

Polite Dogs.

A school for dogs has been established in Paris. The object is to teach them politeness. The animals are trained to welcome visitors by jumping up, wagging the tail and giving a low bark. When the visitor leaves the dog accompanies him to the door, constantly wagging his tail, and bows his farewell by bending his head to the floor. He is trained likewise to pick up a handkerchief, glove or fan that has been dropped and return it to the owner.

Late at the Play.

We know from Peppy and from passages in the plays of contemporary dramatists that the manners of theater audiences in the restoration epoch were not nice, but there is no reason to believe that even the fops habitually arrived at the theater late. Mr. Sparkish, Mr. Novel and their fellows would talk loudly while the play was going on to show the superiority of their wit to the poet's, but they likely were on hand early to lose none of the fun. In later epochs of English theatrical history theater going was a serious undertaking, not a mere pastime. One can tell from the beginnings of old plays that the authors counted on audiences closely attentive from the first. Lady Randolph is the first speaker in "Douglas," Orestes in "The Distressed Mother," Alceira in "The Mourning Bride." The custom of "playing the audience in" with a short piece was of still later origin. Perhaps about that time the habit of going late to the theater became common. "Half price" for late comers was a custom of Thackeray's time.—Westminster Gazette.

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a silver crown. What if he be threescore and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firmness in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his counsel? He commands love and reverence. Yet how few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dim eyed, querulous of speech, halting in step, childish in mind, they "lag superfluous on the stage," dragging out the lag end of life in a simple existence. The secret of a healthy old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished, will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Hance's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the preservation of the working power of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. From this center is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime for the bones, phosphates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach sound by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" will wear the crown of gray hairs as befits a monarch, with dignity and ease. Formula printed on wrapper—not a secret, or "patent medicine" but of known composition.

Where Were the Gordons?

An old woman of the name of Gordon in the north of Scotland was listening to the account given in Scripture of Solomon's glory, which was read to her by a little grandchild. When the little girl came to tell of the thousand camels which formed part of the Jewish sovereign's live stock, "Eh, lassie," cried the old woman, "a thousand Camels, say ye? The Campbells are an auld clan, sure enough, but dinna ye see the Gordons too?"

IT HAS KILLED HUNDREDS.

Strong purgatives have killed many a good man. Costiveness is bad—violent cathartics are worse. If bothered with stomach trouble or biliousness, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire system is cleansed of wastes. Dr. Hamilton's Pills move the bowels gently, they tone the kidneys, assist digestion, clear the skin. For those subject to colds, biliousness, languor there is no better medicine. Try a 25c. box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

PALMISTRY IS ABSURD.

Whole Thing Beneath Contempt, Says Prof. Stirling of Manchester.

"Palmistry is an absolute absurdity; the whole thing is beneath contempt," declared Prof. Stirling, dean of the medical faculty and professor of physiology at Victoria University, Manchester, in the course of a recent lecture at the Royal Institute.

"Look at your palms," he continued, "and you will find certain classical lines. These lines—the so-called lines of life, heart, and head, and the circle of Venus, and the bracelets of life around your wrists—what do you suppose they really are? They are nothing more nor less than creases or folds produced by the action of the muscles. The line of heart, for instance, is the flexure of the four fingers. The line of life is the result of the action of the thumb. All these lines that have been given astronomical names by palmists are characteristic flexures. You will find the same lines on the palm of the Barbary ape. Humanity is daily gulled through its extraordinary ignorance of the elemental facts of physiology."

The difference in the tone of a Gourlay Piano and that of an ordinary instrument is noticeably marked. The Gourlay furnishes a means for better progress to the player as with its rich, sweet, full singing tone the performer can produce all the exquisite gradations which make "tone color" the quality which gives beauty to a piece of music.

BABY HAD DIARRHOEA FOR SEVEN WEEKS

Thousands of infants die annually who could be saved by the timely use of Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY.

There can be no doubt about it. Sixty-three years experience has proved this sterling remedy to be the best for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Infantum, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, and all bowel troubles in both children and adults.

Many of the imitations sold are positively dangerous, as they often check the diarrhoea too suddenly and cause inflammation.

Always insist on the genuine Dr. FOWLER'S. Sold at all medicine dealers at 35 cents a bottle.

Mrs. A. B. De Marchand, Bath, N.B., writes: "My baby was troubled with Diarrhoea for nearly seven weeks. I tried three different doctors, but none of them could do her any good. I was advised to try Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY and less than half a bottle cured her."

