forces are to win they must be united and work in harmony."

"The bars must go," should be the front plank of the platform, as that would be striking at the root of the evil, because bars foster the treating system which is bad."

Dean Farthing holds, however, that men must be given a way to obtain alcoholic liquors legally and not by stealth. He favors the dispensary system modified to meet Canadian conditions, sales being under provincial government control. That system while it would be open to abuse would minimize the evil. The Dean favors local option in rural districts.

THOUSANDS HAVE STRANGE MALADY.

Whole Town of Lansing, Mich., Contracted Mysterious Disease During Night.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 10.—A special to the Free Press from Lansing, Mich., says:

Whether from flight of bacilli over the city, from deleterious matter in the city water, or from other unknown cause, Lansing was seized by a strange malady some time during Tuesday night, thousands being suddenly stricken with extreme nausea, accompanied by acute intestinal troubles.

From midnight until morning and all during the forenoon calls for physicians were incessant. Whole families were stricken.

Two boys were found lying in the street too ill to make further progress.

The disease, which most physicians attribute to atmospherical conditions, yielded readily to treatment.

Fifteen city teachers and hundreds of pupils were absent from school. All the stores were short of help.

Secretary Schumway, of the State Board of Health, suspecting that something was wrong with the city water supply, took steps to have an analysis made, but it was not completed today. It was learned later that outside of the waterworks zone the disease was quite as prevalent.

Among several old and feeble or very young persons serious conditions have developed, but no fatalities have so far resulted in consequence of the strange epidemic.

A man and his wife were airing their troubles on the sidewalk Saturday evening when a good Samaritan intervened.

"See here, my man," he protested, "this sort of thing won't do."

"What business is it of yours, I'd like to know?" snarled the man, turning from his wife.

"It's only my business in so far as I can be of help in settling this dispute," answered the Samaritan mildly.

"This ain't no dispute," growled the man.

"No dispute! But, my dear friend," insisted the man, "She"— jerking his thumb toward the woman—"think's she ain't goin' to get my week's wages, and I know darn well she ain't. Where's the dispute in that?"

Oats.
Oats sometimes escape from cultivation and grow from year to year so persistently as to seem wild. They have been found thus in regions as widely separated as Algeria and Japan, the Pyrenees and north China, the Hebrides and the desert of Mount Sinai.

A Growsome Catch.
A man's hand, with three valuable rings on its fingers, was found in the interior of a twenty-five pound pike caught at St. Aad, on the lake of Constance.

Addison's Wife.
Addison's wife, the famous Countess Dowager of Warwick, would not allow him to go to the inn at all unless he sat by the window, where he was in plain view from her front room. Every absence from his post had to be accounted for.

Finger Lines.
Line markings on the fingers have been found distinct and unimpaired on the fingers of Egyptian mummies.

The Human Hand.
Aristotle termed the human hand the instrument of instruments, which enables man to make all others, to manage and apply them to divers uses and to produce the most powerful and most delicate efforts.

Asparagus With Brown Butter.
Cut the asparagus all of one length, tie in bundles of five or six stalks and place in an upright position in a saucepan of boiling salted water which reaches not more than halfway up the stalks, cover closely and cook until tender. This is the best way to cook asparagus and keep it appetizing in its wholeness. To lay it flat in the water allows the tips to cook to a pulp before the lower ends of the stalks are tender. Drain the asparagus and serve on a rack, if possible in a heated dish.

To Keep Cream Sweet.
If cream curdles in your coffee, especially for breakfast, merely add a pinch of baking soda to the cream and it will not turn sour in the coffee.

The Bell Bird.
The bird whose voice has been found penetrate to the greatest distance is the bell bird of New Guinea. It is a white bird, about a foot long from tail to head, and its note, which resembles the tone of a bell, has been heard at the distance of no less than three miles.

A PAPER OF PINS.

Pins were introduced in the sixteenth century.

Then they were costly and highly prized as gifts.

A paper of pins was more acceptable than a bouquet.

An act was passed in 1543 making it illegal to charge more than eightpence a thousand for metal pins.

Persons of quality often used pins made of boxwood, bone and silver, while the poor put up with wooden skewers.

In those days husbands were often surprised at the great amount of money that went for pins; hence the term "pin money."

Not so many years ago the frugal American housewife was wont to teach pin economy by teaching her children that canny couplet, "See a pin and pick it up, all the day you'll have good luck."

QUEEN ST. FREDERICTON, N. B.

The youngest member of the family had taken enthusiastically to pyrography.

She had just executed a design representing a little girl playing with the cat in front of an old-fashioned fire-place.

"It is well done, Bertha," said her mother, inspecting it; "but you have managed somehow to make the little girl look scared."

"That's all right, mamma," answered Bertha. "A burnt child dreads the fire."

An Irishman out of work applied to the "boss" of a large repair shop in Detroit. When the Celt had stated his sundry and divers qualifications for a "job," the superintendent began quizzing him a bit. Starting quite at random, he asked:

Do you know anything about carpentry?

Sure!

Do you know how to make a Venetian blind?

Sure!

How would you do it?

Sure, I'd poke me finger in his eye!

Cases have been known of men who have permitted business to interfere with golf, but they are rare, and certainly it would be extremely difficult to find an individual bold enough to incur the odium of his fellow-golfers by admitting the impeachment.—Golf Illustrated.
