SHOT POLICEMAN

Boston Officer Killed on the Street

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Patrolman J. T. Lynch, connected with division two, and who has been on the Boston police force for a year and a half, was shot three times in the body by a man he found acting suspiciously on Kingston street last night, and died within an hour at the relief station. The officer was patrolling his beat when he saw two men near the corner of Summer and Kingston streets who, he thought, were acting suspiciously. He accosted the men and asked them where they were going. They responded "nowhere." The officer stepped up to the men and put his hands on their clothing to see what they might be carrying in their pockets, when suddenly one of them whipped out a revolver and fired three times at the officer, one bullet striking Lynch in the abdomen.

Patrolman Lynch grappled with the man and had thrown him to the ground and was holding him there when Patrolman Doyle, hearing the shots, ran to his rescue. The man was taken into custody. The man who did the shooting, upon being questioned at the police station, stated that his name was William Foley, aged twenty-four years, and that he had no home. Besides the thirty-eight calibre revolver he carried, there was found on his person fifty rounds of ammunition and a bunch of skeleton keys. Lynch was twenty-eight years old, and unmarried.

LOOKING FOR BLOOD

New Orleans Chief of Police fired two ineffective shots at Editor

NEW ORLEANS, La., January 17.—Edward S. Whitaker, inspector of police, entered the office of the Morning World, here last night and fired two shots at Joseph M. Leveque, the editor. Neither shot took effect. The shooting followed several attacks upon Whitaker in the editorial and news columns of the World. The head of the New Orleans police department was criticised for attending the races daily, drawing a salary of $6,000 yearly from the people, and was referred to as a "blackguard and a bully."

Whitaker, accompanied by several detectives, entered the editorial room last evening and started for Leveque, who was talking at the time to a young reporter. Blows were exchanged, and it was then that Whitaker drew a large calibre revolver and fired twice. Accounts of the shooting vary, but, according to eye-witnesses, one of the several reporters who rushed to the editor's assistance, struck the police inspector's arm and caused the shot to go wild.

THIRTY LIVES LOST

British Ship Foundered off Vancouver Island and all on Board Perished

VICTORIA, B. C., January 17.—A wireless despatch received from Estevan would indicate that the British sailing ship Hatfield, Captain Sanderson, 1,815 tons, has been totally wrecked and her crew of eighteen lost off Hesquet, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

An imitation buoy has been washed ashore bearing the pencilled words, "Hatfield, Liverpool," and nearby on the rocky beach was a pile of wreckage, including the cabin and life boat fittings, belts, doors, planking, etc., belonging to the sailing ship. The Hatfield left Valparaiso, October 26th. This despatch was the first wireless message received from the new Dominion government station at Estevan.

SEATTLE, Washington, January 17.—The British ship Hatfield, from Liverpool to Seattle, is believed to have gone down with all on board on the west coast of Vancouver Island. A wireless message reports that the vessel's deckhouse and several empty boxes were washed ashore yesterday morning. The ship's captain is A. Sanderson, and his wife and family probably were on board. In all about thirty persons were aboard the ship.

NOTICE

I beg to announce to the patrons of the Queen Hotel Livery Stables, and also the public in general, that I have this day purchased the livery business of the Queen Hotel Stables and will carry on the business on my own account. With the installation of new horses and outfit, and competent employees, I hope to merit a continuance of the generous patronage heretofore extended to the stables and respectfully solicit the support of the public for the future. I guarantee to give satisfaction, and will pay particular attention to the coaching business. A baggage express will be run in connection with the stables.

Yours truly,

ROY W. SMITH.