A Guilty Conscience.

"Sawyer" bawled the conductor as his train approached the town of that name.

"Don't care if you did," said the young swain who had just kissed his girl. "We are going to be married next month!"—Harper's Weekly.

Telling a Family Secret.

Little Clarence—Mamma, how did papa make his first thousand?

His Mother—He made it dear, by marrying your grandfather's daughter. Now run out and play.—Chicago Tribune.

Doings of a Divinity.

She—Do you really believe there's a divinity that shapes our ends?

He—Well, I know many a little "divinity" has had a lot to do with a man's finish.—Yonkers Statesman.

DOCTORS FEAR TONSILITIS OUTBREAK.

Hundreds of cases are reported. If your throat is irritable and sore, gargle it three times daily with Nerville and water. Then rub the throat and chest vigorously with Nerville and put on a Nerville Plaster. Follow these instructions closely and you will avoid Tonsilitis, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble of every kind. Hundreds are preventing and curing their colds by this method and report it eminently satisfactory. Both Nerville Plasters and Polson's Nerville can be had from any dealer, 25c. each.

Clothes in New York.

Clothes, the kind that are spelled with a capital "C," mount to a price that would seem like fiction if you had not found it reality. There are shops along Fifth Avenue—those that are labeled "Louise," "Harriette," "Mme. Jeanne"—where one buys a gown or a hat—that is, one would if one had the money—as a collector buys a Corot or a Rubens. The artist—oh, dear, no; nothing so plebeian as a dressmaker or a milliner—herself wears, say, a costume of lace with a rope of pearls to her knees. She meets her customers in a reception room where oriental rugs brush the footfall and softly shaded lights blend the colorings in the decorations. She looks my lady over. The hired designers, the fitters, the needlewomen do the rest. And the bill comes in, $30 to $150 for a hat, $300 to $2,500 for a gown. There are plenty of prices like that in New York. Then there are others that gently let you down, down until you strike prevailing rock bottom at about $15 for only the making of a gown and $25 for a hat that is a hat.—Broadway Magazine.

A Fortunate Man.

One day a young matron to the market place did go, where she bought an oyster plant, then set it out to grow. Said she, "Next winter we'll have oysters, fresh oysters every day, and what a saving it will be, with not a cent to pay. Oh, but hubby should be thankful it was his lot in life to get such a saving woman for his own little wife."

A Boston genius offers for $500 to teach one how not to worry. Most of us possessing $500 would probably be willing to do without instruction so long as the cash held out.—The Scranton Tribune.

You'll eat everything and digest it too. Strength? That's what plenty of food gives. Ferrozone gives hope, vigor, vim, endurance. Use Ferrozone and get strong. Results are quick—cure is lasting. All dealers in 50c. boxes.

THE REVELATION.

Her Suspense Was Wearing While It Lasted.

Long and steadfastly he looked into her eyes. She returned his gaze steadily and without winking. For a minute neither spoke. Then she broke the silence:

"You think it is?" She hesitated. He gazed into her eyes again—those great, heavenly blue eyes.

"I did not want you to understand"—he began.

She interrupted him with some impatience. "Can we not understand each other?" she cried. "The suspense of it all is wearing me out. Do you wish me to believe?"

He broke in upon her. "It is not what I wish you to believe," he said gently. "It is what you must know. I have determined."

She covered her face with her hands as if preparing herself for the worst. But she was a woman—a proud, imperious woman. She would show him that she could suffer and make no sign. She rose from her chair.

"Well?" she demanded.

"It is only a little granulation," he continued. "Nothing serious whatever. I will give you a prescription. The charge will be $10."

For had he not looked long and steadfastly into her eyes?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Artful Dodger.

Ben had been going to school all of a month, and Ben's father thought it high time to find out how things were running. So he asked one day, "And what was it you learned all about this morning?"

"Oh, a mouse. Teacher told us all about mouses."

"Fine, sonny! Now, how do you spell mouse?"

A long moment's silence, and then the future editor blue pencilled the earlier communication thus: "Father, I guess I was wrong. It wasn't a mouse. It was a rat."—Harper's Weekly.

Overheard on the Links.

"Neatness is essential on the links," said H. J. Whigham, the golfer, at a dinner in Chicago. "At Shinnecock Hills one day I played behind two young and pretty girls. Overtaking them, I heard the younger say, 'How many holes on this course, Alleen?' 'Nineteen, dear,' said Alleen, 'including the one in your stocking.'"
