

ARMY MANOEUVERS FOR PRESSMEN.

Seventeen Thousand Men Lined Up for Big Review.

LONDON, June 10.—The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference are the guests of the War Office at Aldershot today where they witnessed a military review and sham battle.

Despite the occasional rain, the pressmen were much impressed with the manoeuvres, especially the spirit and promise of success of the British soldiery under Mr. Haldane's new army policy.

Among the Canadian officers in attendance were: Capt. Douglas Young, and Lieut. E. W. Leonard.

General Smith-Dorrien has been in command at Aldershot since 1907. Today he is trying to show the Imperial pressmen that Lord Roberts was romancing when he told the House of Lords the other day that England had no army.

His medals make a museum on his breast upon official occasions, for he has seen distinguished service in Zululand (when the young Prince Imperial of France met his doom), Egypt (when the Canadian boatsmen served), to Sudan, Bengal, Punjab, Chitral (in the day of historic Relief Force), Terah and South Africa, where he saw a good deal and found much to respect and admire in the Canadian citizen-soldiery. He is just turned 51; is admirably added in the social life of Aldershot by Lady Smith-Dorrien, herself a soldier's daughter; he knows his work and does it well.

The private dinners, which form a feature of the press gatherings were last night as follows: Mr. and Miss Balfour entertained Sir Hugh and Lady Graham, and Mr. John W. Daffoe, to meet Lord Roberts, Lord Milner, Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain and Lord Lytton. Lord and Lady Pentland, formerly Miss Marjorie Gordon, entertained a distinguished company to meet Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, of Toronto, The Earl and Countess Crewe had a party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Langlois, of Montreal. Viscount and Viscountess Middleton, ex-Secretary of India, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Brierley, of Montreal, and Mr. Nelson, of Victoria.

To-night the official Government banquet will take place, with the Earl of Crewe presiding.

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life.

I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering. —Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Several fatalities are reported in Texas tornadoes.

Hail storms two inches deep are reported in a Virginia storm.

Forest fires are laying waste great stretches of forest in eastern Maine. The Owen Sound Wire Fence Co. may open a branch factory at Calgary.

Ninety deaths have occurred from malaria on the banks of the Orange River.

Arthur Yates of Vancouver has been selected as Rhodes' scholar for British Columbia.

The Cunard liner Slavonia, bound from New York to Naples, was wrecked off Flores, in the Azores Islands.

W. A. Kerr, M.A., Toronto, and Prof. McEachern of Queen's have been appointed to the staff of Alberta University.

George Washington University has been dropped from the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching by the executive committee of the foundation.

John Nevills was acquitted at Hamilton of the charge of shooting Constable Smith. Smith swore Nevills was the man, but the jury were satisfied with the alibi set up by the defendant.

Two New Religions Predicted.

New York, June 12.—That two new world religions soon will take the place of the present Christian denominations is predicted by Prof. George Burman Foster of the University of Chicago.

Prof. Foster declares that the present question of religious freedom points to a union of all the Protestant churches with the Catholic against the free-thinkers.

People Wouldn't Read It.

Melbourne, June 12.—The Argus says lower cable rates would constitute a gift no one would refuse, but it would not increase the interest of Canadian readers in Australian affairs or vice versa. The publication of domestic news from Canada or South Africa, or even in England, would mean so many columns to be skipped.

St. Louis-Gulf Canal Project Bumped.

Washington, June 11.—The proposed fourteen foot deep waterway project from St. Louis to the Gulf received a blow yesterday, when the board of engineers reported to Congress that such a waterway is not desirable. The waterway would cost $128,000,000 for construction and $8,000,000 annually for maintenance.

Farmer Killed. Peterboro, June 12.—Matthew Mathew of Mayo Township, near Madoc, was killed by his team running away while working in the fields.

Australia's Dreadnought Fund. London, June 12.—A Sydney despatch yesterday says the Dreadnought fund now totals over $335,000.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak"; the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

FUGITIVE SPAR BUOYS

Rescuing These Stray "Sticks" Is Perilous Work.

