The vacancy caused by Myrshall's dismissal was not filled, but Chief Winter was instructed to communicate with the mayor in regard to procuring a uniform for Policeman Foss.

WAS MUCH NEEDED.

There was another heavy downpour of rain on Saturday night, and the weather in this vicinity is still unsettled. The storm was general throughout the county, and it is hard to estimate the benefit it has been to growing crops. The country was suffering for the want of rain, and the showers of Saturday and Sunday gladdened the hearts of the farmers. Reports from Cain's River are to the effect that a forest fire which had broken out near the line of the N. T. R., has been extinguished.

ROMANTIC WEDDING

Sweethearts of Forty Years Ago Finally Wedded at Gibson

The marriage of Mr. Harry Barber of St. Mary's, to Mrs. Frances Burton, formerly of Gibson, on Friday last, was the culmination of a very pretty romance. It started in Colchester, England, and fate seems to have brought the happy couple together after a period of about forty years.

When Harry Barber was a soldier boy, not having reached his fifteenth birthday, he casually met on the street in Colchester Miss Frances Cole. The young lady befriended him and an attachment seems to have sprung up, which time could not obliterate. The two remained very good friends until Harry's regiment was ordered to Ireland, and thence to various parts of the world, and finally landed him in Fredericton. During this period Harry saw active service in the Afghan and Zulu wars, being present at the battle of Ulundu.

In the meantime Miss Cole had met and married Edwin James Burton of Her Majesty's Tenth Hussars, who eventually settled in Gibson as a pensioner. Of course his old associations naturally led him to the barracks, and there he met Harry Barber, whom he invited to his home. Imagine Harry's surprise, when he discovered that his new friend's wife was his (Barber's) former sweetheart, Frances Cole.

Mr. Burton died in Gibson about seven years ago, and as Harry had previously left this part of the world, the widow removed to Madison, Me., where she resided with her son. A matter of business brought her back a few days ago, but perhaps she knew or hoped that Harry had also returned. The old sweethearts again met by chance on the streets of St. Mary's, and were not long in arranging for their marriage.

GETTING ALONG WELL.

Mr. Harry Gibson of Marysville, who has a contract for clearing a portion of the right of way on the Transcontinental railway, was in the city on Saturday. He has had a large crew of men at work for nearly two months, and they have cleared over seven miles of the right of way along the Southwest Miramichi river. The logs and pulp wood which were purchased by Mr. Gibson from the commission, are being marked and thrown into the river. He is also getting out quite a number of railway ties for his contract. The tree tops and brush are piled up and burned each night. Although the weather has been very dry, Mr. Gibson has had no trouble keeping his fires under control. The action of the government in raising the stumpage on railway ties from 2 1/2 to 5 cents will not affect Mr. Gibson, as the large number he will get out for the railway will be cut on private lands.

LAWYER'S AMENITIES.

In the trial of a case at St. John Saturday two of the lawyers engaged had some sharp passages. Both of them tried to talk at once and this called out the loud observation of J. D. M. Baxter one of the twain that "Two of us cannot talk at the one time," and Mr. Daniel Mullin, the other replied: "And there will be no bullying."

Mr. Baxter—"No grunts."
Mr. Mullin—"Well, the pig is at the front end of the desk."
Mr. Baxter's reply was not audible and being a military man it is almost a wonder he didn't demand pistols and coffee for two.
