BULLETS FLEW IN COURT

Armenian Doctor Tried to Kill His Nephew

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—Dr. G. J. K. Boyajian of Detroit, shot his nephew Harootian H. Gastanian, three times and made an attempt to kill his wife as the two were being arraigned in Justice Jeffries' court today on a statutory charge. Gastanian has a bullet in his back and another in his left wrist. Newspaper men standing saved the woman's life by throwing her into a jury room and locking the door.

As the would-be assassin grappled with the police court officials to get at his wife and nephew, he was struck over the head and not until he had been manacled, hand and foot did he cease his struggles.

When Boyajian drew his revolver and began shooting wildly into the court room the spectators and the prisoners in the box were thrown into a panic. One bullet pierced the crown of Mrs. Boyajian's hat, while another struck the wall about half an inch above Justice Jeffries' head.

The immediate cause of the shooting was the doctor's jealousy which overcame him when he saw his wife as she came into the room smiling at his nephew. Both men are naturalized Armenians, but Mrs. Boyajian, who is a handsome young woman, is a native of America. After the shooting Gastanian, who is only twenty-three years old, was hurried over to St. Mary's hospital. He has a chance for his life. Dr. Boyajian was placed under arrest. He says he has secured indubitable proofs of his wife's unfaithfulness, and that, according to the customs of the old world, nothing but the blood of the betrayer will satisfy him.

SELF DENIAL WEEK.

The Salvation Army Making Their Annual Appeal For Funds.

We have been asked by the local representative of the Salvation Army to call the attention of our readers to the date of their Self-Denial week. This is fixed for May 1st to 8th, inclusive.

The work of the Salvation Army in this city, as in most parts of the world, is now looked upon with favor by all classes. We give below a few statistics, which will give some idea of the vast scope of the Army's operations in this and other lands. We know something of what the Army has accomplished in our neighborhood, and feel very confident therefore in bringing before the notice of our readers the Self-Denial effort and endeavoring to secure their sympathy for the same.

The fact that General Booth has just celebrated his 80th birthday, having spent 65 years of his life in self-denial and labour for the good of suffering humanity, ought to appeal strongly to the public mind and heart.

Donations may be sent to the Herald or to Captain Hargrove, the officer in charge of the local branch.

MISS SADIE CALHOUN

Will Be Seen at Opera House Friday Evening in "A Girl From The West."

That there is more smoke than fire under the present dramatic boiling pot in New York—which is the centre from which our theatrical food is shipped at present—is the opinion of Miss Sadie Calhoun, who has just entered the provinces upon her fourth spring tour.

"From the papers," said Miss Calhoun recently, "it would seem as though every pot in the theatrical business is debauching the stage, and each actor or actress the other of pondering the baser passions of the mob. Managers state that they do not care for such and such plays, but that they are the only kind they can secure from the playwrights. Actresses protest that they do not care to play such and such parts, but that they are given to them by the managers.

Yet the managers claim to be independent, and the players more so. And there is a solution to this mooted question; this problem of smoke without fire? Of a certainty. Let them do as I do—write their own plays, making them clean, sweet and wholesome—the sort of plays in which a real womanly woman would care to appear—let them be the mirror held up to nature as nature is today. It matters not the time or the place—women always are women, and men always are men. Whether it be the pink tea of the effete east, or the strenuous life of Alaska's shores, the motives which impel, and the ties which bind will be found to have the same basic principle.

For instance, my latest play—written by myself and played by me entitled "A Girl of the West" is a study of a young girl who starts in life without the endowments of birth, breeding and education, but who triumphs in the end. The plot—? Here Miss Calhoun laughed, and to solve that laugh one will have to attend the city Opera House on next Friday evening.

Blackmailers Balked.

San Francisco, May 1.—An attempt to extort under pain of death the sum of $6,000 from Rudolph Spreckels, son of the late millionaire sugar king, Claus Spreckels, was frustrated by the police Thursday night, and in consequence two men are in jail today charged with blackmail.

The police instructed the Spreckels' butler to hand a package containing newspapers to any one who should call. At the appointed time a man called and received the package, whereupon he was arrested.

Eight Victims of Fire.

New York, May 1.—Eight persons, five of them children, were burned to death and fourteen others were injured, some of them fatally, in an incendiary fire in a five-storey tenement house at 37 Spring street, occupied by twenty Italian families, early yesterday. The blaze followed a demand by members of a so-called Black Hand society for the payment of $1,000, blackmail.

Kinrade Warrant Served.

Toronto, May 1.—Provincial Detective Miller and Sheriff's Officer McKim served the crown office subpoena to attend the inquest at Hamilton next Monday on the Kinrade family about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The service was a purely formal affair. The warrant was signed by Chief Justice Falconbridge.

The crown authorities do not anticipate any further difficulty in the case from the non-attendance of witnesses. Should Miss Kinrade refuse to attend the crown would apply for an order of attachment at Osgoode Hall.

A crown subpoena has not been issued since 1845, when according to Osgoode Hall records, in the spring of that year, Lord Denman, chief justice, issued one for a county officer named Carey, who on counsel's advice had refused to produce records.

No Canal Planned.

Ottawa, April 30.—Replying to Capt. Tom Wallace in the House yesterday, the Minister of Railways said the Government had not considered the building of a canal from Lake Wilcox, Whitechurch Township, York County, to the town of Newmarket, and no survey had been made.

Tunnel Work Fatal.

Windsor, April 30.—Gus Smith, employed as a pipefitter at the Michigan Central tunnel, was stricken on the street with an attack of "bends," caused by long continued work under compressed air, and died yesterday at the hospital.