SIGNBOARDS OF CHANNELS.

How These Mariners' Guides Are Anchored and How They Sometimes Break Away and Are Hunted Down by the Lighthouse Service Tenders.

When the winter gales begin to blow, the tenders of the lighthouse service turn their stems toward northern seas to hunt stray spar buoys. Of all the work of the coast patrol this, perhaps, is the most exposed to danger. Pulling these "signboards" out of the sea or putting them over side is like "yanking" splices with a ton derrick on a heaving platform.

Although passengers in the boats that ply the waters of New York harbor, Long Island sound and other waterways along the coast see many spar buoys, they give them little thought. With the man at the wheel it is different. Color, shape and size give him volumes of information, and he looks upon the spar buoy as an invaluable guide.

In the government inventories they are listed as "sticks," although they are sometimes sixty feet long. They are anchored in the bed of a river or harbor channel, their "up ends" painted in such a way as to indicate to the observer the formation of the bottom. On the margin of government charts explanatory notes tell one that vessels approaching a harbor from the sea should leave red buoys with even numbers on the right and black, with odd numbers on the left side of channels. Black and white striped buoys, the stripes running perpendicularly, mean an obstruction in the channel, with room to get by on either side. If balls or cages ornament the "up ends" it means a turning point, the color and number indicating the course.

These sticks are put down with heavy iron anchors and sometimes great stone weights. One would suppose that so fixed they never could get away, but they do, and it is a job to find them. Ice floes break their cables and sometimes crush the sticks; storms pull them loose, and ships in the fog or darkness foul them and tear them from their hold on the bottom. Not infrequently ships use them as moorings, although this is forbidden.

There are instances where the anchors of a spar buoy have been secure enough to hold against ice pressure and in a narrow channel cause a dangerous jam. But such cases are few, for when this happens the weight of the ice usually becomes so great as to force the buoy under, and the pack slides on.

If the ice pack gets under the buoy so as to lift it there is only one result—the parting of the cable. Then off starts the spar upon a journey maybe of thousands of miles, perhaps of only one or two. It may fetch up on the nearest shore, and it may drift to the coast of Europe or into the southern seas. On the Irish coast today is one which traveled there in six weeks from New York harbor. It was presented to the British government by the United States and now floats off the coast on which it stopped after its long Atlantic journey.

If it is a long chase to find the stray buoys it is even a more difficult task to recover the anchors left behind by the fugitive spars. Tenders that sail out of the harbor have a derrick and tackle rigged in front of the pilot house, with a donkey engine to lift and pull. The location of every buoy is marked on the charts to a degree, so it is not difficult to find the desired position. The serious business is dragging for the anchor and after grappling with it to hoist it aboard ship. Here the donkey engine comes into play. Another hazard is to pull a spar buoy aboard. If a sea happens to be running the captain of the tender has to use extreme care. Should a big roller get under him and suddenly tighten the lifting chains either they would give way or the weight would come up too fast, the crew in either case being placed in jeopardy of their lives.

But the risk these men run is all in the day's work. To them a job in a seaway on a lee shore is regarded as no more monotonous task than repainting a row of buoys on land.

Economy in the use of machine oil and axle grease means prodigality in horseflesh.

COLD IN THE HEAD.

What's the sense in sneezing and Sniffling, dosing with purgatives, or bothering with atomizers?

Catarrhozone

A convenient inhaler treatment is the proper remedy to cure quickly and pleasantly.

Sensible people long ago abandoned the idea of working off a cold by means of laxatives and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic, and perfectly safe and harmless. Even children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is exhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints, it stops sneezing, coughing and running at the eyes, by a few inhalations. Inflammation, congestion and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. College, of Clarence street, London, says: "I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is warranted to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler, costs $1.00. Small size 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. WHICH LINIMENT IS BEST?

