NORTHWEST FRUIT.

May Rival Crop in Ontario—Interesting Paper by Dr. Saunders.

The Geological and Biological section met immediately on the adjournment of the main body of the Royal Society of Canada in Toronto recently, and during its session Dr. Saunders read his paper describing experiments in plant breeding at the experimental farms. He described the work that was being done by the farms in endeavoring to stock Manitoba with a hardy variety of fruit. They had introduced the Siberian apple, which bears a fruit little larger than an Ontario haw, and crossed it with the Ontario apple. The result was an apple about an inch in diameter. About four hundred of these had been crossed, and last year they had thirty trees bearing fruit. This year about seventy would be producing fruit. Seedlings were being raised from the crosses, and these were being again crossed with the Ontario fruit. They retained the hardiness of the Siberian apple, but the more they were crossed the nearer they came to the Ontario fruit.

It had been found impossible to raise gooseberries because of rust, but hardy varieties were secured, and two at least are now doing well in the west. A cross between the black currant and the gooseberry had also been crossed, but very few of the bushes, although blossoming profusely, bore fruit. The fruit that was produced was of the size of a large black currant and the color of a gooseberry.

An attempt had been made to cross the sand cherry, which is found edible in some parts of the west and in others not edible, with the Ontario cherry, but had been unsuccessful. A cross between the sand cherry and two varieties of plums had been tried; both were successful. The fruit produced from this cross was smaller but possessed the characteristics of the ordinary plum.

According to Dr. Saunders' opinion it will yet be possible to produce hardy varieties of all the more common Ontario fruits, which will thrive in the Canadian North West. Then, in addition to being the greatest wheat-producing region in the world, it will also rival the older provinces as a fruit producer. This time is believed to be not far distant either, as grafts from the present apple trees are being forwarded to farmers throughout the province.

How to Get Rich.

Take a quantity of silica costing one-fourth the price of oil; mix it with oil, and sell the compound to the public at the price of pure oil; offer "prizes" with the compound to make it sell. It is such a compound the public get when they buy common soaps. In Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—the public buy a pure and well-made soap. Sunlight Soap reduces expense by prolonging the life of the articles washed with it, which is much more profitable to the public, than common soaps with "prizes." 204
