

FIRST ENGLISHMAN "TRIMMED TO LIKING."

John D. Crimmins Tells St. Patrick's Day Story, but Doubts If It is a New One.

NEW YORK, March 18.—"Here's a rather good St. Patrick's Day story said J. D. Crimmins yesterday to a group of Wall Street men."

A beggar with an unmistakably English face and also with a regular "stand" on the strand at Southampton Street, London, patiently waiting with his tin cup for the charity of the passerby. He had only one leg, one arm, and one eye.

A well dressed, unmistakable Irishman, noticing him across the street surveyed him carefully for five minutes, approached, and with "take this" my good man, dropped a gold piece into his cup.

"Thank you sir," said the beggar bowing about twenty five times in twenty-five seconds. "I've been on this corner well high thirty years sir and this is the first time any one ever has dropped a bit of gold into my cup, sir, and begging your pardon, sir, but, strike me lucky! I think sir, you're Irish."

"Faith, you're telling the truth sir," the Irishman said, "I give you this gold for you're the first Englishman I ever saw who was trimmed exactly to my liking."

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION MEANS SICKLY BABIES.

The baby who suffers from indigestion is simply starving to death. It loses all desire for food and the little it does take does it no good; the child is peevish, cross and restless, and the mother feels worn out in caring for it. Baby's Own Tablets always cure indigestion, and make the child sleep healthily and naturally. Mrs. Geo. Howell, Sandy Beach, Que., says "My baby suffered from indigestion, colic and vomiting and cried day and night, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the trouble disappeared and he is now a healthy child." The Tablets will cure all the minor ailments of babyhood and childhood. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AN ODORLESS ONION.

California Chinaman Says He Has Discovered One.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The Herald has received the following despatch from San Francisco: Wing Hop, a Chinese gardener, who owns a small truck farm near Fresno, has announced that he has out-burkanked Luther Burbank and produced an odorless onion.

For years Hop, who formerly worked for Mr. Burbank, has been working on the production of an onion which would have all the taste and other qualities of the normal vegetable, but would be free of the disagreeable odor which offends so many persons. Now he says he has succeeded, and his contention is borne out by the statement of many of the white neighbors who have inspected the new onion.

Never Purg Your System!

As you value life itself, never use medicine that racks the system. Costiveness is bad enough, but violent cathartics are the limit.

When the bowels are constipated and you have stomach trouble and headache, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire secretory apparatus is stimulated to healthy action.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills move the bowels gently.

They tone the liver and kidneys. They renew the blood. Digestion is assisted. Headaches disappear. Stomach rumblings cease. Bileous turns are prevented.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more than a bowel medicine, for they act as a system cleaner and general tonic. For those who feel dull, heavy and morose, for those who suffer frequently from colds, biliousness and stomach disorders, there is no better medicine.

You risk nothing in using Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they are guaranteed to cure.

Made according to the formula of one of the greatest physicians that ever lived, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are bound to give your system just the aid it requires. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00.

MELODRAMA IN A MONTREAL STABLE.

Old Man Showed Grief Over Shooting a Horse that was Dying.

Montreal Witness: Outside a dilapidated little tenement in Versailles street, a heart-rending scene was enacted, in which the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, played a part. In a grimy, ill-lit stable, filthy from neglect, a poor horse lay moaning, unable to move, and dying from starvation. It was one of the worst cases that has come under the notice of the society, and Mr. J. R. Innes, the superintendent, at once sent for a veterinary surgeon, on whose orders the horse was taken out and shot by Inspector Kinley.

The sequel was poignantly dramatic. No sooner had the wretched animal gasped its last, than its owner, an old man of seventy-five years rushed forward sobbing in an agony of grief. He threw his arms around the horse's neck, kissed it passionately, and then looking around he spied a wisp of hay which he vainly tried to push into the already stiffened jaws.

Realizing at last that the poor animal, which had been his companion for at least a score of years, was dead, the old man, still weeping, tenderly wiped away the blood from its head, and was with difficulty induced to allow his favorite to be taken away.

So pathetic was the scene that the spectators were moved to tears, and Inspector Kinley was heard to remark that never in his experience had he been called on to perform so painful a duty as the shooting of the old man's horse.

Mr. Innes in conversation with a Witness representative remarked that cases of starvation such as that in Versailles street, though without its dramatic features, were reported to be common in Montreal, and he expressed a desire that the society should be informed if any such cases were noticed. Last week he said no fewer than 13 loads of hay and oats were sent out to carters whose cases had been investigated, and who were found to be too poor to provide anything but straw for their horses. It was not uncommon he added, for people in the country to feed horses on straw during the winter, where they have no work for them to do, but straw would barely support life in idleness, and if the horses were worked they would probably drop dead.

Edwin aged three, who fondled his small cat overmuch and unwisely, appeared before his mother one day, his little face guiltily pained and a scratch upon his hand.

What happened? she asked. I bent the kitty a little, he said, briefly.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. J. M. Tweedale, 12 Napanee Street, Toronto, Canada, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, had those dreadful bearing down pains, and during my monthly periods I suffered so I had to go to bed. I doctored for a long time but the doctor's treatment failed to help me. My husband saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got a bottle for me. I commenced its use and soon felt better. I kept on taking it until I was well and an entirely different woman. I also found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made childbirth much easier for me. I would recommend your Vegetable Compound to every woman who is afflicted with female troubles."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Tweedale, it will do for other suffering women.
