

OLD TIMES RECALLED

Glance Into the Local News of Fredericton Twenty-six Years Ago.

FARMER FILES, JAN. 24, 1882

Mr. J. D. Hazen is shortly to deliver a lecture at Bear Island, Queensbury, and also at Lincoln.

Coun. White, Gibson, extended his usual hospitality to the municipal council during its session last week.

Mr. Alexander Thompson's condition is considered alarming by his friends. He had a relapse Sunday.

Rev. A. J. Mowatt, pastor of St. Paul's church, suffered from illness last Sunday, and at the evening service had to request Mr. L. W. Johnston to assist him in the service.

The New Brunswick friends of Hon. C. P. Brown, Minister of Public Works, Manitoba, will be pleased to learn that he has been re-elected to the legislature without opposition. (The late Mr. Brown was a brother of Mr. Nelson W. Brown.)

Mr. C. W. C. Tabor, son of Capt. Tabor, Kinross, has been appointed to a position in the finance department, Ottawa, after having successfully passed the admittance and qualifying Civil Service examination.

Mr. Justice Steadman is presiding at the Queen's county court, which opened at Gagetown yesterday.

This evening, at Marysville, Mr. John Gibson, brother of Alex. Gibson, and Miss Clayton, are to be united in marriage.

Wardens T. H. Colter and his brother, James Colter, are operating in lumber this season on the Tobique, for H. N. A. F. Randolph. They employ 55 men and 22 horses, and will get out 2,000,000.

At the Free Baptist social Friday night, over $300 were subscribed towards the fund to be donated to Rev. Joseph McLeod, who is ill in the South. We are glad to learn that at last accounts Mr. McLeod was recovering.

It is understood that Mr. John Livingston, editor of the Sun, has resigned, that he is succeeded by Mr. James Hanley of the Telegraph, and that Mr. C. H. Lugin of this city, has accepted Mr. Hanley's late position on the Telegraph staff.

Mr. Herbert Radcliffe, commercial editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser, is in the city, and is the guest of his brother-in-law, John Black, Waterloo Row. Mr. Radcliffe is seeking recovery from an illiferent state of health.

Mr. G. R. Parkin delivered his lecture on "Civilization as influenced by Geographical Conditions," in the Church of England hall, Monday evening to an intelligent and appreciative audience, illustrating it by the aid of wall maps.

The curlers are making preparation for their ball, which is to be held in the county court house on Tuesday evening, Feb. 1st. Mr. A. F. Street is chairman, and Mr. J. D. Hazen, secretary of the committee in charge. It will be the grandest social event of the season.

The Fredericton curlers were beaten at Chatham by two points, and they won at Newcastle by 14 points. Regarding the former match the Chatham World says: "Skip Logan, against whom Skip Wilson was pitted, is the best skip in the Fredericton club, and was chosen unanimously as one of the skips to be sent here. Skip Wilson's playing was brilliant from first to last, and his tactics Napoleonic. He beat the best Fredericton skip and beat him badly.

Aids, C. H. Thomas and William Cooper entertained a large number of their friends to an oyster supper at "Kate's," last night, and there was the usual speech making and music. The aidmen elect made excellent speeches, and almost every imaginable interest was touched. Among the guests were Aids. Burchill, Macpherson and Scully. The evening passed very pleasantly indeed.

The Presbyterian congregation of St. Paul's church met Monday evening and arranged preliminaries for their bazaar and tea, which is to be held in the Temperance hall on Thursday, the 29th of March. Subscription and other committees were appointed, and the meeting evinced a warm desire to assist the building committee in the erection of the new church. We believe the Presbyterians of Fredericton have never before solicited assistance by means of bazaars and the like, and they feel, no doubt, their maiden effort should be liberally patronized.

We presume the citizens are entirely in accord with the feeling that the water commission, Aids. Burchill, Wilson and Macpherson, have done their work to the best of their judgment, as all three gentlemen have been returned to the city council—Aid. Burchill by acclamation, Aid. Wilson at the head of the poll, and Aid. Macpherson only three votes behind the leading man in his ward.

A FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

Last Thursday evening there was a festive gathering at the residence of Alex. Gibson, Marysville, a large number of connections being present to witness the marriage of Mr. Chas. H. Hatt of this city, and Miss Annie second daughter of Mr. Gibson. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. E. Evans, assisted by Rev. W. W. Brewer, Miss M. Hatt, sister of the groom, and Miss Alice Gibson, niece of the bride, acting as bridesmaids, and Mr. Fred S. Williams of St. John, groomsmen. The ceremony was performed at 6 p.m., and immediately afterwards a sumptuous supper was served to the guests. The young couple were very warmly congratulated, and the bride was the recipient of a large number of elegant presents, mostly in silver. The bride was attired in a beautiful dress of pink, brocaded satin with crimson and pink rosebuds, English point lace and orange blossoms, and wore a magnificent net bridal veil and diamonds.

The pleasant company had scarcely concluded discussing the supper, when two four in hands with the Fredericton Brass Band, and a large number of Mr. Hatt's friends from the city, drew up in front of Mr. Gibson's residence; the band proceeded to serenade, and the party set off sky rockets, etc., which brought out the bride and groom, and their friends, and in a moment Mr. Gibson, who invited the whole party to lunch, which was accepted. More music by the band, and a couple of songs by Mr. Foley Parker followed in the broad hall of Mr. Gibson's palatial residence, and for nearly two hours the party were hospitably entertained. It was rather an unexpected invasion and at a seeming inopportune time, but Mr. Gibson and his family were untiring in attention. Mr. Hatt presented his charming bride to a number of his friends, congratulations followed, and the party left for home at midnight, with cheers for the young couple and their entertainers. We have to add our best wishes for the future happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Hatt.