For muscular pains and aches a thick oily preparation can't penetrate—that's why Nerviline beats them all—it sinks right in. "I wouldn't live without Nerviline in my house," writes J. B. Cotton, of Mastown, N. S. "If you have rheumatism or soreness in the muscles or in fact any need of an honest liniment, Nerviline fills the bill. I can recommend it highly because I have proved that in one application of Polson's Nerviline there is more virtue than in a whole bottle of ordinary liniment." Try one of the large 25c bottles.

INTELLIGENT CANINE.

A Sackville Dog Which Visits the Diner Regularly.

(Tribune.)

A striking exemplification of the intelligence of dogs is given by the big Newfoundland owned by Mr. W. A. Simpson, the Intercolonial agent here. Every day when the time for the arrival of Train 25 comes around the dog may be seen at the station platform. More than this, the big fellow knows almost the spot at which the dining car will be brought to a standstill, and it is very close to that spot that he will be found when the car wheels stop revolving.

Oh, no, he doesn't do this for exercise or amusement. His trips to the station have a purpose other than recreation or fun. Very frequently it happens that the men employed on the diner have a stray bone or something of the sort and this it is for which the dog is looking. He is known, moreover, to nearly all the men of the dining car service on this division and they rarely fail to remember that he will be waiting for them at Sackville. If they have nothing more for him they never forget the kind word.

The remarkable thing is that the dog remembers so well the time when these trains are due, and is so punctual in his arrival at the station. He followed the same practice, by the way, when Mr. Simpson was the agent at Petticoe.

TO TEST ORTHODOXY

Toronto Conference Proposes to Establish a Heresy Court.

WANT ORDAINED TEACHERS

Recommendation Presented That All Professors in Methodist Theological Seminaries Be Ministers—Laymen Favor Tribunal to Handle the Frequent Examinations Into Soundness of Doctrine.

Toronto, June 12.—A new court to pass upon the orthodoxy of Methodist college professors was proposed by the Toronto Conference yesterday afternoon. The adoption of the motion was the feature of the day. It was one of the recommendations in the report of the laymen's association and led to a notable debate.

A. D. Powell presented the report of the Laymen's Association. It nominated J. Taylor president and A. D. Powell secretary-treasurer.

When his recommendations had been read, Alex. Mills proposed as a substantive separate motion the clause that it was desirable for the purpose of keeping the connexional colleges in the closest touch with the church that the appointment and retention of professors be subject to the approval of the general conference, the general conference special committee, or a committee appointed by the general conference.

Also that it was desirable that all theological professors should be ministers or members of the Methodist Church in Canada.

Mr. Mills said that the motion was proposed with the object of securing for the colleges the fullest support and confidence. It was not aimed at any controversy or individual. At present the professors did not need to be Methodists. The regents could appoint a Hottentot.

Rev. Geo. Washington, secretary of the conference board of examiners, read a similar resolution passed by the Uxbridge District.

J. R. L. Starr opposed the motion on the ground that Victoria College was so strongly religious and orthodox now that some parents were afraid to send their sons and daughters there for fear they would volunteer as missionaries. It would be most unfair to demand that Rev. Geo. Jackson should sever his connection with the British Conference, when it would mean the sacrifice of his superannuation allowance.

Dr. Hough, a Victoria regent, said he agreed with Mr. Starr that there was danger of improper teaching at Victoria. The regents had taken prompt action when necessary in the past, and were prepared if necessary to do so again. He believed, however, the action proposed in the resolution would strengthen the hands of the college boards.

Mr. Justice McLaren, as a Victoria graduate and the senior member but one on the college board, said the proposed committee would be a valuable addition, and recent cases had shown the necessity for some such a body.

Rev. Dr. Binns said that the portion of the resolution respecting membership in a Canadian conference would prevent Canadian Methodism in future securing professors from the British Conference. He moved that the concluding portion of the resolution be laid on the table for a year.

On a close vote the motion to table was lost. The main motion was adopted by a substantial majority, amid some applause.
