

U. S. TARIFF BILL.

Representative Mann Declares Canada Has Whiphand in Pulp Business, and All She Has to Do is to "Stand Pat" and Dictate Terms to Americans.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The house recently adopted the conference report of the tariff bill, 1909 to 1913. The Republicans shrieked in their delight over the final outcome, and Chairman Payne was the central figure of an admiring and congratulating crowd of colleagues.

Twenty Republicans voted against the report and two Democrats for it. Perhaps the most sensational speech of all was by Mr. Mann, of Illinois Republican, who said he would vote against the report, provided the rates on pulp and print paper, as reduced by the house, were not retained. He denounced that particular schedule and declared that Canada would take such action regarding pulp wood and print paper as to place an almost prohibitory price upon paper in this country.

Mr. Mann declared that Congress is confronted with the situation where the Canadian government has reached the conclusion that possibly, if not probably, the dominion would be justified in absolutely forbidding the exportation of raw material.

Under the maximum and minimum clause, he said, the charge of $1.67 a ton on wood pulp would be increased to $6.67 a ton.

"That maximum," he exclaimed "is sure to go into effect between Canada and this country and until Canada removes her restrictions on the exportation of the pulp."

Mr. Mann said that all Canada needed to do was "to stand pat" and say "you have got to have our paper and pulp in some form. You will take it in the form of paper from us."

"Canada," said Mr. Mann, "is as wise and keen as the best leaders of the Republican party."

"They well know," he asserted "that they hold the whip hand."

Should Canada prohibit the exportation of wood pulp, Mr. Mann argued that Maine and New Hampshire would raise the price of pulp wood and that print would go up. He declared that instead of the revision of the tariff reducing the price of print paper, the threat of three cents a pound or $60 a ton would soon be past history.

Mr. Mann vehemently denounced the senate for its action in conference committee. "I am tired," he said amid applause from both sides, "of seeing this body constantly yield to the insistent demands of a few senators. Let them vote as they please. It is our duty to stand by what we believe to be right."

Mr. Malby, New York, said that the Illinois member was placing his personal judgment against that of every man who had tried to build up the paper industry in the United States.

Although paper-making was fourth among other industries, he said, the returns were miserable. He predicted that if the bill pass there would be no American money put into paper manufacturing in the United States.

Mr. Clayton, Alabama, said a parallel case was lute and jute butts which were free and out of which cotton bagging was made and yet a tariff was levied on cotton bagging for the benefit of the manufacturer.

Continuing, Mr. Malby declared that the newspapers were reaping marvelous dividends from their investments.

"No one inquires how wealthy they are," he said, "and no one inquires how little a poor paper maker is making."

Applicant's fraternal parents died when he was a child.

Mother's last illness was caused by chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death.

IS YOUR CHEST "WHEEZY"?

Tightness and wheezing means your trouble is deep-seated. To delay is dangerous. Inflammation must be drawn out at once. Rub the throat and chest with Nerviline. Relief comes in an hour. The counter-irritant effect of the plaster relieves the tightness and strain, draws out the soreness, eases pain. The penetrating qualities of Nerviline enable it to soak to the very core of the trouble and you experience a feeling of warmth and relief that proves the danger is past. For weak chest, sore throat and tendency to colds, the try it.

The other day Inspector-General Hornaday of that American Institution, the C. A. R., told this story: "I remember a little Japanese who attended one of our banquets," he said smiling, "and a queer compliment he paid to a colonel's wife."

"I sat between the two and the lady said across to me:

"Mr. Takashira, you compress the ladies' feet in your country, don't you?"

"Oh, no, madam, that is a Chinese custom," said the Japanese. "We Japanese allow our ladies' feet to grow to their full size. Not that—"

"And he bowed and hissed in the polite Japanese way: "Not that could ever hope to rival yours, madam."

When a Scotsman answers a question he settles the matter in dispute once for all. On a certain occasion the question was asked:

"Why was Mary, Queen of Scots, born at Linlithgow?"

Sandy Kerr promptly answered: "Because her mither was staying there."

MUST FACE A JURY

Andrew McKelvie Committed to Trial For Bribery.