THE ALDERMANIC ELECTIONS.

The Aldermanic elections have come and gone, and there are but few changes in the council.

In Wellington ward the candidates were Alderman Vandine, nominated by George O'Neill; Alderman Macpherson, by J. C. Risteen; and Geo. H. Parker, by W. S. Hooper. The vote at the close of the poll stood:

Vandine	58
Macpherson	55
Parker	43

St. Ann's ward also had three candidates, Alderman Thomas, was nominated by John M. Wiley; William Cooper, by Geo. Todd; and John B. Gunter, by W. H. Vanwart. The two former were elected on the following vote:

Cooper	127
Thomas	107
Gunter	100

In Carleton ward the candidates were: Alderman M. S. Hall, nominated by Michael Colter; Aid. P. Farrell, by William Edgcombe, and Charles Scully, by Geo. H. Davis. The vote was:

Farrell	130
Scully	104
Hall	99

Queen's ward returned its old representatives, Aids. Moore and Burchill by acclamation.

In King's ward Aid. Wilson was re-elected, and brought with him Mr. McKay. The nominations were: Aid. Wilson, by Jas. A. Rogers; William McKay, by E. L. Dunn; Michael Neville, by J. S. Withrow. The result was:

Wilson	46
McKay	44
Neville	30

DON'T BLAME HER

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysteric, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation.

Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement.

A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs afflicted, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Henry Clark, Glandford Station, Ont., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years, and never found any medicine to compare with it for sick women."

"I had ulcers and a displacement of the female organs, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has cured me."

INDIAN FOUND SILVER.

Ojibway Was Pioneer of New Silver Country in North Ontario.

Round Eyes, an Ojibway Indian, discovered bloom at Silver Lake and Boland Lake in the Montreal river district when hunting many years ago, writes J. S. Crate in The Toronto World. He did not know what it was that he had found.

Round Eyes had a step-son named Mickle Taylor, a half-breed, who went out to Halleybury at the time the first silver discoveries were made at Cobalt. There he saw bloom, and remembering that his father had found similar samples up the Montreal river, he investigated, and this led to the first discovery of silver in that country.

In March, 1904, Thomas Saville, a clever young tourist guide, came into the country with an Indian chief, Francois White Bear, of the Ojibway tribe, and camped over night at Round Eyes' place. During the night the step-son, Mickle, showed them samples taken from the discoveries around Silver and Boland Lakes. To use Mr. Saville's own words: "We took some of the samples and showed them to Rinaldo McConnell of Ottawa, and he told us to keep it quiet. We started in when the ice broke in 1904. We staked some claims and then went out to Temagami, but came back in the fall of 1904. I have been here ever since."

Mr. Saville was the first prospector in the district, and it was due to his discoveries that the rush into the Montreal river commenced. Owing to the great public interest among mining men in Cobalt and the phenomenal surface discoveries in that camp, interest did not develop in the Montreal river country as quickly as it did in the older camp, but the volume of the movement into the country steadily increased until in the spring of 1907, it became almost a stampede. How extensive was this rush in the Montreal river will be understood when it is stated that over 3,000 claims have since that time been recorded at the Government recording office, which was shortly afterwards established there, and which has been indispensable ever since.

INQUISITIVE EDWIN.

Things He Wanted His College Bred Mother to Tell Him.

"Say, maw."

"Well, Edwin?"

"Why do little boys have to go to school?"

"To get an education, dearie."

"How long do I have to go to school?"

"Till you are grown up."

"Then do I get my education?"

"No. You get it while you are going."

"Get it all the time I am going?"

"Yes."

"Huh! I'd rather get it now and not go to school."

"But you can't."

"Did you get one, maw?"

"I did, but I have no use for it."

"What's the matter with you giving me yours, then?"

"Tut, tut, child! Every person has to get his or her own education."

"Hum! Who's got paw's?"

"Why, he has."

"Gee! Nobody 'd think he had one, would they?"

"Your father conceals a great many of his attainments, son."

"What's an attainment, maw?"

"Something one has acquired in the way of learning or accomplishments, I believe."

"I think I know about accomplishments, maw. I heard Mr. Bingle say paw was accomplished."

"Are you sure? Mr. Bingle is ordinarily very accurate in his statements."

"Yes, I'm sure. He said paw was accomplished."

"Ah, well, Mr. Bingle hasn't gone back on his record! Now run away, Edwin, and let me finish reading 'A College Girl's Unhappy Wifehood; or, She Was Taught More Higher Mathematics Than Housekeeping.'"

"But, maw."

"But bother! What now?"

"Spouse I don't get a education?"

"Then you wouldn't know anything when you become a man."

"Oh, that's all right, maw; I could be a juror!"—Chicago Journal.

Congratulations Wanted.

On entering his club one evening not long ago a young Philadelphian was accosted by a friend, who exclaimed:

"Why, Charley, you are positively beaming! What's up?"

"I'm in the greatest luck imaginable," responded the other. "You know I've been hanging about a pretty Yonkers girl for almost a year. During all this time she would never admit that she loved me. She would only say that she respected me. But now, old chap, congratulate me, for last night she confessed that she respected me no longer; that she loved me!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Maxim Gun.

The wonderful part of the Maxim gun is that it has only one barrel, and yet it can discharge 600 shots in one minute.

Could Not Perform Household Duties. Doctors Attended Without Avail.

Mrs. Arch. Schiare, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with weak back. Oftentimes I have lain in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties. I had doctors attending me without avail and tried liniments and plasters, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after using two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them, and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."