WOMAN WAS GO-BETWEEN

Mrs. Burwash at Preliminary Hearing in Haileybury Says She Acted as Agent Between John Piche and McKelvie While Former Was in the West—Expected Money, Says Piche—Got $1,000.

Haileybury, Aug. 4.—Andrew McKelvie, a director in the Temiskaming & Hudson Bay Mining Co., prominent in the Cobalt district, was yesterday committed for trial by Magistrate Atkinson on a charge of having bribed John Piche to leave the country and avoid giving evidence in a suit intended to prove that the company's claim had been "blanketed."

Two witnesses, Mrs. Elizabeth Burwash and her brother John Piche swore that McKelvie had given him (Piche) $1,000, and 100 shares of the company's stock to disappear.

Magistrate Atkinson in giving the decision said, "It is better that I should commit Mr. McKelvie for trial, as in a higher court his innocence, if he is innocent, can be established, whereas, if I were to let the matter drop now, there always would be more or less doubt in regard to his sending Mrs. Burwash (Piche's sister), out west."

There was a large attendance in the magistrate's court yesterday, and intense interest was manifested. A. G. Slaght appeared for Mr. McKelvie. Crown Attorney Browning prosecuted. Mr. Slaght objected that, as the alleged offence occurred three years ago, the prosecution was debarred. He was overruled.

Mrs. Burwash swore that relations between the company and Piche, its original prospector, became strained on account of the filing of certain affidavits. She then became the agent through which Piche and McKelvie got together and arranged the terms, $1,000 cash, and one hundred shares of stock.

She had seen McKelvie and then wired for her brother. She had not taken part in the conversation, as the men were inclined to be quarrelsome.

"McKelvie wanted to come to a settlement and my brother would not listen to him," she said. Asked to relate what had been said, she could not remember, nor whether an agreement was reached that night. She had seen McKelvie and demanded $2,000 and the stock, but McKelvie had only agreed to $200 cash and a check for $800 on the Union Bank, in addition to the stock, which was made out in her name. She said she sent the proceeds to her brother in the west. The check had been signed by one McCamus, payable to her.

She also said that she got $200 from McKelvie later to go out west and tell Piche there was a warrant out for his arrest, and have him keep out of the way.

After an hour and a half Piche was called. He was asked: "Are you the man who made the discoveries on the Hudson Bay?" and replied "Yes."

During a cross-examination Piche said he knew he was to be the chief witness in the case of the Attorney-General vs. Thompson, and said that William Pinkerton of the law firm of Pinkerton, Clute & Bartram, Toronto, was dickering with him for the purpose of having him withhold certain evidence which he had. Piche said he was going to leave the country, anyway, as he was afraid of Pinkerton, as the former had got him to sign a paper that he had not read, and he also did not want to go on the stand against the company and without evidence.

Mr. Browning: "Tell me again the exact reason for your leaving."

Piche: "It was because I expected to get something out of the hundred shares given to Mrs. Burwash, and at the same time, that would not appear in court concerning the pending suits."

Mr. Slaght, in arguing for a dismissal, said that as no date had ever been fixed for the Attorney-General's action against the company, it could not be said that there was any occasion on which Piche was to appear as a witness, nor had he ever been subpoenaed. Hence Piche had been perfectly free to go where he pleased. He declared Piche had not been in concealment and charged that Piche and his sister were "accomplices up to the hilt."

Then wash in hot suds and polish with a dry cloth. Alcohol on a soft cloth is also a quick cleaner of copper.

Work on G.T.P.

Although it seems only the other day since Messrs. Foley, Welch and Stewart were given the contract for the first hundred miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific east of Prince Rupert on the Pacific coast, Mr. Stewart, who was in Montreal recently, announces officially that the contract will be fully completed by September and that track laying will be started from the harbor of Prince Rupert early in June next.

Ninety per cent. of the work was rock, and while 3,500 men have been constantly at work, not a single Asiatic has been engaged.

Mr. Stewart is looking after the second hundred mile contract, but tenders have not yet been asked.

The same firm have also completed a section extending from the City of Edmonton 125 miles westward, bringing the G.T.P. right up into the foothills of the Rockies. He says that the road will open up the finest spruce belt in the world.
